Architect Notes.

R. A. Plowman, architect and engineer, Betz Building, will invite bids for alteration and addition to house 1608 Allegheny avenue, for J. W. Granger, in the course of the next two days.

Architect Thomas Hamilton, Harrisburg, Pa., is making plans for the improvements to the Centenary United Brethren Church on South Second street, Steelton, Pa. A large pipe organ is to be purchased.

James H. Windrim & Son, architects, deny the report in the daily newspapers that they have been selected to prepare plans for the erection of the $5,000,000 department store for John Wanamaker. Mr. John Windrim says that there is no truth in this report.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, have completed plans for a power house to be built at Gibbsboro, N. J., for John Lucas & Co. The structure will be 67 ft. 6 in. by 92 ft. 2 in., with a smoke stack 85 ft. in height. It will have steel supports, filled in with brick and stone.

Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, has prepared plans for alteration of building, 1415 Arch street, into an apartment house for the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company. It will have a printing establishment and new boilers in the rear, and also arrange for apartments.

Milligan & Webber, architects and engineers, are working on plans for a seven-story apartment house, to be erected at Forty-seventh and Baltimore avenue. It will have all the latest and most modern appointments that go to make a first-class apartment house. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Trust Building, have plans under way for a country house and stable, to be built for Bartholomew Jacob, at Manhasset Bay, L. I. The house will have two stories and an attic of old English design, and will be built of concrete block, and will cost between $10,000 and $12,000. The owner will receive bids.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Building, Camden, N. J., has plans and specifications for plumbing, gas fitting, ornamental iron work, plate glass, demonstration table, ventilation, laboratory, desk, cupboards, apparatus case, closets, etc., to be erected in the Camden High School for the city of Camden, N. J., and under the direction of the Board of Education of the city of Camden, N. J.

Geo. W. Plowman, architect and engineer, Betz Building, have invited bids from the following contractors for the erection of the Whitney Car Wheel Company's building, to be built at Chelton avenue, and Philadelphia & Atlantic City Railroad, in Camden, N. J.: John R. Wiggins, Heed Building; Harry Kuemmeler, Betz Building; Maguire & Emery, 1526 Sansom street; Thos. H. Marshall, 418 Locust street, and M. P. Wells & Co., Crozer Building.

C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a two-story Sunday school building, to be erected on the east side of the Episcopal Church at Quakertown, Pa., for the Episcopal Church. It is to be built of stone, with tin roof, and will contain two class rooms and Sunday school room, with a seating capacity of about 225 people; dimensions, 58 by 41 feet. The plans are now in the hands of the Building Committee. Mr. Harley, chairman. Local builders will be asked to bid.

Samuel S. Conover, architect, 301 Market street, Camden, is working on preliminary plans for an apartment house. It is to be built in Camden, N. J., and is to be five stories high, to be constructed of brick and stone, and to be equipped with elevator and arranged in suites of four or five rooms each, with twenty suites in all; to be heated, and to have electric heat, light and power, and to be finished in the finest manner, and to have all up-to-date appointments. Will be ready for bids in about six weeks.

Charles Barton Keen, architect, 1606 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for a handsome residence to be built for F. R. Wainwright, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The building is to be 94x86 feet, the first story to be pebble dashed and the upper ones stone. The interior will be finished in hardwood, with open fireplaces throughout the house, and to have all the modern improvements and to cost about $20,000. Builders Sherman, Orem & Co. are bidding.

C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, is working on plans for an operation of twenty-four houses to be built at Thirty-fourth street and Mantua avenue for John C. Lynch, builder. The plans show two-story houses and to have nine rooms each, to be built of brick and stone, with overhanging porches, and to have all the modern improvements, with best plumbing, heated by hot air, etc. John C. Lynch, owner, will be ready to receive bids in about one week's time. The cost of the operation will be about $60,000.

Dubring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, Crozer Building, are preparing contract drawings for the Wayfarers Lodge for the Society for Organizing Charities and will be ready for estimates in about ten days. The building is to be four stories high and will have necessary machinery for work in the shop and will be heated by steam. The building will be extended from Lombard street to 1720 Naudain street, where the Society recently purchased five houses for the extension. This is double the size of their present lot. The new building is intended to accommodate 250 people.

Stern & Caster, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have prepared plans for a three-story stone house, colonial in design, to be built at the corner of Elkton avenue and York road, Gontz, Pa., for Charles Freihofer. It will be wired for electricity, heated by hot water heating, to have best plumbing, and to have all the modern improvements. Will be ready to receive bids this week. Also working on plans for a three-story shingle house, colonial in design, to be built on Eleventh street, above Chelton avenue, Melrose, Pa., for Mrs. Julia Reynolds. It will have the best interior wood work finish, best plumbing, heated by hot water heating, and will have all the up-to-date appointments; will receive bids this week. Also preparing plans for a number of three-story houses, to be built in Frankford, Philadelphia, for William Overington. They will be brick and stone, with tin roof, and to have all the latest improvements and to be finished in the best manner.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 325 Chestnut street, has invited estimates from general and sub-contractors for the remodeling of the old Exchange Building, Third and Walnut streets, for the Stock Exchange, and work will be begun as soon as the contract is awarded. The whole structure will be practically rebuilt, and the entire interior will be new. In addition, there will be a mechanical plant and a complete electric wiring system, new heating and ventilating, and a special telephone service. Bids will be closed in about one week's time.

Lindley Johnson, architect Harrison Building, has plans about completed for a large country residence to be built at Rosemont, Pa., for H. H. Ellison, Esq., upon the Asbridge property. Also engaged on the new wing to be built on Hotel Brighton at Atlantic City, work on the wing to be started October 1.

Mr. Spencer Roberts, architect, informs us that the contract for the new factory building for the S. S. White Dental Company, will be awarded on August 20th.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans for 170 houses, to be built at a place called Brownington, Pa. three miles from Lancaster, Pa., for Breneman & Barr Woolworth Building, Lancaster, Pa. The houses are to be of various designs, three-story high, to be built of brick and stone, slate and shingle roofs, interior to have open stairways, with fire places and the lower floors open and cheery; best plumbing, and to be heated by hot water, steam or hot air, size of some of the lots, 100x240 feet. The idea of Messrs. Breneman & Barr is to have a place similar to Glenside, Pa., and no houses are to be built costing less than $5000 the grounds to be laid out with trees, etc., and the walks and roads to be cemented. The streets are now being cut, and the Conestoga Traction Company will run a line of cars through the place. Six of these houses are to be built at once, and the others just as quick as the ground is sold. All the houses erected will be under the supervision of Schermerhorn & Reinhold.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 21, 1901

A NICE question involving the liability of insurance companies under peculiar conditions is being tried in the Pittsburgh courts and it excites considerable interest not only in fire insurance circles but among the owners of large plants in manufacturing centres. Stephenson & Foster have brought suit against seventy-eight fire insurance companies in which this concern held policies. On February 4th last the firm's building fell down, a fire occurred in mass of debris all of which was consumed. The companies refused to pay, as they think, justly, owing to the following standard clause in the policies on which this defence is based: "If a building fall, except as the result of a fire, all insurance on the building or its contents shall cease."

JULY exports were larger than in July of any previous year, and the imports were larger than those of July in any year since 1895. The figures of the foreign commerce of the United States during the month of July were completed by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics recently. They show: Total imports of the month, $72,897,087; total exports, $109,381,158.

BETWEEN 1860 and 1870 British railways increased 510 miles a year. The present yearly increase is 201 miles a year. In Japan 786 miles of railway owned by the Japanese government earns one-third more yearly than 2842 miles owned by private companies. The 12 railway companies of England and Wales employ between them 312,000 men. The Scotch and Irish companies employ 40,000 men between them. Belgium has 29½ miles of railway to every 100 square miles of surface. Great Britain comes next with 17 miles and Germany third with 14 miles. The American proportion is six miles only. The art or science of reducing the weight of steel cars to the minimum point and of maximum loading capacity has produced a car weighing 15 tons that will carry a load of 69 tons. Such cars are being turned out rapidly in one or two of the great steel mills of Pennsylvania. Remarkable progress is being made in locomotive construction by the increase of heating space: Imagine an intense fire 47 feet long by 50 feet wide and you have an idea of the enormous heat required to create steam to drive a locomotive. The heating surface of some recently made engines of enormous capacity is 2891 square feet.

ACCORDING to the receipts of the local Internal Revenue office for the month of July, this year, the people of the First District, comprising Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Berks, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Lehigh counties, are heavier beer drinkers, smoke more and use snuff in larger quantities than ever before. Internal Revenue Collector P. A. McClain in speaking of the increase in receipts of the local office, is of the opinion that money is now more plentiful with the general public than previously. Instead of the decrease that was thought would occur in receipts after the taking off of the Spanish war taxes a substantial gain was made. The total internal revenue collection for July, 1901, was $1,062,489.89. This is a record breaker. The number of stamps sold during July was as follows: Cigars, $851,555; beer, $720,026; documentary, $564,580; tobacco, $551,521; snuff, $320,462; cigarettes, $252,035; proprietary, $92,826, and special rates, $1793. By these figures it will be seen that beer is the most popular commodity, while more snuff is sold, according to the stamps, than cigarettes. The total number of the following articles manufactured in the First District during July was: Cigars, 47,666,090; cigarettes, 3,059,850; barrels of beer, 348,474; pounds of tobacco, 184,562; pounds of snuff, 83,071, and whiskey in barrels, 32,138 — Exchange.

EXPERIMENTS with acetylene as a light for lighthouses were tried during last April and May. The first scene of the experiments was one of the batteries guarding the entrance of the harbor of Genoa, Italy. The result was so satisfactory that they were repeated at the expense of the inventor on a large scale at the first-rate light of La Lanterna, the principal light of the harbor of Genoa. The inventor had to guarantee better illumination than that given by the petroleum burners of the lighthouse, and a constant light, without smoke or interruption, for fifteen hours at a time. The offer was accepted. An apparatus, with four separate generators, was installed, and for a period of 1,000 hours, 100 days of ten hours each, during October to January of last winter, the lighthouse was worked with the new gas without the slightest difficulty. At a distance of forty nautical miles from Genoa is the electrical light of Tino, and it was observed that while the Tino light could never be seen at Genoa, the Genoa acetylene light was visible at Tino. It is also stated that the annual cost of maintaining the electrical installation of Tino is $5,400, whereas, from the experience gained at Genoa, it could evidently be supplied with acetylene for $40 a year. — Fire & Water.

Two Important Articles.

Mr. William Allen White has just returned from Lawton, where he went to write for The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, the story of the "opening" of the Indian lands. Mr. White's vivid account of the mushroom city that sprang up in a night is of striking and timely interest. Lord Balfour, of Burleigh, Secretary for Scotland, and Lord Rector, of the University of Edinburgh, will contribute to an early number of The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, a paper of official significance on Carnegie's Gift to Scotland. Lord Balfour is one of the trustees of the millions Mr. Carnegie has given to the Scotch universities.

Snow Formed at 103 Degrees.

During the extremely hot weather of the first week of July, when the thermometer registered 103 degrees in the shade, two barrels of gasoline were delivered in the yard of the Health Department. One barrel was placed in the shade and the other in the sun. An hour or two later Secretary J. W. M. Kiger happened to go into the yard, and was astonished to see snow formed about the barrel that was in the sun. He gathered a handful and took it upstairs to show the officials in the office. The formation of snow in the glare of sunlight when the thermometer stood at 103 degrees in the shade was considered something unusual. It was supposed to be caused by the rapid evaporation of the gasoline. — Exchange.

Company Says Investment in This State is Unsafe.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 14.—Because they are said to be dissatisfied with the political situation in Pennsylvania, the directors of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Works will hold a meeting in New York city this week to consider a proposition to remove their plant from Easton. The gentlemen interested in the corporation claim that the investment of capital here under existing political conditions is unsafe. The Ingersoll plant is Easton's largest industry, employing 1500 men. Ex Mayor William B. Grace, of New York, and other prominent capitalists of that city own the controlling interest in the plant. The company recently received an order for $400,000 worth of steam drills and compressors from the Russian government, to be used in the construction of a railroad there. The plant will be moved near Plainfield, N. J., where one of the officers of the company resides, and where they have been offered 100 acres of ground free. — Exchange.

Architect Notes.

Elmer F. Jacobs, architect, Morgantown, W. Va., reports as follows: Business block, 80 by 70 feet, four stories, for the Acme Publishing Company, Morgantown, W. Va.; pressed brick, stone and terra cotta trimmings, slow combustion construction and composition roof. Building to be used for office and manufacturing establishment. Electric bells and speaking tubes, sliding blinds, copy and

VOL. XVI.—No. 35.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

At Youngstown, Ohio, Owsley & Boucherle have prepared plans for a school building to be erected at Franklin, Pa., at a cost of $60,000.

Davey & McGlynn, Mauch Chunk, Pa., have prepared plans for a new school building, for which the Building Committee will receive bids until September 15th.

Wesley Leshner Blithe, architect, on account of being cramped for room and to provide for increasing business, has moved to Rooms 307 and 413, at 14 South Broad street.

McIlvain & Co., architects, Land Title Building, have prepared plans and sent same out for bids for two-story frame stable for George C. Brook, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa.

It is stated that William E. Lehman, 224 Market street, Pittsburgh, has prepared plans for a large eight-story brick apartment house to be erected at Lincoln Park at a cost of about $150,000.

Architect J. A. Long, Park Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., has plans for a brick store and flat building to cost $8000, and to be located at Verona Boulevard and Lincoln avenue, that place. W. J. Haw, owner.

The Newhall Engineering Company, 136 South Fourth street, have completed plans for extensive alterations and additions to Riverside Paper Mill, at Lafayette, Pa., for Hamilton & Sons. Albert Schoell, builder, is bidding.

Geo. T. Pearson, architect, 427 Walnut street, has prepared plans for alteration to dwelling and small cottage to be used for children for playhouse in Halifax, Mass., for Mr. M. Jones, Massachusetts builder, was to be asked to bid.

Seymour and Paul Davis & Co., architects, 907 Walnut street, are preparing sketches for a new school house to be built at Royersford Pa. It is to be a three-story structure, the lower portion to be of stone and the upper of brick; will be ready for bids in a short while.

Sterns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have prepared plans for a two-story addition, 329.4 ft. x 74 ft. to the Wingoheok Mills, in Frankford, Phila. It is to be built of brick, slow burning construction, and will have tower fire escape. Wade & Gilpin Co. are bidding.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have prepared plans and are taking estimates for alterations to the Fidelity Trust Company, 316 Chestnut street. The following builders are asked to bid: J. E. & A. J. Pennock, Thomas Little & Sons, George F. Payne Company.

Harry Dagitt, architect, 495 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for alteration and addition to the residence of Chas. W. Nautly, at 104 South 38th street. They will consist of adding a new rear building, interior improvements, such as painting, plumbing and tile work. Bids due in one week's time.

Architects W. D. Weaver & Son, 14 South Market Square, Harrisburg, Pa., have completed plans for a Young Men's Christian Association building to be erected at that place. Bids for erection, labor and material will be received until September 5th by Frank H. Gregory, Secretary P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. building committee.

Perot & Bissell, architects, Bourse Building, have prepared plans and are receiving bids for hot water or hot air heating for Carlton Hall, Germantown. The following are bidding: Thompson & Bro., Chas. E. Hopkins, James M. Smith, H. B. Smith & Co., Makin & Kelsey, Craft & Niemann and Lincoln Company. All bids due Friday, August 30th.

John J. Deery, architect and engineer, Betz Building, is preparing plans for the superstructure of the R. C. Church of St. Veronica, to be erected at Christy street, near Washington street, New York. The basement of this church, which was designed by Mr. J. J. Deery, is now built; will be ready to receive bids on the superstructure the 1st of January, 1902.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia have requested certain architects to submit plans by October 15th for the municipal hospital to be erected on the Ruppert tract on Brighton road. The buildings for which plans are desired are the Administration building, Service building, Superintendent's residence, nurses' quarters, mortuary building and stable.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has completed plans and is receiving bids for a new factory for F. W. Evans & Sons, to be erected on the corner of Paul and Meadow streets, Frankford, Philadelphia. It is to be a four story and basement building, measuring 51 by 152 feet, to be built of brick and the latest slow burning construction and to be equipped with the most modern machinery. Bids are due Wednesday, September 4th.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, has prepared plans and sent to builders for estimates for the erection of St. Thomas Aquinas Roman Catholic Church, to be built on the Northwest corner of Seventeenth and Morris streets. The structure will be stone and gray granite, with terra cotta and sheet copper trimmings. The dimensions 70 x 102 feet. Each of the four corners will be surmounted by a tower and dome. Jacob Myers & Sons are bidding.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, are preparing plans for a new bank building to be erected at Seaford, Del. It will be of Indiana limestone and hard brick, and will contain all the latest improvements, vaults, etc. It will measure about 25 by 65 feet, and will cost about $10,000; will be ready for bids in about ten days.

Also they are now ready to receive bids on the new residence of Bartholomew Jacobs at Manhasset Bay, L. I. Details of this house in our issue of August 21st.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and are receiving estimates for a three-story and basement warehouse for W. K. Gresh & Sons, tobacco dealers, of Norristown, Pa. The proposed structure will be built adjacent to the firm's present factory at Marshall street and the Reading Railroad. It will be of brick, with granite trimmings, and will measure 100 ft 2 in. by 34 ft. 6 in. It is to have cast-iron columns, slag roof, and a three-ton elevator. Bids are due Thursday, August 29th.

The directors of the Commonwealth Trust Company, 813 Chestnut street, were notified to meet to-day, Wednesday, August 28th, for the purpose of deciding upon the acceptance of Architect John T. Windrim's working plans of its new office building to be erected at Twelfth and Chestnut streets. The Company has secured possession of the properties as the tenants have all vacated. The directors will also authorize the Building Committee to ask for bids for the erection of the building, and it is probable that builders who will be asked to bid will be selected at this meeting, too late for this issue of the REAL ESTATE RECORD.

Richard Loos, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for alterations and additions to the M. E. Church at Moorestown, N. J. Cost, $15,000. The alterations and additions consist of remodeling the auditorium, open timber ceiling, all to be finished in quartered oak. Bids are now requested on the church furnishing and interior decorations such as stained glass, wiring, chandelier, pews, carpets and all fixtures pertaining to church furnishing. Also working on plans for a Methodist Church to be built at Springfield, Mass. It is to be built of stone and to be Gothic in design. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

At Harrisburg, Pa., the State Capitol Commission invites Pennsylvania architects only to submit designs, plans and specifications for the new capital building. Architects are given until November 5th next, and the invitation is general. The interior of the building to be of the general style of the Congressional Library building at Washington. The outside to be of granite. No extras will be allowed, and the building must be completed by January 1, 1906. The design will be chosen from the six best offered, the remaining five other designs so selected will receive a premium of $1000 each. It is understood that competition is to be rigidly confined to Pennsylvania architects. Address, Capitol Building Commission, Harrisburg, Pa.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 28, 1901

It is very strange how clear and even drinkable the water from the Schuylkill has been all summer notwithstanding the heavy rains in the vicinity of the city and the flood of rains that have visited the Schuylkill Valley. It is truly wonderful what a controlling influence on the reservoirs, as well as the river, the appropriation of millions of dollars for a filtration plant had, and yet it is not a particle more strange than the singular subsidence of the coal dust pollution in the city's water supply after it was definitely settled that the water works would not be sold.

When oh when, will the good citizens of this righteous old city get enough of this everlasting humbug in city government.

SOUTH AMERICAN commerce promises to become a serious question between Germany and America. The sentiment of the German press is inimical to the Monroe Doctrine, and American commercial ascendancy has not only excited jealousy, but will certainly lead to trouble. The signs in the skies point to a war with Germany and our prediction is that it will surely come during the present decade. Germany's disposition and interest in South American affairs means under the skin a policy of vastly more importance than the protection of the interests of German residents. The war lord means business and it will require serious European entanglements to direct his attention from this continent.

The young Republic has serious business ahead and it does not require much of a fool to anticipate its coming.

THE United States have attained to the third place among the nations in the value of their exports of coal. For the year 1900, according to published British statistics, exportations were as follows: Great Britain, 58,405,000 tons; Germany, 18,055,000 tons; United States, 7,558,000 tons. Later figures show large gains in the export return for the United States. The cost of coal in Europe is steadily increasing, the average at the pit's mouth being nearly double the cost of production in the United States. But the cost of transportation operates to prevent export except to markets where distance from the point of production tends to equalize competitive prices. In the past ten years the amount of coal sold out of this country has been more than trebled.—Exchange

THE recent purchase of 23,000 acres of forest, or rather mountain land in Franklin and Adams counties by the State Forestry Commission is a commendable act. The price paid was in the neighborhood of $7.50 an acre. The situation is magnificent and the possibilities of beautifying and improving are manifold. The tract lies along and across what is known as South Mountain, which is a part of the Blue Ridge, and is the most beautiful section of the State. The mountains are some 1200 feet above sea level, and commands a splendid view of the Cumberland Valley. Commissioner Rothrock and other officials favor establishing a college of forestry at Mont Alto, and in scope it would be similar to the colleges of like nature that are such successes in Europe.—Pittsburg Post.

Spinal Curvature.

Examination of 21,000 college students in the United States shows that curvature of the spine affects one out of eighteen noteworthy students, while among those who are athletic rather than studious the proportion is only one in sixty. More than 5 per cent. of applicants for examination for admission to college were found affected by scoliosis, presumably from too constant addition to the stooping posture while studying. Growth of this dangerous disease requires checking, if learning is not to develop a large class of deformed and unhealthful Americans.—Chicago Chronicle.

Encourages Matrimony.

The English government gives away $50,000 a year, more or less, to encourage matrimony among the women employees of the telegraph service. Women enter the service at an average age of 16. After six years, when the operator has reached the official marriageable age of 22, she is entitled to an allowance from the state. For each year of service she can draw one month's pay. As her salary is $25 a month, she can then claim $150. If she waits until she is 28 she can draw $400. In practice the average amount paid has been found to be about $200.—Detroit Free Press.

Banks Can Loan on Real Estate.

The act passed by the last Pennsylvania Legislature reads as follows:

"That banks chartered under the provisions of the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and they are hereby authorized to loan money on the security of bonds and mortgages on unencumbered real estate situated in this State, not in excess of their time deposits, and to invest their funds, not exceeding twenty-five per centum of their capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, in the purchase of such mortgages; and may also purchase, for investment, any interest bearing bonds or other obligations of any corporation or individual."

How's this for Nerve?

Misses Josephine and Mary Derby, wealthy residents of Round Hill, near Greenwich, Conn., are painting the residence they occupy. Caleb Farrington is the painter of the village, but he has been too busy decorating the houses of the New Yorkers who summer there to attend to the Derbys' order. They are now showing their independence by doing the work themselves, says the New York World. They use no scaffold, but stand on ladders. They wear feed bags tied about their waists to protect their skirts, and it is said they wear bloomers beneath them. The colors they are using are appropriate to the season of Independence day. The siding is being painted white, the trimmings blue and the chimney and gutters red. Passers by stop and gaze in wonder at the skill with which the women ply the brush.

Thirty-Eight Tunnels Within a Radius of 120 Miles.

There are more tunnels on steam railroads in the Pittsburg district than in any other district in the world. Within a radius of 120 miles of that city the trains hauled by steam locomotives run through thirty-eight tunnels and seven of these are more than 3,000 feet long. In all civilized countries where they have important lines of steam railway and long tunnels the problem of ventilation is very important and one of that is being discussed by engineers and chemists, while various experiments are being made in the effort to get rid of the smoke and gases. In Europe the most successful way so far devised is a closing door which is drawn against the mouth of the tunnel when the train has entered, and the movement of the cars creates a suction which draws all the smoke and gas after the cars. In this country systems of fans and curtains have been used with some degree of success. The Baltimore & Ohio is figuring on some system of ventilation for the Sand Patch tunnel; the Pennsylvania is figuring on a similar device for the long tunnel on the old main line near Cresson, now used for westbound traffic, and as explained in the Sunday Post, the Panhandle will devise some plans to ventilate and illuminate the Cork Run tunnel. All the other Panhandle tunnels are not near so bad, as the traffic through them is not so heavy. The Try street tunnel is in need of ventilation, however, but, as there are only a few feet of roof over it at places, it could be ventilated by air shafts at small expense.—Pittsburg Post.

Architect Notes.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a six-story apartment house to be erected at Second and Penn avenue, Camden, N. J. It is to be built of brick and stone, and will measure 100 by 125 feet. It is to have the very latest and most modern appointments of a first-class apartment house; it will have one elevator, and is to be heated by steam and to have the best plumbing; will be ready for bids in about ten days' time. The name of the owner is withheld for the present. Messrs. Milligan &

Webber announce that the new church and parish house at Norristown, Pa., recently destroyed by fire, is now being built, and the work is being done by day's work.

Carl P. Berger, architect, 14 South Broad street, has plans and specifications under way for the laboratory and office building for Mr. Max Levy, to be built at Wayne Junction. It is for the manufacture of photo engravers' and etchers' supplies. It is to measure 50 by 78 feet, and to have two floors and basement and attic. It is to be of fireproof construction throughout, with Spanish tile roof, fire brick, terra cotta trimmings and limestone base—a model plant of really handsome Spanish renaissance design. Also preparing plans for complete remodeling of two fine residences on Spring Garden street, both situated on corner lots; thorough modern improvements, plumbing, decorating, etc., to meet modern taste and ideas. Names and location withheld for the present.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, Crozer Building, have received instructions to begin the preparation of working drawings at once for the new public school to be erected in Delanco, N. J., won by them in competition with several other architects. The School Committee voted to expend $12,000 for the construction of the building. The building is to be two stories high and to contain eight rooms. It will be built of brick, with slate roof, and to have the most modern system of heating and the latest in improvements of an up to date school; it will be piped throughout for gas, and lit by straight gas fixtures; will be ready for estimates in about three weeks. Also working on plans for addition and alteration to the residence of Mr. Austin Hecksher, at Devon, Pa. The addition and alteration consists of adding a new wing to the house and the remodeling of the interior; will be ready for estimates in about two weeks.

By the sudden rise in the Susquehanna
River, the York Haven Power and Water Co. suffered a loss estimated at $18 000. The large coffer dam constructed in the river opposite the paper mill has been ruined. The walls of the dam, constructed of gunny sacks filled with sand, have collapsed by the water, and the big enclosure, which had been recently pumped dry, has been flooded.

The Court of Quarter Sessions has been petitioned to divide the Thirty-third ward as there are 15,200 voters, and owing to the size of the ward in both area and population as well as the number of school children, there is great difficulty in the members of the school board as well as its representatives in Councils attending to their respective duties. The Judges will appoint five citizens to examine and report upon the petition.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 36.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

We have been informed that the contract for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's new building will probably be awarded the early part of next week.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are preparing plans for alteration and addition to the German Baptist Home on Old York road, to cost $10,000.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 823 Chestnut street, informs us that bids for the Stock Exchange were due Tuesday, September 3, and contract will probably be awarded the latter part of this week.

John D. Allen, architect, Ninth and Chestnut streets, has finished plans for a new theatre to be built at Reading, Pa. We will be able to give more details in our next issue in regard to this theatre.

Plans for a handsome mausoleum to be erected in this city for the estate of Thomas W. Evans, the millionaire dentist, who died in Paris a few years ago, are to be prepared by Wilson Bros. & Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building. Work upon the drawings will be begun in about two months.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, have prepared plans and are receiving bids on a five-story addition, 32 by 60 feet, to building 528 Arch street, for the Girard Trust Company. Plans call for general alteration and addition to the building. Jacob Myers & Sons and F. L. Hoover & Sons are bidding.

Phil. A. Johnson, architect, Fidelity building, will prepare plans for a new bath house to be built on Eleventh street above Girard avenue, for which $15,000 has been appropriated and also for a new fire house for engine company No. 13 to be built at Fifteenth and Parrish streets, for which $5,000 has been appropriated.

Mr. Tennis, of the Tennis Construction Company, ninth floor of the Stephen Girard Building, informs us that Mr. Walter A. MacDonald, chief engineer of the company, will be ready on September 20th for bids for machinery for the power house to be built at Greencastle, Pa., for the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro Electric Railroad.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozer building, have prepared plans and sent to the builders for estimates for a three-story stone and frame residence to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Mr. J. Townsend. It is to be equipped with all the latest and most modern improvements. Bids are due at architects' office on Monday, September 9th; Appleton & Burrell are bidding.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott building, has plans in course of preparation for a large three-story addition to Charles Eben Johnson's Printing Ink Works, Tenth and Lombard streets. The addition will occupy the site of five properties adjacent to the plant on Tenth street, will be built of brick on the heavy mill construction method; will be ready for bids in a short time.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for altering for use as an asylum for orphan girls the building formerly used as the Episcopal residence for the Roman Catholic See of Harrisburg, Pa. It is to be located at Sylvan Heights, Harrisburg, and it is the intention of Bishop Shahan to add wings to the present structure at some further date. Local builders will do the work.

Morris & Vaux, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have sent out plans for estimates for a handsome three-story colonial style stone residence to be erected on School lane near township line, Germantown, for J. Snowden Rhoades. The dwelling will measure 40x60 feet and there will be spacious porches and bay windows. The interior will be hardwood finish with open plumbing, gas and electric lighting, and to be heated by hot air. All bids will close September 12th.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and sent same to the owner for a three-story and basement residence measuring 21 feet 8 inches by 50 feet for Hewitt Christy, to be erected at 1423 Eighth avenue, Altoona, Pa. It is to be built of brick and frame, shingle roof, the interior to be finished in hardwood and to have paneled ceiling, with all the latest and most modern improvements, and to cost about $7000. Altoona builders are asked to bid.

Watson K. Phillips, architect, 430 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a two-story summer retreat, with rustic exterior, for J. Watson Craft, of Ambler, Pa. This unique dwelling will measure 44x23 feet and will be situated in the Pocono mountains, Monroe county. On the first floor will be a trunk room, kitchen, library and two bed rooms. On the second floor three bed rooms and bath room. First-class plumbing will be installed. All bids to be sent to Watson K. Phillips, at Ambler, Pa.

Duhring, Okie & Zelgler, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, will ask for bids at San Francisco for all necessary material for a soldiers' club-house, to be erected at Manila, Philippine Islands. Bids will include forwarding material on board Government transports at San Francisco. The building will measure 80 by 100 feet, two-story frame and slate roof, and will contain library, reading room, cafe, kitchen, dormitory, and a large shower and bath-room. This work is being done for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, has been engaged to prepare plans for eight stores and dwellings to be built on the east side of Seventeenth street, south of Federal street. The houses will be three stories high, with gray brick fronts, trimmed with granite. The Girard Realty Company, 810 Witherspoon Building, will be ready in about two weeks to receive bids. The following builders will be asked to bid: Charles Craig, 2632 Columbia avenue; Charles Lambert, 729 North Thirty-ninth street; William Crouse, 1640 Marshall street; George M. Ruch, 1239 North Eleventh street.

B. H. Barton, architect, 407 Hale Building, has prepared plans for sixteen twin houses for B. D. Gardner, owner and builder, 407 Hale Building, and is now receiving bids for the erection of the same. They are to be three stories in height, built of brick and pebble dash, and to have the latest and most modern improvements. The interiors are to have hard wood finish throughout, the kitchen and bath room to be tiled, open plumbing work, heated by hot air. These houses are to be built on Hansberry street, near Wissahickon avenue, and to cost about $125,000. Will close bids in about two weeks' time.

Crane Ice Cream Company has purchased property at 18th and Filbert streets, adjoining its present building, upon which a new building costing $50,000 is to be erected. The new structure will be four-story high with a frontage of 45 feet on Filbert and Cuthbert streets and 118 feet in depth. The basement will be fitted up with ice and cold storage plants, the first floor will be used for making ice cream and the second floor will be utilized as a bakery, the third and fourth floor will be used for storage. Competitive designs from architects will be asked, and will start to build about October 1st.

Macomb & Calvert, architects, Real Estate Building, are at work on plans for a new edifice at Chesapeake, N. J., near Trenton, for the congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, of that place. The edifice will measure 25 by 60 feet, and it will be one story high, with a basement. The basement walls will be constructed of brick, and the first story walls of frame shingles. The roof will be covered with shingles. The basement will be used for Sunday school purposes, and the church proper will be located on the main floor. Yellow pine will be used in finishing the interior. Local builders will be asked to bid.

Carl P. Berger, architect, 14 South Broad street, has prepared plans and is taking bids for a new four-story rear building for H. Danenbaum, at 2043 Spring Garden street. It will contain three new baths, sitting room, bed room, and will have bay window. It will be built of red brick, galvanized iron, with slate roof, up-to-date plumbing, etc. The following builders are asked to bid: W. W. Rea & Sons, 1815 Francis street; Wade & Gilpin Company, Fifteenth and Chestnut streets; W. H. Dougherty, 1904 Sansom street; John L. Wiggins, Heed Building; George L. Sipe, 212 West Washington Square; A. Raymond Raff, 1635 Thompson street. Bids to close Monday, September 9th, at 11 A. M.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 4, 1901.

A Hardware House Established Before the Revolutionary War.

It is doubtful if any city in the country contains so many successful business concerns whose history is so thoroughly identified with the inception and growth of the Union as does Philadelphia.

There are very few people who are aware that the present hardware business of James M. Vance & Co., 211 and 213 Market street, was established before the Revolution. This fact is not only confirmed by documents, such as invoices and book accounts, but it is fair to conclude that the ancestors of one Samuel Dilworth, who was a Quaker and whose store was located on Dock creek, conducted the same business of general merchandising and in the same locality before our Dilworth was born.

The books of Samuel Dilworth in 1777 contain accounts of goods sold to the officers and regiments of the Colonial army, and while his business was of a general character, hardware was an important feature as evidenced by one invoice "per Atlantick," dated July 25, 1798, Birmingham, England via Liverpool, for hardware amounting to £105 9s. 8d. on 9 months' credit. (This invoice has been examined by the writer and can be obtained at any time.)

After Samuel Dilworth's death the business was conducted by his widow and two sons, William and Charles, the sons continuing the business after the death of their mother at a new location on Market, below Second street, and who at that time eliminated other goods and confined the business exclusively to the importation and sale of hardware.

In 1890 William Dilworth seems to have purchased his brother's interest in the concern and associated with him Samuel Branson. Branson was a thorough going, energetic business man, distinguished for his geniality, and thus deserving and winning to himself a great many friends. Under his auspices with Mr. Dilworth the business grew rapidly, developing from a retail business to a jobbing business, and from selling goods nearby, spread the business over all the country.

About 1847 Messrs. Dilworth & Branson associated with themselves Mr. Henry D. Landis and Mr. James M. Vance, commencing then the working of the principle upon which the business has since been conducted.

It will be noticed that in its early history it was more of family continuance, thereafter and until the present time the principle has been of associating in the conduct of the business those who have by merit and ability and industry seemed best fitted for the future success of the business. In pursuance of this line, the firm associated with them in 1864, William C. Peters, who was afterwards taken into partnership about 1870, at which time Mr. Landis retired. The business was then conducted under the name of James M. Vance & Co., and was very successful.

Mr. Vance died in 1887, leaving the conduct and responsibility of the business to his partner, William C. Peters, who associated with himself Mr. James B. Maharg and continued the prosperity of the house.

A few years ago Mr. Maharg retired and has since passed away.

The house still continues to do a large business, both in the near surrounding country and in Philadelphia, also giving special attention to the furnishing of hardware for building purposes. The firm has at present associated with it in the share of the profits of the business Messrs. Edward L. Wunder, H. Vance Peters and Richard R. Conarroe, who were brought up as employees of the house for years. We think the house built on this principle of advancement on the line of merit has a fair prospect of long continued, and it might be said indefinite success.

Enlarging Its Plant.

The W. J. Clark Company, of Salem, O., are making quite extensive additions to their works. Though they already have one of the largest and most completely equipped plants in this country for making elevator buckets, joist hangers, tote boxes, etc., of plate and sheet steel, the demand for their work is outgrowing their present capacity, making it necessary to still further enlarge and add machinery.

The joist hangers of the W. J. Clark Company are rapidly becoming a favorite among the architects and builders of this section. They justly merit their popularity because of their reliability. They are not only made of steel, but they are carefully made and readily adjust themselves to the walls and beams, an item of no small importance to builders who are everlastingly bothered, if the proper angles of joist hangers, however good in other respects, are destroyed by careless workmanship. It will pay architects and builders to place themselves in close touch with this company and its products.

AN EDITOR of one of our exchanges says: In Church or State it is ruled or be ruled; in courtship or marriage it is fool or be fooled; in logic or law it is beat or be beaten; in struggle for life it is eat or be eaten; in politics it is to crow or eat crow; in newspapers it is hoe your own row.

Many Kinds of Miles.

From the Ledger Monthly.

English speaking countries have four different miles—the ordinary mile of 5,280 feet and the geographical or nautical mile of 6,085, making a difference of about one-seventh between the two; then there is the Scotch mile of 5,928 feet, and the Irish mile of 6,720 feet; four various miles, every one of which is still in use. Then almost every country has its own standard mile. The Romans have their mil passum, 1,000 paces, which must have been about 8,000 feet in length, unless we ascribe to Caesar's legionaries great stepping capacity. The German mile of today is 24,818 feet in length, more than four and a half times as long as our mile. The Dutch, the Danes and the Prussians enjoy a mile that is 15,440 feet long, three and one half times the length of ours; and the Swiss get more exercise in walking one of their miles than we get in walking five miles, for their mile is 9,153 yards long, while ours is only 1,760 yards. The Italian mile is only a few feet longer than ours, the Roman mile is shorter, while the Tascun and the Turkish miles are 150 yards longer. The Swedish mile is 7,841 yards long, and the Vienna postmile is 5,795 yards in length. So here is a list of twelve different miles, and besides this there are other measures of distance, not counting the French kilometer, which is rather less than two-thirds of a mile. The Brazilians have a milla that is one and one-fourth times as large as our mile; the Neapolitan miglio is about the same length the Japanese ri, or mile, is two and one-half times ours; the Russian verst is five-eighths as long as our mile, while the Persian standard is a fakh, four and a half miles long, which is said to be equal to the parasang, so familiar to the readers of Xenophon's Anabasis. The distance indicated by the league also varies in different countries.

Architect Notes.

Architect John T. Windrim's final plans for the office building of the Commonwealth Title & Trust Co., to be erected at N. W. cor. 12th and Chestnut streets, have been accepted by the Board of Directors, and it is expected that Mr. Windrim will ask for bids this week, as the selection of builders who are to be asked to bid is left entirely to him. The plans call for a 15-story steel structure, its walls of which are to be of pluk granite up to and including the 8d story. The other 12 stories to be of a Pompeian or Roman brick to harmonize with the granite, with terra cotta trimmings. Four passenger elevators are to be introduced as well as steam heating. The material and work to be of the best, and the building will be thoroughly modern in every respect. Mr. Windrim assures us that any statements that have been published as to builders who have been asked to estimate on the erection of the office building at 12th and Chestnut, for the Commonwealth Trust Co. is without authority, as no information of that character has been given from his office, nor will it be in any case. When the contract is let he will cheerfully give us the particulars for publication.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

John Davies & Son, Lippincott Building, is asking for sub-bids on a house for T. Snowden Rhoads, Esq., to be built at Germantown. Plans are by Architect Morris & Vaux. Bids close Sept. 12th.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1417 Filbert street, have been awarded the contract to build the power houses for John Lucas & Co. at Gibbsboro, N. J., from plans and specifications of Hales & Wallinger, architects and engineers.

Ashton Tourison, builder, 6305 Germantown avenue, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Robert K. Cassett at Rosemont, Pa., from plans and specifications of Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street.

The Odd Fellows will hold a meeting at Carnegie Hall, Allegheny City, on September 5th, for the purpose of locating an Odd Fellows' home in the western part of the State. The cost will be about $100,000. Several towns offer to donate land.

A. Raymond Raff, 1685 Thompson street, has plans and specifications and is taking bids for a two-story brick stable measuring 60 by 40 feet containing the usual stable equipments, to be erected at Wilkesbarre, Pa., for the Achison Bread Company.

William Rea & Sons, builders, have been awarded the contract to build the two-story brick and tinier rear annex to the Lasher Building, at 147 North Tenth street. The annex will measure 20 by 40 feet. From plans of Charles Halderson, architect.

The Columbia University building to be erected at the corner of Broadway and 116th street, New York, will be 205 feet by 55 feet. It will be four stories, it will cost $100,000, and will contain nineteen lecture rooms and fifty study rooms, besides offices, etc.

Mitchell Bros., 2125 Race street, have on boards plans and specifications and are estimating for alterations and additions to be made to 248 N. Sixteenth street, the residence of Mr. F. G. Elliott; stone work, gas-fitting, plumbing, plastering, etc., are included in the work.

Sherman & Orem, 19 South Juniper street, have been awarded the contract to build the new residence for E. P. Lord at Edgeworth, near Pittsburgh, from plans and specifications of Chas. Barton Keen, architect, 1608 Chestnut street, Phila. Details of this house in our August 7th issue.

A contract has been placed with B. Ketcham & Sons, 1028 Brown st., to erect a dwelling at 749 South Fifty-first street, for a Philadelphia party. It will be a three story brick and stone structure, with galvanized iron trimmings, containing all modern conveniences and appointments.

An item is going the rounds of the papers to the effect that Chicago stonemasons and bricklayers working on the new Government post office building in that city have beaten all former records by setting 22,000 cubic feet of granite and by laying 300,000 brick on the walls in a single month. Next!

Thomas Seeds, Jr., builder, 1025 Race street, has been awarded the contract for a baronial tower to be erected upon the new house of Mr. George B. Wilson, Forty-third and Walnut streets. It will be of Indiana limestone, from plans and specifications of Joseph M. Huston, architect Witherspoon Building.

Father Welsh, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Harrisburg, Pa., has awarded the contract to Mr. Menzer, builder, at Harrisburg, for new brick church and basement measuring 40 by 50 feet, to be erected there from plans and specifications of Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street. Work will start at once.

Frank S. Riggs, builder, 1530 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to build the apartment house at Forty-seventh street and Baltimore avenue. It is to be five stories high, dimensions 100x60 feet and to have all the latest and most modern improvements from plans and specifications of Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street.

Machin & Brown, 147 North Seventh street, have been awarded the contract to erect the Sunday school building for the congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist at Lansdowne, Pa., as was previously made note of. It will be a one-story stone and brick structure, containing the usual appointments and conveniences.

William Steele & Sons, Witherspoon Building, have been awarded the contract to make alterations, additions and improvements to the factory plant at Second and Clearfield streets, owned by Messrs. Joseph R. Foster & Sons, as previously noted. Some Portland Cements may show a high tensile strength at a short period, and yet be so defective that the work done with them will disintegrate with age. This is due to imperfect composition. The Dyckerhoff brand is invariably of correct chemical composition, and the work done with it is invariably strong and absolutely durable.

THE PHILADELPHIA Real Estate Record AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE, BUILDING, ARCHITECTURAL AND INSURANCE INTERESTS

VOL. XVI.—No. 37. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Mr. Jno. Flynn, architect, Harrison building, is making revised plans for alteration and addition to Mrs. Daniel Eagan's house, in West Philadelphia.

Carl P. Berger, architect, 14 South Broad street, will have plans and specifications for the Levy laboratory and office building to be erected at Wayne Junction, ready for estimates the latter part of this week. Details of this building noted in one of our recent issues.

Hewitt & Bros., architects, Bourse Building, inform us that as soon as they are able to secure a quorum of the directors of the Pittsburgh Glass Company the contract for their new building at Eleventh and Arch streets will be awarded. Messrs. Hewitt & Bros. expect to have this quorum this week.

L. V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has prepared plans and sent same out for estimates for a handsome three-story and attic residence for W. T. B. Roberts at Ogontz, Pa. It is to be built of brick and stone, slate roof, American style of architecture, to be heated by hot air, wired for electric lighting, hard wood finish, tile and mosaic work and open plumbing. All bids due in about ten days' time.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have completed plans for four houses for Mrs. Charles Clark, to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa. They are to be old English style of architecture, and to be built of stone and half timber. Each house will stand on a lot 50 by 250 feet each, and to have all up-to-date appointments. They will cost about $30,000 for the four. Will be ready for bids soon.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are preparing plans for a two-story bakery for the Philadelphia Home Bread Company. It is to be 44x60 feet and will front on Jefferson street, forming left wing to the present building on 13th street. It will be built of brick with slag roof and will have copper cornices on the front. The ovens, supported by steel framework, will be on second floor.

Furness & Evans, architects, 401 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and are now taking estimates for the nine-story office building to be erected on Filbert street west of 15th street for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It is to be a steel structure with brick and terra cotta trimmings, with elevators and all the modern improvements of a first class office building; best plumbing, heated by steam, lit by electricity, etc.

Wm. L. Price & Bro., architects, 731 Walnut street, are preparing plans for house and stable for Louis Clark to be erected at Haverford, Pa. The house will be built of stone and half timber and will be old French style of architecture. It will be three stories high, dimensions 81x42 feet, and will have the very latest improvements. The stable will measure 55x24 feet and will be one story high with loft; will be ready for bids soon.

Statement in daily papers that Addison Hutton, architect, would be ready on Monday, September 8th, to receive bids for new hospital for consumptives to be erected at White Haven, Pa., is premature. While the plans for this hospital are being prepared it will be some time yet before they will be ready for bids; we noted the preparing of these plans in our August 7th issue.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and sent same out for estimates for fine residence for F. W. Flock, to be erected at Bala, Pa. It is to be a two-story and attic, colonial in design, the first story to be brick and the balance to be shingle, with shingle roof, to be wired for electricity and to have all modern improvements; dimensions, 47 by 25 feet. The following builders are asked to bid: A. L. Feltz, Cynwyd, Pa.; George Stewart, Philadelphia; R. M. Stout, Tabor, Pa.; N. H. Rand, Oak Lane; M. W. Young, Overbrook, Pa.; Kendrick Company, Heed Building, Philadelphia. All bids due September 16th.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, plans for the Seneca Memorial M. E. Church of Havre-de-Grace, Md., were adopted and the work ordered to proceed at once. The building will be one story, 80 by 105 feet. The enclosing walls will be of Port Deposit granite, relieved with Indiana limestone. The main vestibule will be ground in real marble and mosaic. The auditorium will be seated in amphitheatre form; the Sunday-school room will be one high clerestory, with class rooms and balconies on three sides. The basement is arranged to meet the modern social wants. Plumbing, heating and lighting plants are to be installed; with the pipe organ, decorations and furnishing will cost $50,000.

Rodgers & MacFarland, architects, of Detroit, Mich., have prepared plans for a six-story hotel to be built at Michigan avenue and the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, N. J. It will be similar in design to the Haddon Hall, of Atlantic City. It will have a frontage of 175 feet 5 in. The building will be of steel structure type. Brick and fire-proof throughout. The interior will be furnished with every possible hotel convenience known to a modern hotel. It will be heated by hot water heater, wired for electricity with hardwood interior finish, passenger elevator, call bells, etc. Jos. N. Borden, Dr. Philip Marvel, Jos. Marvel and others are the promoters. Pennock & Co., Steele & Sons, Doyle & Doak are bidders.

Charles M. Burns, architect, 717 Walnut street, has plans nearly finished for a large school, to be erected at Fort Defiance, Arizona. It will be built of stone, and will be two-and-one-half stories high. The main building will measure 45 by 70 feet, and there will be two end wings measuring 36 by 80 feet each, and a central wing measuring 35 by 80 feet. The first floor will contain refractories, kitchen, parlor, recreation room, sewing room, laundry, clothes and class rooms. The chapel will be located on the second floor of the central wing; the second floor of the other building will contain boys' and girls' dormitories, infirmaries, sisters' dormitories, etc.; the third floor, or half story, will contain dormitories for boys and girls. There will be a separate building of one story high which will contain toilet and bath rooms. All bids for this work will be taken at Fort Defiance, Arizona. The same architect is at work on plans for interior alterations and a new ceiling in the Protestant Episcopal Church at Smyrna, Del. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

Wilson Bros. & Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications, and sent same to builders for estimates for an addition to Drexel Institute, at Thirty-second and Chestnut streets. The addition will consist of a four-story brick building, measuring 70x190 feet 5 inches, facing on Chestnut street. The front will be vitrified brick, with ornamental terra cotta trimmings, with copper frame skylight roof. The building will be fire proof construction and will be finished throughout with hardwood. The basement will be used for a testing mechanical laboratory and blacksmith shop. The second floor will be occupied by classes of the domestic arts and architectural drawing. The third floor will be fitted up as an art gallery and the fourth floor will be used as studios for life classes. The following builders are bidding on same: Cramp & Co., Watson & Bro., Stacey Reeves & Sons, A. L. Pennock, Louis Haven's Sons, Hurlock & Sons, John R. Wiggins and the Manufacturing Construction Company, of Newark, N. J. All bids due September 17.

M. N. & C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, Real Estate Building, have furnished plans for a large manufacturing plant to be built in the northeastern section of the city, and Builder C. W. Denny, of the Odd Fellows Hall Building, has posted the drawing on board at his office for estimates of sub-contractors. The structure will be one and three stories high and will measure 60x300 feet. The architects' plans and specifications provide for machinery, heating, lighting, etc., as well as other engineering features which will be installed under the supervision of the architects. It is to be built of brick and slow-burning construction, the location and owner's name withheld for the present. The same architects have begun preparation of preliminary sketches for a large hotel to be erected at Columbia, S. C. It will be four stories high, measuring 100x60 feet, and probably be constructed of frame and pebble dashed. It will contain hall room, dining room, office serving room, kitchen, buffet, cafe, billiard and pool rooms and to have 102 apartments with baths attached. It will also have its own electric light and heating plant. These and other features will be installed under the supervision of the architect.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 11, 1901

On page 598 of this issue we give the gist of the Act of Assembly approved June 4, 1901, repealing all previous mechanics' liens laws, and re-enacting a complete new law in relation to mechanics' liens. It must not be understood that this is the Act itself, for it is not. It is, however, the salient points of the new mechanics' lien law as collected by Joseph A. Gorman, Esq., and it is really all that is needed to understand the meaning and application of the new law.

THE statement for August issued by the United States comptroller of the currency shows that the amount of national bank notes outstanding on the 31st was $357,419,155, an increase over the same date of 1900 of $33,114,330, and for the month of $1,268,252. The banks hold United States bonds as securities for their circulating notes to the amount of $323,406,851, an increase over August 31, 1900, of $37,764,994, and to secure deposits of public money bonds to the value of $108,480,560. There was coined at the mints during the month a total of $18,462,000 pieces, valued at $10,140,310, divided as follows: Gold, 707,000 pieces, valued at $6,780,000; silver pieces, 8,520,000, valued at $3,141,000; minor pieces, 9285, valued at $219,310.

THE United States consumed last year more than 36,000,000,000 square feet of sawed lumber alone. This amount of lumber would load a train of cars long enough to encircle the earth at the equator. If to the sawn lumber be added the timber, the railway ties, the telegraph poles, the posts for fences, and the wood cut for fuel and for mining, the train of cars would have to be 100,000 miles in length, or long enough to reach four times around the globe. The annual consumption of our forests is 25,000,000 cubic feet. To furnish this amount would require the product of 1,200,000 acres of woodland, whereas our total forest area is less than 500,000,000 acres. It will be seen, then, that we are drawing upon our forest capital, whereas we ought to be using only the interest. These remarkable figures are given by Dr. N. H. Eggleston, who states that the annual consumption of wood in this country is 350 cubic feet per capita, whereas in Germany it is 40 cubic feet and in Great Britain only 14 cubic feet. The railways of the United States alone consume 500,000,000 feet of lumber every twelve months. The whole of the eastern part of this country, from the Atlantic ocean to the prairies, is naturally a forested region, simply because the rainfall is sufficient to encourage the growth of trees. The only areas within this region that are not forested are those which have been cleared chiefly for purposes of cultivation. If cleared land is left idle for a while the forests quickly reproduce themselves.

Facts Concerning Norway.

Norway takes 65,000,000 cod a year. Norway is the most thinly settled of all the European countries.

Three-fourths of the entire area of Norway is not capable of cultivation.

The death rate in Norway is less than that of any country in the world, with the exception of Sweden.

Norway has a greater excess of women over men than any other European country. It amounts to 73,000 at present.

England's ice import from Norway fell off last year by 55,814 tons, the total being only 448,813 tons. More ice is now made in Britain than ever before.

The Norwegian fjords never freeze. They are protected by the monstrous mountains and the water is tempered by warm currents that flow in from the gulf stream.

The longevity of the Norwegians is said to be greater than that of any other race in Europe. By the last census 1900 people out of a population of 2,000,000 were reported as over 100 years of age, and 16 had passed their one hundred and fourth year.

The greater part of the population of Norway lives upon the coast and upon the islands that lie between it and the North sea. A few of the islands in the Lofoten group, which are the scene of the cod fisheries, are comparatively thickly settled, but the interior of the country has large sections without permanent inhabitants, and the northern provinces, above the arctic circle, are occupied only by nomadic tribes of Lapps.—Exchange.

Architect Notes.

Adin B. Lacey, architect, 1020 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for alterations and additions to store on North Seventh street. We will be able to give more details later. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks. The name of the owner and location withheld for the present.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title building, has prepared plans and is taking estimates for an automobile house to be built for W. L. Elkins, at Elkins Station, Pa. It will be one-story high, to be built of stone and to be of unique design. All bids due September 12th.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and receiving bids for alterations to house, 919 South 49th street. The interior is to be finished in oak and mahogany at a cost of $5,000; also making plans for alteration and addition to 911 Market street.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut st., have prepared plans for a residence for John H. Packard, to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Plans call for a building of irregular shape, with a frontage of 63 feet 6 inches and length of 66 feet 6 inches, to be built of brick and stone and to be three stories in height.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have prepared plans and are receiving bids for an apartment house to be erected at Forty-seventh street and Baltimore avenue. The following is the list of builders that are bidding on same: H. E. Shoemaker, Machin & Brown, Burd P. Evans, W. R. Dougherty and Frank A. Souder, of Atlantic City. Bids are due in about a week.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

E. A. Gillinder & Son Glass Company have purchased from Chas. A. Porter a plot of ground on the southeast side of Taney street to the southwest side of Leveraux street, Holmesburg, Pa. It is the intention of the company to erect a factory on this site.

D. W. Sperry, 1305 Arch street, has on boards drawings and specifications for a two-story and attic shingle workshop, to be located at Bala, Pa., to be built for Mr. F. W. Fleck, in accordance with plans prepared by Architects Heacock & Hokanson, 931 Chestnut street.

Amos Barnes, architect and engineer, Ninth and Walnut streets, has awarded the contract to Wm. Maske, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for the erection of the factory building, boiler house and stable, and also alterations and additions to be made to another building of the manufacturing plant of Rutherford and Barnes, southeast corner of Eagle and West streets, Brooklyn, N. Y., as was formerly made mention of in these columns. Plumbing and the installation of machinery in the new building is included in the work.

William Steele & Sons, Witherspoon Building, have placed on boards plans and specifications and are taking bids for the erection of a stable for Mr. William G. Henry, at 1508 Allegheny avenue. The plans were prepared by Architect George W. Plovman, Betz Building, and show a one-story stone structure, with slate roof, containing feed and harness rooms, and stablemen's quarters, concrete roofing, galvanized iron work, mill work, painting, glazing, and electric lighting are included in the general contract.

Levis Haven's Sons, Girard Building, have plans and specifications on boards and are estimating for a foundry, cleaning pit and a stock house, to be built for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway at their locomotive repair shops at Reading, Pa. The plans for same were drawn by Architects and Engineers Wilson Bros. & Co., Drexel Building, and show a one-story brick pit house, a one-story brick stock house, measuring 164 feet by 43 feet, and a one-story brick foundry building, measuring 404 feet 10 inches by 132 feet 10 inches.

An Act of Assembly approved June 4, 1901, repealing all laws heretofore passed and re-enacting a complete new law in relation to Mechanics' Liens.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the fact that on June 4, 1901, the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania passed an Act in relation to "Mechanics' Liens in Pennsylvania." This Act is that proposed at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association held at Wilkesbarre, Pa., in July, 1899.

The Committee directed by the Pennsylvania Bar Association to report upon the advisability of a re-enactment of a Mechanics' Lien law said in part:

"If the committee were to recommend that which in their judgment would be most advantageous as well to the builder as to all other persons in the community, they would advise a brief enactment repealing all laws on the subject of Mechanics' Liens. Experience has taught that these laws have frequently resulted in entrapping people furnishing labor and materials to cover the pay for which no adequate means have been provided, and regarding which the protection supposed to be furnished by the Mechanics' Lien law has usually proved to be illusory. Generally speaking it may be said that the moral risk in matter of credit is much to be preferred to the material one, and that whenever by legislation special and peculiar privileges are provided for one class of citizens, that class suffers most because of an attempt to rely thereon. In so far as it is deemed possible so to do we have adhered to the existing law and practice of the State rather than make immaterial changes in accordance with the law and practice of other States.

Some of the salient points in the Act as pointed out by the Committee are as follows:—

First. As in existing laws it limits the right of lien to a contractor with the owner, and the first sub-contractor with him, but gives to one furnishing labor or materials to a lien claimant the right to intervene as a use claimant in any lien actually filed, the owner not to be affected thereby.

Second. It excludes public corporations but gives them the right to require contractors to give bond to pay material men and employees.

Third. It includes quasi public corporations, but requires that any sale thereunder must be of the franchise and assets as an entirety as in other cases, the proceeds to be apportioned.

Fourth. It limits the lien for materials to those actually used in the improvements, the presumption being that they are so used if delivered for that purpose to the owner or contractor or near the improvement.

Fifth. Joint appointed liens are abolished, but the amount chargeable on each property may be determined by apportionment and separate liens filed.

Sixth. The right to lien for a construction does not depend on the extent of the alteration of the exterior of the building.

Seventh. The claim is lost if it is not filed within fifteen days after service of a rule requiring it.

Eighth. A sub-contractor must give the owner a sworn statement of the claim before filing; the owner may pay it and charge the principal contractor if the latter does not give notice of a defence thereto. Upon payment of the sub-contractor must assign to the owner any collateral he holds.

A few directions as to the method of giving this notice might be of some practical use.

When a sub contractor has a contract to do work in and about the erection and construction of a building, he has six months to file a lien after the actual completion of the work. This is well known, but it is enacted by this law that in this case a notice must be served by the sub-contractor upon the owner of his intention to file a claim, sworn to, setting forth the contract under which he claims the amount alleged to be still due, and how made up, the kind of labor or material furnished, and the date when the last work was done or materials furnished.

This notice must be served at least one month before a claim is filed, and within three months after the last work was done or materials furnished; that is, if the sub-contractor waits three months (which is as long as he can wait) to serve the notice of his intention to file a claim, he cannot file his claim for at least a month after. This lien dates from the actual commencement of the building.

If the sub-contractor is contractor for an addition, alterations or repair of a building or equipping old structure with machinery, gearing, boilers and engines, cars or other useful appliances, the claimant has only three months to file a claim. In this case the present law is that a notice of his intention to file a claim must be duly sworn to as above and served within 45 days after the last work was done, or material furnished. The service of both notices as above shall be made personally on the owner anywhere, but if he cannot be served in the county where the structure or other improvement is situate, such notice and statement may be served on his architect or agent or party in possession of the structure or other improvement, and if there be no architect, agent or party in possession it may be posted on the most public part of the structure or other improvement.

This lien for additions, alterations and repairs dates only from the filing of the claim, and if the house is sold before the claim is filed to an innocent third party without notice, the claim is defeated.

Ninth. The claim must be sworn to and additional requirements as to the contents of the claim are made.

Tenth. After the claim is filed notice must be given the owner.

Eleventh. Advance money, mortgages, ground rents, etc., shall only have a preferential claim over Mechanics' Liens to the extent of the value of the land itself exclusive of the improvements.

Twelfth. The owner's liability shall be limited to the term of the principal contract if duly recorded.

Thirteenth. Sub-contractors are given the right to rescind their contracts in case the right to lien is limited in the principal contract unless given actual notice thereof. When the principal contract is not filed in the Prothonotary's office within ten days after signing or prior to the commencement of the work on the ground or not less than ten days prior to the contract with the claimant, the claimant may rescind his contract. In insolvency and bankruptcy proceedings duly prosecuted against the owner or contractor the same right exists.

Fourteenth. Parties affected by untrue averments in the claim may require its correction before a Sheriff's sale.

Fifteenth. Security may be entered or money paid into court to discharge the lien or stay proceedings thereon.

Sixteenth. An attachment may be added to a summons to recover for labor and materials.

Seventeenth. Any attempt to remove the building before payment of the claim may be enjoined. If actually removed it will still be liable.

Eighteenth. A plaintiff may compel claimant to proceed with his claim under penalty of his being stricken off.

Nineteenth. The judgment against the contractor if served with process shall be personal and execution may be issued thereon against his other property. Judgment may be entered against him through an affidavit of defence be filed by the owner. The owner shall only be personally liable for costs.

Twentieth. If advantageous to lien claimants so to do, and the owner does not elect to pay the value of the improvements, the building alone may be sold, and afterwards removed from the ground. If this is done Mechanics' Lien claimants shall have a prior right on the fund.

Twenty-first. The purchaser of a leasehold estate, and property on an execution sale shall be subrogated to the lessee's rights, unless the lessor elect to purchase at an appraised value.

Twenty-second. Rents may be collected and paid to party entitled if after judgment no appeal is taken.

Twenty-third. A failure to satisfy a judgment makes the plaintiff liable to party injured.

Twenty-fourth. Insurance money realized by reason of the destruction of the improvement to the extent that it arises therefrom shall be applied to the claims after the owner's actual expenditures shall have been repaid him.

Twenty-fifth. In every distribution of a fund realized from labor or materials furnished to a building, lien claimant shall be given the preference.

Twenty-sixth. A lien for any additions, alterations or repairs shall not be filed for less than one hundred dollars.

It will be seen from these short extracts that the act seeks mainly to facilitate the speedy determination of the claims, and adjust the differences speedily between contractors, sub-contractors and owners.

from plans prepared by J. H. Hunter. It will be finely finished, provided with modern conveniences and will cost about $25,000.

—At Ephrata, Lancaster county, it is stated that the Conestoga Traction Company has begun a survey with a view to constructing a line to Adamstown.

—At Apollo, Armstrong county, plans are under way by an engineer for the proposed electric railway to connect Apollo, Vandergrift and Leechburg.

—At Conneville, Fayette county, it is said that plans have been completed for the proposed new station to be erected by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

—At Lawrenceville, Allegheny county, a Baptist church will be erected on 84th street from plans prepared by J. H. Campbell, of Pittsburg. The estimated cost is about $30,000.

—At Birdsboro, Berks county, the Diamond Drill and Machine Company has closed contracts for twelve 26-inch sheet mills, three large sheet mills and ten hot mills and ten cold mills for tin plate plants.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, the lowest bids received for heating the new and the old High School buildings were James Hay Company of Allegheny, $41,300; and the McGuinness Smith Company, $42,377.

—At Phoenixville, Chester county, the old Miller property has been bought by H. I. Brownback and the building will be demolished to make room for a modern structure to be fitted up for business purposes and an opera house.

—At Altoona, Blair county, both Select and Common Council have passed ordinances over the mayor's veto authorizing the Bell United Telephone and Telegraph Companies to place their wires in underground conduits in the streets and avenues and alleys of the city.

—At Scranton it is said that plans are being prepared by Jacoby, Weishampel & Biegin for two fire houses for the Franklin and Allen fire companies, respectively. They will be three stories high, 32x105 and 30x136 feet, of brick, well finished throughout, modern equipments.

—At Bloomsburg, Columbia county, the Berwick Town Council at a special meeting held a few days since granted the Columbia and Montour Electric Railway the right of way through the town's streets provided the company use the girder rail instead of the T rail.

—Reading, York and Harrisburg are in the field as a location for the consolidated college of the Evangelical Church to include the college now at Berlin, Pa., with an endowment of $100,000, and Albright College, at Myerstown, Pa., with a like endowment. The new buildings projected for the new college will cost about $150,000.

—At New Cumberland, Cumberland county, an electric line will be constructed to connect New Cumberland with Lewisberry. The distance is about seven miles. The line will be known as the Harrisburg & Lewisberry Railway Company. The capital is about $42,000, and J. K. Foreman of Cumberland county, is the president of the company.

—At Ambler, a charter has been granted the Whitemarsh and Upper Dublin Street Railway Company to construct a line about six miles long, from Main street and Butler avenue, Ambler, and making a circuit through the adjacent country. Those interested are L. A. Sveigaard, T. F. Durham, W. H. Bartlett, Arthur Colville, R. J. Purcell and John S. Gilbert. The capital is $36,000.

—At Pittsburg, the School Board has decided to erect a new school building in the Second ward, near North Main avenue. It will be finely finished, provided with modern conveniences and will contain sixteen rooms.

—Negotiations have been started for the transfer of the control of the Consolidated Traction Company and the Southern Traction Company to the Philadelphia Company.

—At Freedom, Beaver county, the Freedom & Conway Electric Company has been granted a charter to construct a line two miles long from Freedom to Economy township; the capital is $12,000. Those interested are William Redwood Wright, of Philadelphia, who is the president, and others. The proposed line will be an extension of the Beaver Valley Traction Company's lines in the valley.

—At Erie, Erie county, it is probable that considerable paving will be done in the near future. Bids will be received until September 16th on repaving State street—12,000 square yards with brick, or sheet asphalt with three feet gutters. Estimated cost, $25,000.—The Erie Rapid Transit Street Railway Company will extend its lines to connect with Erie electric motor lines on east city limits.

—At Johnstown, Cambria county, a meeting of the organizers of the proposed new electric light company was held a few days since. The name chosen is the Consumers Electric Light, Heat and Power Company, and the capital will be $200,000 instead of $125,000 as was first intended. A committee on site was selected and work will be pushed as rapidly as possible on the plant, which will be complete in every detail.

—At Stroudsburg, Lancaster county, a meeting was held last week to take steps toward organizing and establishing a Chautauqua assembly in Monroe county. Rev. Rufus Miller, a leading Reformed minister of the State, and Secretary of the Sunday School Association of the Reformed Church, has donated forty acres of land beautifully situated on one of the mountain lakes as a site for the proposed assembly. A stock company with a capital of $50,000 will be formed and a step will be taken at once to have erected a handsome inn, auditorium and a number of cottages.

—At Harrisburg, Dr. C. C. Miller, of Twelfth avenue, will remodel the Kline dwelling, at Fifth street and Seventh avenue, and fit it up for a medical and surgical institute.

—Frank H. Gregory, secretary of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A., is receiving bids from contractors for the erection of the new Y. M. C. A. building, for which plans have been prepared by W. D. Weaver & Son, of Harrisburg.—The fine residence of Congressman Marlin E. Olmstead was greatly damaged by fire a few days since. The house was being remodeled under the supervision of Architect W. H. Miller, of Ithaca, N. Y., by Contractor Jacob J. McKelvey, 1311 North Front street, Harrisburg. The loss is fully covered by insurance and the repairs will be started as soon as possible.

—At Reading, Berks county, the Reading Railway Company has awarded to Geo. W. Baird & Co., of Reading, a contract in connection with the Reading Belt Railroad now approaching completion. The contract to Contractor Baird & Co. calls for the erection of a coaling station and water supply station, both to be located in West Reading. The coaling station will consist of a covered trestle and pockets 84 feet long with a trestle approach 176 feet long over the tracks of the Lebanon Valley Railroad; chutes for coaling the engine and a steel girder bridge 60 feet long over Tulpehocken street. The water supply station will have a brick pumping house 20x32 feet with an in-take from the river, a well, coal bins, brick stack, brick reservoir 60 feet in diameter and 124 feet deep and three water columns and pits.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, the American Lime and Stone Company, of which Robert K. Cassatt is president, has bought the Kingrich farm, near Palmyra, on which there is an inexhaustible supply of limestone. The company will supply the Pennsylvania Railroad with ballast and bridge stone, and will furnish ground limestone, used in the Carnegie and other iron plants in the western part of the State. It is proposed to erect a large cement plant on the Kingrich farm. The capital of the company is $6,000,000.—A syndicate headed by Robt. K. Cassatt it is said will erect a large cement manufacturing plant on the Kingrich farm, which has been purchased for $25,000. Mr. Cassatt for some months has held options on the plants of several of the heaviest lime producing concerns in the State and it would seem by the above statement that the lime producing interests were about to be controlled by a trust.

—At Steelton, Dauphin county, the Pennsylvania Steel Company has decided to construct a reservoir for the storage of water. The company has secured a lease on the Pennsylvania canal and will make use of it for reservoir purposes after putting it in proper shape. A pumping station will be erected near Highspire to pump water from the river into the canal basin.—The official board of the Centenary United Brethren Church on South Second street will ask for bids at once for remodeling the structure; plans for these improvements have been made by Architect Hamilton, of Harrisburg. An addition will also be made to the Sunday school room. The contract will include heating apparatus and a new pipe organ.—The members of the St. Lawrence Crovaton Society have under consideration the purchase of a site and the erection of a building for the use of the order. The proposed structure will be three stories high, of brick, and will contain a large hall, parlor, reading and class rooms, toilet rooms.

Through New Jersey.

At Princeton, Mercer county, J. P. Gill has been awarded the contract for extensive repairs to the Catholic club house. New plumbing and a new heating apparatus are included in the work. The estimated cost is $3800.

At Vulcanite, Warren county, the Vulcanite Portland Cement Co., Real Estate Trust Building, Phila., is having erected a new mill which will about double the capacity of the plant. The new mill will have a daily capacity of two thousand barrels.

At Elizabeth, Union county, the Elizabeth Brass Foundry has been incorporated with a capital of $50,000; a plant will be erected at 137 and 139 Elizabeth avenue. Those interested are Charles C. Bussey, Charles M. Whitney and Joseph T. Hague, all of Elizabeth.

At Bridgeton, Cumberland county, the Bridgeton Real Estate Owners' Protective Association has started a movement to present any manufacturing concern a site and bonus of $1,000 or $2,000 to locate in Bridgeton. At least fifty persons must be employed by the industry, which must operate at least three years.

At New Brunswick, Middlesex county, bids will be received until September 19th for brick pavement on Spring alley and Seaman street, tread pavement twelve inches deep on Kirkpatrick street and for curbing and guttering with round stone on Mine street. Charles A. Oliver, Chairman Streets and Roads Committee.

At Clifton, Passaic county, the Mutual Match Company will operate a match factory which will be erected on land adjoining the Erie Railroad and will cover with its buildings about 45,000 square feet of ground. Those interested are Cassel Cohen, Joseph Cohen, Harry Stoll, of New York, and Jacob Schwartz, of Passaic, N. J.

At Carteret, Middlesex county, a tract of land containing about two hundred acres has been bought by J. R. De Lamar for $200,000 and will be used as a site for a large smelting plant. It has a water front of 1000 feet on Staten Island sound adjoining the Blazing Star Dock. The cost of the proposed building is about $800,000.

At East Orange, Essex county, Frederick M. Shepard, Jr., will erect a handsome dwelling on Munn avenue from plans by Charles A. Gifford, of New York City. It will be of light brick, slate roof, hard wood interior finish, tiled bath rooms, open beam ceilings, open plumbing, steam heat, electric lighting, art glass and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $25,000.

At Summit, Union county, William Hugh has bought a lot with a frontage of 250 feet on Baltusrol road and will erect a dwelling.

R. H. Barr has bought a lot on Hobart avenue near Springfield avenue and will erect a handsome dwelling from plans now in course of preparation.—Mr. Ashton Harvey, of Summit, has bought ground at Short Hills, N. J., and will erect a handsome dwelling for his own use.

At Allenhurst, Monmouth county, the work has begun of preparing the site for the new Allenhurst Inn from plans by G. Kramer Thompson. It will be fireproof in construction and will contain over 200 rooms and about 100 bath rooms. Steel, brick and terracotta will be used in the interior finish, sanitary plumbing, tiling, art glass, elevators and all modern conveniences. Each of the 200 rooms will contain a telephone.—It is probable that bonds will be issued for the construction of a water plant.

At Ocean Grove, Monmouth county, the Sheldon Hotel, one of the best known hotels, was destroyed by fire a few days since. It was insured for about $16,000, and owned by W. E. Sheldon.—An effort is being made to have gas introduced in Ocean Grove. Councilman William L. Meeks and John Ahrens are interested. The Ocean Grove Association will be asked to construct a plant or to allow the Consolidated Gas Company to extend its mains through the Grove. About five hundred names have been secured to the petition asking for the improvement.

The Ocean County Board of Freeholders has accepted the route proposed by the citizens' committee for the proposed new road to Lakewood. Freeholders Harrison, Osborn, Disbrow, Otis and Wilbur have been appointed a committee to take charge of the improvement. The estimated cost is about $24,500. The new road is to start one mile east of the railroad on Ocean avenue, Lakewood, there being a stone road for the first mile. The road will then run via Burrsville to West Point Pleasant, stopping at Hance's corner. Hence the road forks, one going to Point Pleasant borough via Clark's Landing, and thence to the Manasquan Bridge, the other running straight to the sea through the south end of Point Pleasant near the Bay Head line.

At Hoboken, South Cove will be improved by the construction of eight or ten docks at a cost of about $275,000. Eight sets of plans are under consideration and work will begin as soon as possible after a selection has been made.—Architect Charles Fall has been selected to make plans for a new club-house to be erected on Washington street for Mayor Charles Fagan. The structure will be four stories high, 45x100 feet, of brick, stone and iron. At Boston, Mass., Thomas W. Lawson, the well-known millionaire and yachtsman, has bought two islands off Stonington, on Deer Isle, and has an option of twelve more. These islands are situated on Isle au Haut Bay, and are about fifteen miles from the mainland. His plans contemplate the building of the most remarkable summer resort in the United States. The islands are all close together and many of them can be connected by bridges. On Saddleback, the largest of the group, about forty acres in extent, Mr. Lawson will erect a magnificent palace for himself. The whole matter will be placed in the hands of a landscape artist, who will furnish the plans which will transform the islands into the "Venice in America." The smaller islands will be cleared of everything unsightly, and those things which show the rugged beauty of the group will be left untouched. On some of the larger islands there will be conservatories and vine-covered vestibules. Miniature parks will be filled with deer, bears, gray squirrel, partridge and every game animal that lives in Maine. The whole cost of the project will be about $1,000,000.

At New York City, N. Y., it is stated that Charles H. Schwab, President of the United States Steel Corporation, will erect a fine dwelling on the Asylum property on Riverside drive which he has recently bought, and a country home on the Arnold estate at Great Neck, Long Island.—Ludlow & Valentine, 100 Broadway, have prepared plans for a large thirteen-story apartment hotel to be erected at 44-50 West Forty-fourth street, for the Seaboard Realty Company. The estimated cost is $150,000.—Work has begun on the erection of five six-story tenements to be erected on Sixty-fourth street east of First avenue, for the City and Suburban Homes Company. The cost will be about $250,000. The plans have been prepared by James E. Ware & Son, 3 West Twenty-ninth street.—The Knights of Columbus have bought ground at Columbus avenue and Sixty-seventh street, and will erect an eight-story building on the site. The estimated cost is about $200,000. The plans have been prepared by L. & J. Brandt. Francis Sullivan is the managing director of the Knights of Columbus Building Company.—The contract for the construction of the public library at 42d street and Fifth avenue has been awarded by the Park Board to Narcoses Bros. for $2,865,706.

At Atlanta, Ga., from plans by Architect W. T. Downing, two three-story store buildings will be erected on South Broad street by Hugh T. Inman and J. W. English. William Benschel is the contractor. The two structures will cost about $40,000.—Architect J. H. Dinwiddie has completed plans for the new club house to be erected by the Atlanta Athletic Club. Plans were also submitted by Bleckley & Tyler. Work will be started early in September. The structure will cost $20,000. The front of the building will be of buff brick and granite. On the ground floor will be the plunge, with baths, massage, showers, hot room, rubbing room, etc. Back of this will be toilets and laundry. There will also be bowling alleys and a game room on this floor. On the first floor will be reading rooms and billiard hall. Back of this will be a directors' room and the first room of lockers. Back of all of this will be the large gymnasium, which will extend up through the floor above, the running track being located on the second floor. Other space will be devoted to hand-ball courts, locker rooms and other apartments.—Bruce & Morgan are drawing plans for stone prison to be erected at Milledgeville, Ga.—The contract for the erection of the Southern Railway's new passenger depot at Knoxville, Tenn., has been awarded to Nicholas Ittner, contractor, of Atlanta. The cost of the building will be about $80,000, with $20,000 additional for track and yard improvements. The Knoxville depot will be 55 x 215 feet, two stories high. It will be of white pressed brick, with marble trimmings, slate roof and partial steel construction. Eight months will be required to complete the work. The new depot was designed by Architect F. P. Milburn, of Columbia, S. C.—The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. will soon erect a fine new building in Atlanta. It will adjoin the present exchange, Prior and Mitchell streets, and will have a frontage of about 40 feet, with a depth of about 100 feet. Bleckley & Tyler are the architects for this new addition. It is to cost about $40,000.

THE PHILADELPHIA Real Estate Record AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

[INSERTED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 38. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Under the Act of June 4, 1901, which is now the Mechanics' Lien Law, the following are specifically named as subject to liens.

The Act reads as follows:

Section 1. The words "structure or other improvements," as used in this act, mean any building, bridge, wharf, dock, pier, bulkhead, vault, subway, tramway, toll-road, conduit, tunnel, mine, coal-breaker, flume, pumps, screen, tank, derrick, pipe-line, aqueduct, reservoir, viaduct, telegraph, telephone, railway or railroad line, canal, mill-race, works for supplying water, heat, light, power, cold air or any other substance furnished to the public, well for the production of gas, oil or other volatile or mineral substance, or other structure or improvement of whatsoever kind or character the same may be.

The word "owner" means an owner in fee, a tenant for life or years, or one having any estate or interest in the property described in the claim, who by contract or agreement, express or implied, in person or by another, contracts for the erection, construction or the removal of the structure or other improvements, or any part thereof, for the addition thereto, for the alteration or repair thereof, or for the fitting up or equipping the same from time to time for the purpose for which it is intended.

The word "contractor" means one who by contract or agreement, express or implied, with the owner, or with one who acts for the owner, plans or superintends the structure or other improvement, or any part thereof, or furnishes labor, skill or superintendence thereto, or supplies or hauls materials reasonably necessary for and actually used therein, or any or all of them, whether as an architect, superintendent, builder or material man.

The word "sub-contractor" means one who by contract or agreement, express or implied, with the contractor, or with one who acts for him, superintends the structure or other improvement, or any part thereof, or furnishes labor, skill or superintendence thereto, or supplies or hauls materials reasonably necessary for and actually used therein, or any or all of them, whether as superintendent, builder or material man, excluding, however, architects and those contracting with material men.

The word "claimant" means the person who has filed or may file the claim as a lien against the property.

The word "property" means the estate in fee, the freehold, leasehold or other estate or interest therein, with the structure or other improvement thereon, and the fixtures and other personal property used in fitting up and equipping the same for the purpose for which it is intended, all of which belong to the owner and against which the claim is filed as a lien.

By Section 10 it is provided that, that in case of tenancies or leasehold estates of alterations and repairs, and of fitting up or equipping old structures with machinery, etc., the claim must be filed within three months, and in all other cases within six months after the completion of the contract.

Architect Notes.

Horace W. Seller, architect, Stephen Girard Building, is at work on preliminary sketches for a handsome residence to be built out of town.

Rush A. Plowman, architect, Betz Building, has prepared plans and is nearly ready for bids for six handsome three-story stone dwellings, to be built at Forty-seventh street and Woodland avenue, for Nathaniel B. Crenshaw. They will have buff brick fronts and will be finished in hardwood, built on lots averaging 16 feet 8 inches by 60 feet. Will be ready for bids in a couple of days.

Charles Oelschlagel, architect, Harrison Building, has prepared plans and is taking bids on alterations and addition to house at 1710 Locust street. Addition consists of new kitchen, study and library and two baths, the alterations in general. Interior improvements, new plumbing, hot air heating, tile work, etc. The following builders will be asked to bid: John L. Wiggins and W. R. Dougherty. Bids close September 19.

Henry Reinhold, formerly of Schermerhorn & Reinhold, has plans for a new house, to be built at Glenolden, Pa., for Joseph Bond. It will be English style of architecture, to be built of stone and brick and half timber, two and a half stories high, with shingle roof, measuring 36x50 feet. It will contain ten rooms and bath. The interior will be finished in somewhat of a novelty, as instead of the usual hardwood selected, hemlock and white pine will be used. It will be heated by hot air wired for electricity, open plumbing work and have all modern improvements. To cost about $6000.

Rowland Boyle, architect, Perry Building, is working on plans for a new church for the Holy Rosary R. C. Church, to be built at Mahanoy City, Pa. It is to be built of frame with stone foundations, shingle roof, measuring 45x116 feet. It will contain two sacristies, the interior of church, including altars, confessionals, pews, vestment cases, gallery, etc., are to be in oak. It will have ornamental plastering in the interior, heated by steam, with stained glass windows, etc. The cornices, cross and finial will be galvanized iron, to cost about $15,000. Will be ready to receive bids in about two weeks' time.

John J. Hill, contractor and builder, 711 Walnut street, has plans prepared for an operation of 100 three-story brick and stone houses, including six stores, to be erected on Market street, Sixty-first street and Edgeworth street. The houses will measure 16x54 feet, including five-foot-deep porches and a six-foot-deep frame laundry. Stores will be 16x56 feet, with Pompeian brick fronts, with brownstone trimmings. These houses will have every possible convenience, to be heated by hot air, with open plumbing work, hardwood finish. Houses to be wired for gas electric lighting. All bids due in about one week's time. This operation is to cost about $400,000.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, Young Friends Building, northwest corner of Fifteenth and Cherry streets, have prepared plans for an addition to an inn at Buckhill Falls, near Cresco, Monroe county, Pa., for the Buckhill Falls Company. The addition will measure 40x100 feet, to be built of frame, with shingle roof, to be four stories high and contain linen room, pantry and kitchen. The upper floors will contain bedrooms. It will also contain a front lift, to be wired for electricity, best plumbing, interior hardwood finish and all the modern and up-to-date improvements. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks. All bids are to be received by the Buckhill Falls Co., at Buckhill Falls, Pa.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, Tenth and Chestnut streets, has prepared plans for a three-story and basement boys' and girls' high school, to be erected at Coatesville, Pa. It will be built of brick and stone, slate roof and partly of steel. It will be heated by steam heat, plumbing and ventilation. The first floor will contain principal's, teachers' and book rooms and three class rooms, and school room, four class, recitation, teachers, book and wardrobe rooms will be on the second floor. The third floor will have same number of rooms and equipment as second floor. The following builders will be asked to bid: Pennock & Co., John A. Burger & Son, Lancaster, Pa.; Plummer E. Jefferies, of West Chester, Pa.; Ballinger & Co. and Louis Haven's Sons, of Philadelphia. Bids are due September 27.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and are taking bids on house and stable to be erected at Wynnewood, Pa., for Mr. McCurdy. The house is to be built of stone, with shingle roof, and to measure 31 by 55 feet. Interior is to be finished in hardwood, to be heated by hot air, wired for electricity, with best plumbing. It will contain fifteen rooms and baths. The stable will also be built of stone, with shingle roof, two stories high, measuring 40 by 32 feet. The second floor will be arranged for coachman quarters, and the stable will have all up-to-date appointments. Also prepared plans and taking bids for a residence for H. S. Smith, to be built at Wynnewood, Pa. It is to be built of brick, with slate roof, and to be two and a half stories high, the interior to be in hardwood finish, to be heated by hot air, lit by electricity, open plumbing work, etc., and to have all the modern improvements.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 18, 1901

F. Weber & Co.'s Catalogue of Engineering Instruments.

The attention of architects, engineers and draughtsmen (and this includes all of the mechanical branches) are especially invited by Messrs. F. Weber & Co., 1125 Chestnut street, with branch houses in St. Louis and Baltimore, to examine the firm's new Catalogue of Engineering Instruments which it has just issued.

F. Weber & Co. is one of the oldest houses in its line in the United States.

Its methods are thoroughly modern and its stock embraces a full line of architects' and engineers' supplies, artists' paints, brushes and materials of all kinds. It not only manufactures blue and brown print papers, but its printing plant, now largely patronized by architects and engineers, is one of the most complete as to equipment and facilities in the country.

The firm is a large importer of foreign goods, and it keeps pace with the rapid development in new and useful instruments and materials required by architects and engineers.

Something Doing in New York.

There is probably no city in the world spending as much money for municipal improvement as New York is at the present time. Paris under Napoleon III. even, did not equal the enterprise of those in authority here. The largest expenditure is for the magnificent four-track tunnel now in process of construction, let at the contract price of $35,000,000, and an extension to Brooklyn, for which surveys are now being made, will extend the cost another $5,000,000, and the various elaborations of the original scheme will bring the total cost up to more than $50,000,000. Then there are three great bridges now being built, one well under way to cost $20,000,000 with the approaches, another near the old Brooklyn Bridge, $20,000,000 more, and one uniting Manhattan and Queens to cost $22,000,000; then there is every probability of the great North River Bridge, with a span of 3100 feet, at a total cost of $60,000,000;

then there are Harlem River bridges, which will cost nearly $4,000,000; then there is the extension of Riverside Drive and Park, which will most undoubtedly be the most magnificent drive in this country, if not in the world, and for this the sum of $15,000,000 has been appropriated; $15,000,000 for an adequate water supply; $8,500,000 are to be expended on the improvement of the park system of this city, and as much more in the opening and widening of streets. Then there is a new Hall of Records now in construction, one of the most remarkable buildings in this country, and probably the best equipped in the world, which will cost $4,000,000; a New York Public Library, whose foundations are completed, to cost $4,000,000, and a Museum of Natural History at a total cost of $10,000,000. Then there is the Custom House in Bowling Green, $5,000,000, and improvements in the harbor perhaps $8,000,000 more. Besides all this are the improvements that are being made by private corporations, which it would take two or three pages of the Journal to mention in detail, as, for instance, the Stock Exchange, which will cost $2,000,000; the Chamber of Commerce, $1,000,000; the Maritime Building, $1,000,000, and one department store which will cost $3,000,000, and several others at about a million each. In fact the total cost of the improvements which are projected and in actual construction in this city is between $60,000,000 and $700,000,000, a truly magnificent sum. For the suggestion of the publication of the above facts and figures, we acknowledge our indebtedness to the Scientific American.—New York Lumbar Trade Journal.

AS AN instance of how easily water may be polluted and the source of pollution be unknown for a long time is quoted a case at Oak Lane, Philadelphia, where a gentleman who owned adjacent properties sunk wells on both plots. One well was more than 100 feet deep, and the other more than 300 feet deep, through solid rock. The water from the deep well was limpid, clear and potable, but one day it was discovered to have a repellent taste. A chemist found the water to be impure, and the services of a geologist were engaged to trace the source of pollution. His search was a short one, for he found that the water from the well had been contaminated from a stable, about a mile away, but situated near rock that shelved into the well itself. The water in the 100-foot well remained uncontaminated.

Trade Topics.

The United States averages exports of 750,000 tons of coal per month. The production of cigars for the past fiscal year was 5,720,984,369, or 16,000,000 per day. Exports of American breadstuffs increased 22 per cent. during the past seven months over same time preceding fiscal year. Artificial wool made from turf fibres is now employed at Dusseldorf, Germany, for manufacturing cloth, bandages, hats, rugs, etc. The largest lumber raft ever constructed started from Portland to San Francisco August 12. It is 625 feet long, draws 20 feet and is 12 feet above the water.

Some of the "sticks" are 120 feet long and 22 inches in diameter. The raft represents 7,200,000 feet of lumber. The annual capacity of the National company's constituent corporations is no less than 1,000,000 tons of tubular goods. It is 90 per cent. of the capacity of all the mills in the United States and four times the total annual product of all the British mills of the same class. The profits are nearly $15,000,000 a year.

Architect Notes.

E. E. Hallman, architect, Provident Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, is preparing preliminary plans for a house and office for Dr. J. R. Goodloe, at Demopolis, Ala. It is to be frame, two stories high and shingle roof.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, has plans under way for a one-story stone memorial chapel for the Presbyterian Church, at East Falls, Mass. Mr. James Dobson has donated $20,000 for its construction.

Herman Miller, architect, Crozer Building, has prepared plans for a residence for Louis Hazelbrush, at Elkins Station, Pa. It is to be two and a half stories high, to be built of stone, brick and frame, with slate roof. Mr. Miller is now receiving bids on same.

Plans are in preparation for a new fifteen-story building, to be erected at 1207-69 Chestnut street, adjoining new office building of the Commonwealth Title Insurance Company. New building for Anthony M. Zane. It will be fifteen stories high and will conform in material and general appearance to the Commonwealth Building.

It is rumored that Architects John T. Windrim, 1107 Walnut street, and Edgar V. Seeler, Real Estate Building, are engaged in making competitive plans for the new Franklin Bank Building to be erected at Broad and Chestnut streets. Mr. Seeler being out of town, we cannot confirm this, and Mr. Windrim denies it.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Newhall Engineering Company, of 188 South Fourth street, has awarded the contract to Alfred Whitehead for new factory to be built at Lafayette, Pa. Details of work in one of our recent issues.

Burd P. Evans, 706 North Ninth street, has placed on boards plans and specifications and is bidding for improvements to be made to the residence of Mr. James J. Fletcher, at 338 East Cheltenham avenue, Germantown, from plans prepared by Mr. F. J. Boas, Civil Engineer, 14 South Broad street. Carpentry, masonry, millwork, roofing, plumbing, painting and glazing are included in the work.

Doyle & Oak, 1509 Sansom street, have on boards plans and specifications and are taking bids from drawings by Architect James H. Windrim, 1107 Walnut street, and Henry Adams, Consulting Engineer, with offices at Philadelphia and Baltimore, Md., for the installation of power, electric light, heating, and ventilating plant in the Commonwealth Building to be erected at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Chestnut streets.

McClure has made plans for remodeling the dwelling of J. H. Hoover, on Tenth avenue, also plans for a frame dwelling for S. A. Epp.

—At Harrisburg, at a recent meeting of the Board of Trade, the subject of city improvements was discussed and the report of Mr. James H. Fuerte, the expert on sanitation, who had been employed for the purpose, presented a report: The report is divided into two sections with regard to the turning of Paxton creek into a sewer, the water supply with filtering plant and covered reservoir, improvement by sewerage the river front, and report of the general sewer system of the city. Mr. Fuerte recommends the construction of a dry weather sewer five feet in diameter in the stream from Schuylkill street and emptying in the Susquehanna river at Susquehanna street into which he would have all the sewers empty which now drain the creek. The estimated cost of this work is about $250,000. Mr. Fuerte also recommends the establishment of a rapid filtration plant and would have the present reservoir used for the purpose of securing redimentation. Another reservoir, with a capacity of about 10,000,000 gallons, which is 3,000,000 more than the supply needed daily, he thinks, should be constructed. He recommends that this reservoir be covered and be used for storing the filtered water. The cost is placed at $279,000. Mr. Fuerte discusses in his report on the general sewerage systems, both single and separate systems, and estimates that the cost for completely rebuilding the sewers and making the system of the city effective will not exceed $750,000. The improvements to the river front recommended include the construction of a wall with a large sewer and the construction of a dam at Coney street across the river. The improvement of Paxton creek would cost $249,700; that of the water supply, $279,000; that of the general sewerage system, $79,000, and that of the river front, $55,000, making a total cost for the proposed sanitary improvements $662,700.

An effort will be made to have the matter put before the people at the next election. —The board passed a resolution favoring the location of the United Evangelical College at Harrisburg.

—At Pittsburg an attractive dwelling will be erected on Centennial road, Edgeworth, by Charles L. E. Umbstaetter. It will cost about $10,000. —Architect Ludwig Dick, McClintock building, has prepared plans for a brick dwelling to be on Lemon avenue, Allegheny, for D. A. Dally. Bids for its erection will be received until September 20th. The estimated cost is about $15,000. —F. C. "Let No Man Harm Him."

At the moment the assassin's bullet dealt its death-dealing blow to the President of these United States, the sublime character of the man expressed itself in the above words of deep and earnest meaning. "Let no man harm him," for the majesty of the law must prevail. The law is greater than any man, law means order, while anarchy means chaos. God pity the American who, at the hour of his country's extremity, cannot put his politics behind him. "God reigns and the Government at Washington still lives."

The cost will be $25,000. —George F. Pelham has made plans for a six-story apartment house, to be erected on One hundred and twenty-ninth street, near Eighth avenue, for Leon A. Liebeskind, 41 West Nineteenth street. Elevator, etc. Estimates are wanted on everything but excavating and stone. —John V. Segnell, 1 West Ninety-second street, wants estimates for plumbing, tiling, mantels, roofing, cornices, etc., for two eight story apartment houses, now being erected at Central Park, West Ninetieth to Ninety-first street, from plans prepared by Newell & Bagge, 217 West One hundred and twenty-fifth street. —The Department of Docks and Yards, Mordecai T. Endicott, Chief of Bureau, Washington, D. C., will shortly receive estimates for repairs to building No. 181, Brooklyn Navy Yard. It will be three stories high, 60x375 feet, and will cost $170,000. —Cass Gilbert, Fifth avenue, has sent to the Treasury Department the complete plans for the new Custom House Building and it is stated that in a short time the department will call for bids for the construction of the building. The estimated cost is about $2,700,000. —The buildings at 44 to 50 West Forty-fifth street are being demolished to prepare a site for the proposed twelve-story fireproof apartment house or hotel, which will be known as The Fillmore. The site is 80 by about 200 feet with a frontage of about 19 feet on Forty-fourth street. The builder is the Seaboard Realty Company and the plans have been prepared by Ludlow & Valentine, 100 Broadway. The structure will be handsomely finished and thoroughly provided with every convenience. —Hopkin & Koen, 244 Fifth avenue, have prepared plans for a public school building, to be erected at Garden City, Long Island. It will cost about $25,000. No contracts have been let. —R. F. Admiral, 10 and 12 East Twenty-third street, has prepared plans for a one-story frame church, to be erected at Garden City, Long Island. It will be well finished and will cost about $8000. Rev. Father Farrell, Hempstead, Long Island, pastor. —A new church and rectory will be erected at Delancy and Causton streets by the Church of St. Rosa of Lima. The estimated cost is about $50,000. The plans have been prepared by James C. Kirby. Rev. Peter C. McNamee is the pastor.

THE PHILADELPHIA Real Estate Record AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. XVI.—No. 39. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics' Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

SECTION 2. Every structure or other improvement and the curtilage appurtenant thereto, shall be subject to a lien for the payment of all debts due to the contractor or subcontractor in the erection and construction or removal thereof, in the addition thereto, and in the alteration and repair thereof, and of the outhouses, sidewalks, yards, fences, walks or other enclosure belonging to said structure or other improvement and in the fitting up or the equipment of the same for the purpose for which the improvement is made, including paperhanging, grates, furnaces, heaters, boilers, engines, chandeliers, brackets, gas and electric pipes, wires and fixtures; and for like debts, contracted by such owner in the fitting up or equipment with machinery, gearing, boilers, engines cars or other useful appliances, of new or old structures or other improvements for business purposes; and for like debts contracted by such owner for rails, ties, pipes, poles and wires, and the excavation for and laying and relaying, or stringing and restringing said rails, ties, pipes or wires, or erecting said poles, whether on the property described in the claim or upon other private property or public highways. But no lien shall be allowed for labor or material furnished for purely public purposes; or against any property held by the committee of a lunatic, the guardian of a minor or a trustee under deed, will or appointment by the court, unless by virtue of a contract made under authority of the court, or of the power contained in the deed or will. Nor shall any claim for alterations or repairs, or for fitting up or equipping old structures with machinery, gearing, boilers, engines, cars or other useful appliances be valid, unless it be for a sum exceeding one hundred; and, in the case of a subcontractor, unless, also, written notice of an intention to file a claim therefor, if the amount due be not paid, shall have been given to the owners or some one of them or for him to an adult member of his family, agent, manager or executive or principal officer, on or before day the claimant completed his work or furnished the last of his materials. Nor shall any claim be valid against the estate of an owner, by reason of any consent given by him to his tenant to improve the leased property, unless it shall appear in writing signed by such owner that said improvement was in fact made for his immediate use and benefit.

SECTION 3. The curtilage appurtenant to the structure or other improvement shall be such as is reasonably needed for the general purposes for which structure or other improvement was made, and belonging to the same owner, including other structures, whether newly erected or altered or changed for such purpose, and forming part of a single business or residential plant. A substantial addition to a structure or other improvement shall be treated as a new erection or construction thereof; and the addition and the structure or other improvement of which it becomes a part, and the curtilage appurtenant to both shall be subject to the lien. Every adaptation of an old structure or other improvement to a new or distinct use, which effects a material change in the interior or exterior thereof, shall also be deemed an erection or construction thereof. Any labor or materials furnished in completely fitting up or equipping the structure or other improvement for the purpose for which it was intended, whether on the property subject to the lien or elsewhere, if actually done, or used for the purpose, shall be treated as part of the erection or construction thereof. Materials placed on or near the curtilage appurtenant to the structure or other improvement, or delivered to the owner or contractor for use therein, shall be presumed to have been used therein.

SECTION 4. Any owner not being a committee, guardian or trustee as aforesaid, who shall knowingly suffer or permit any person, acting as if he were the owner, to make a contract for which a claim could be filed without objecting thereto at the time, shall be treated as ratifying the act of such person acting as if he were the owner, and the claim may be filed against the real owner, with the same effect if he himself had made the contract. Ratification shall also be presumed and a like subjection to lien shall follow, if the owner not being a committee, guardian or trustee, as aforesaid subsequently learning of such contract or of other work being done upon his property, shall not within ten days thereafter repudiate the same, either by notice to the contractor and sub-contractors or by posting such repudiation on the most public part of the structure or other improvement.

Attorney-at-Law,
Stephen Girard Building,

Architect Notes.

Amos Barnes, architect and engineer, has prepared plans and posted same for estimates for a tank tower, to be erected at Manayunk, Philadelphia, for Wolstenholme & Clarke. The tower is to be constructed of steel and the tank to be built of cedar wood. It will have a capacity of 20,000 gallons. All bids due September 27.

In an interview with Mr. Louis Hickman, architect, who designed and planned the remodeling of the old Merchants' Exchange Building, Third and Walnut streets, for the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, he says that he has made no revised plans and will take no revised bids on this building, as stated in one of the daily newspapers. He will be able in the course of a day or two to give some definite information as to just what will be done.

Henry Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has prepared plans and is taking bids on the rectory for the Church of the Sacred Heart, at Riverton, N. J. It will be built of frame with brick foundations. It will be two stories and attic high. Interior will be finished in hardwood, with open plumbing work, heated by steam, wired and lit by electricity, and will contain all the latest and modern improvements. Bids are due October 2.

Mr. Barton, architect, Hale Building, has prepared plans and sent same out for estimates for a one-story store building, to be erected at 4506 Baltimore avenue, for Mr. Daniel Y. Dannenhover. It is to be built of brick, with tin roof, and have metal cornices, plate glass bay windows, and to have leaded glass transoms, to be wired and lit by electricity and heated by steam. All bids to be sent to Mr. Daniel Y. Dannenhover, 4581 Springfield avenue.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, has prepared plans and sent same out for estimates for a fire house, to be built for the Lansdowne Fire Company, at Lansdowne, Pa. It is to be three stories and basement, to be built of brick, with finished basement and tin roof. It will have the usual appointments of a first-class fire house, with accommodations for horses and sleeping quarters for men. It will be heated by hot air, wired and lit by electricity, with first-class plumbing. Bids are due September 30.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and sent same to owner for a residence for Dr. W. H. Phillips to be erected at Cape May, N. J. It is to be built of frame with brick foundation, with shingle roof. It is to be three stories in height with a porch and terraces. The first floor will contain office, waiting and operating room, library, dining and kitchen. The second and third floors will contain bed rooms. Will cost about $8000 and will contain all modern improvements. Local builders will be asked to bid by the owner.

Mr. Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, has prepared plans for summer residence for Mr. Benjamin Deacon, to be erected at Seaside Park, N. J. It is to be built of frame with brick foundation and to be two-story and attic high. It will be shingle on the outside with a shingle roof with best plumbing, wired and lit by electricity, and to have all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids soon. Is also working on plans for an addition to stable for A. H. Sinkler, at Clifton, Pa. The addition will consist of increasing the size of stable and general improvements; also has finished plans for enlarging Christ Episcopal Church at Trenton, N. J. The part to be built will measure 90 feet long by 27 feet wide. Local builders will be asked to bid,

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 25, 1901

IT LOOKS as though Petty's Island in the Delaware river has been bought by speculators for the purpose of unloading it on the city at three or four times its cost for municipal hospital purposes. In keeping with such a purpose the present small pox scare in the Twenty-eighth ward and the opposition to the present location of the small pox hospital is in keeping with the methods adopted to befoul the waters of the Schuylkill while the efforts were being made to capture the waterworks of the city for private interests.

Petty's Island would be a grand site for city hospital purposes, but the Municipal Government cannot afford to countenance and should not enter into any negotiations with those who have been scheming to reap a fortune out of the city's necessities.

There are many points on the Delaware where the desired isolation could be obtained, but which perhaps would not be as conveniently located as the island referred to.

It is highly probable that the island will soon be offered to the city at a price verging on a cool million at least.

Architect Notes.

Caldwell & Simons, architects, 1229 Walnut street, are making sketches for a stone and half-timber residence, to be built for Mr. Robertson at Swarthmore, Pa.

Charles Hillman, architect, 50 South Fourth street, has prepared plans and is taking bids on alterations and addition to residence of George Wood, at 1515 Spruce street. Bids due Thursday 26th inst.

Thomas Williams, of the Girard Building, requests bids on twenty-five two-story houses, to be built in West Philadelphia. Plans and specifications can be seen at any time after 4 P. M. at 5514 Woodland avenue.

Charles W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, have sent out plans and specifications for estimates for Brainerd Hall, for the Lafayette College, at Easton, Pa. Bids are due in about two weeks' time.

Albert Ellis Yarnall, architect, 14 South Broad street, has prepared plans for general alterations and a one-story addition to the residence of H. G. Henering, at Ogontz, Pa. Will send same out for estimates in a day or so.

The Frederick Rumpf & Sons' factory at Langhorne, Pa., was destroyed recently by fire. It is the intention of Messrs. Rumpf & Sons to rebuild on the burned site and the new factory will be built on the same plans as the one destroyed.

The engineering department of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company is engaged in the preparation of plans for a new passenger station and freight house, to be erected at Quakertown, Pa. They will be ready in a short time for estimates.

J. Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the United States Treasury Department, who will design the Government building for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, says that this building would probably be modeled after the Treasury Building at Washington, D. C.

Charles C. Osmond, architect, Provident Building, has prepared plans and sent same out for estimates for a two-story frame addition, 47 feet 7 inches by 24 feet, to the Yapevi Aquatic Club house at Bordentown, N. J. Plans can be seen at Philip Anns Company's office.

The statement in a daily newspaper that Wilson Eyre, architect, 929 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for a handsome residence to be built at Worcester, Mass., and to cost $1,000,000, is without a particle of truth. Mr. Eyre says he has no knowledge of any such a residence to be built there.

Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have prepared plans for a stone and shingle cabin to be erected at Buckhill Falls, Monroe county, Pa., for Elizabeth H. Ritchie, of Moorestown, N. J. It will be 36 feet square. Stroudsburg builders only will be asked to bid. Bids close October 1st.

Engineer Twining, of the Union Traction Company, is having plans prepared for a big car barn to be built at Darby, Pa., for the Traction Company. The new building will be two stories high, built of brick and steel, with slag roof and corrugated iron sides. When plans are finished local builders will be asked to bid.

Thomas Bennett, architect, 1022 Walnut street, has completed plans for a general renovation of and the addition of a third and a fourth story to the house 808 Race street. This building is to be built of brick and measure 15x45 feet. When the work is finished it is the intention of the owner to use it as a tenement house.

Chief Engineer William Hunter, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, has completed plans and specifications and has invited bids for the erection of a passenger and freight station, to be built at Summerdale, on the Frankford branch of the railroad. It will be a one-story brick structure with a peaked roof, measuring 32x25 feet. The cost will be about $10,000.

Architect H. Wheeler Leggett, Easton, Pa., has had his plans accepted by the Vandevere Real Estate Association for a new building to be erected at Ninth and Washington streets this place. The building will be of brick, stone and steel construction, three stories, modern, all conveniences, stores on first floor, hall and offices on second floor and lodge rooms on third floor; work to begin about October 1st.

Milligan & Weber, architects, 520 Walnut street, are preparing plans for a seven-story apartment house to be erected at Thirty-ninth and Chestnut streets. It will be built of brick and stone with terra cotta trimmings and steel construction. It will be heated by steam, wire for electricity, with open plumbing work and will have all the up-to-date appointments of a first-class apartment house. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has prepared plans and will send same out soon for estimates for a bath house, to be built on the grounds of the Philadelphia Hospital for the Insane, Forty-fourth and Market streets. It is to be built west of the central building, in the department for women. The proposed building will be one story high, with gabled roof. It will be built of brick and Indiana limestone, measuring 64 feet 3 inches by 61 feet 9 inches. The roof will be Spanish copper tiles. The main portion of the building will contain a swimming pool. Around this will range a number of small apartments, a spray bath room, a hot room, bath and dressing room and a resting room. All the flooring, except that of the resting room, will be American white marble. Stacey Reeves & Son are bidding. Bids close in about ten days.

Guy King, architect, 481 Walnut street, has prepared plans and is taking bids on a handsome colonial residence for Mr. Joseph S. Keen, to be erected at Bellevue, Del. It will be built of stone, with shingle roof, and will be three stories in height. It will be finished on the interior in hardwood, with tile work, leaded glass windows, mantels, etc. It will be heated by steam, wired and lit by electricity. Also in same office has prepared plans and is taking estimates on alteration to residence of Dr. Horwitz, 1721 Walnut street. The alteration consists of interior changes, with new skylights, leaded glass windows, etc. Mr. King has also prepared plans and is taking estimates on a stable, to be built at Briarcliff Farm, Briar Cliff, Westchester county, N. Y. It is to be built of stone, slate roof, and to be two stories high. The first floor will contain 150 stalls. The second floor will be fitted up as the coachman's quarters, with bath, bedrooms, etc. The stable will be equipped with the latest and most modern stable appliances, will be heated by steam, wired and lit by electricity. Dimensions of stable 96x228 feet.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

W. W. Rea & Son, builders, have been awarded the contract to build an addition 19x40 feet at 122 Hutchinson street for George L. Lasher, to cost $10,000, from plans of Charles Balderson, architect.

The American delegates to the Methodist Ecumenical Conference, in London, have decided to raise funds in the United States to put a stained glass window in Wesley Chapel, London, to commemorate their visit.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have awarded the contract to Thom-

The Philadelphia Filtration Contracts.

It will be quite a long time yet before Philadelphia can enjoy the benefits resulting from drinking filtered water. The contracts have, indeed, been awarded, and the work has been begun, but the end is by no means yet. The contractor was awarded the contract for the construction of the plants in Roxborough last February and April. He was not the lowest bidder; that, however, does not enter into the present question. But he promised that he would have the work finished in a shorter time than that set down by any of the others who competed against him—namely, in five and nine months. The period for the completion of the first contract expired a fortnight ago, and as yet not half of the work has been finished. Next March has been fixed as the date for completing the second contract; but, unless very much greater haste is made, it will be well into the fall of 1902 before the filter plant can be operated. That this should be so is, of course, altogether the fault of those whose maladministration of civic affairs is so painfully conspicuous in other matters. For reasons best known to themselves those in authority have not seen fit to exact the penalties for the non-fulfillment of other contracts, and the chances are that equally good reasons obtain why the five and nine-month filter contract should not be pushed by those, whose ruling idea is that such contracts are entered into, not for the good of the citizens, but for the contractors—and others.—New York Fire and Water.

VOL. XVI.—No. 40.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

Section 5. A contract made by the owner with one not intended in good faith to be the contractor for the structure or other improvement, shall have no legal effect, except as between the parties thereto, even though written, signed and filed, as hereinafter provided; but such contractor, as to third parties, shall be treated as the agent of the owner.

Section 6. Where labor or materials are furnished for any structure or other improvement for purely public park purposes, in lieu of the lien given by this act any sub-contractor who has furnished labor or materials thereto may give a written and duly sworn notice to the Commonwealth, or any division or sub-division thereof, or any purely public agency thereunder, being the owner of the structure or other improvement, setting forth the facts which would have entitled him to a lien as against the structure or other improvement of a private owner; whereupon, unless such claim be paid by the contractor or adequate security be given or have been given to protect all such claimants, the Commonwealth or the division or sub-division thereof, or purely public agency thereunder, shall pay the balance actually due the contractor into the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the structure or other improvement, or the part thereof, is situate, for distribution to such parties as would be entitled thereto, were it paid into court in the case of a private owner, and the Commonwealth hereby does, and any division or sub-division thereof, or any purely public agency thereunder, may require that any contract for public work shall, as a condition precedent to its award, provide for approved security to be entered by the contractor to protect all such parties. If a dispute arises as to the balance actually due, the amount admitted shall be paid into court, and a suit brought to recover the disputed part, in the name of the contractor to the use of the parties interested, and any amount recovered shall be distributed as above set forth.

Section 7. After the right to file a claim is complete, any owner or contractor may enter a rule, as of course, in the office of the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the proper county, requiring any party named to file his claim within fifteen days after notice of such rule, or be forever thereafter debarred from so doing. Such rule shall be entered and indexed in a docket to be known as the mechanic's lien docket. A failure to file a claim within the time specified shall operate to wholly defeat the right so to do. If a claim be filed, it shall be entered as of the court, term and number of the rule. Pending such rule, and until the claim is finally defeated, the owner may, unless approved security be given to identify him from loss, retain out of any payments due or to become due to the contractor a sum sufficient to protect him from loss.

Section 8. Any sub-contractor intending to file a claim, must give to the owner written notice to that effect, together with a sworn statement setting forth the contract under which he claims, the amount alleged to be still due and how made up, the kind of labor or materials furnished, and the date when the last work was done or materials furnished. Such notice and statement must be served at least one month before the claim is filed, and within three months after the last of his work was done or materials furnished, if he has six months within which to file his claims, and within forty-five days thereafter, if he has but three months within which to file it; but no such notice or statement need be served if the sub-contractor be ruled to file his claim before the expiration of said periods. Service may be made personally on the owner anywhere; but, if he cannot be served in the county where the structure or other improvement is situate, such notice and statement may be served on his architect or agent, or the party in possession of the structure or other improvement; and if there be no architect, agent or party in possession, it may be posted on the most public part of the structure or other improvement. After such notice, and until the claim is finally defeated, the owner may, unless approved security be given to identify him from loss, retain out of any payment due or to become due the contractor a sum sufficient to protect him from loss.

Section 9. An owner served with the notice and sworn statement, aforesaid, may serve a copy thereof upon the party personally liable for the debt therein referred to, with notice that unless such claim is settled within fifteen days thereafter or he is furnished with a sworn statement setting forth wherein it is intended to be disputed, he may pay the same, and deduct the amount thereof from the contract price or hold the contractor personally liable for any loss. If the contractor approve the claim or fail to serve a sworn statement of defence thereto, the owner may before the filing of the claim or at any stage of the proceedings thereon, pay the same and deduct the amount thus paid from the contract price, or hold the contractor liable for any loss. Upon payment of his claim the sub-contractor shall assign or transfer to his owner his claim against the contractor and any note or other collateral security he may have received for its payment. If the contractor give notice of a defence thereto, it shall be his duty to defend any claim filed, at his own expense, and if he fails or refuses so to defend or continue defending it, he shall be liable to the owner for all costs, expenses, charges and the reasonable counsel fees necessary for making such defence, whether successful or not.

Architect Notes.

Plans for a large chemical laboratory for University of Pennsylvania are nearing completion, in the office of Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street.

Seymour Davis & Paul Davis, 907 Walnut street, are preparing plans for a hotel to be built at the intersection of Indiana avenue and the Beach, Atlantic City.

Bids for the new passenger station to be erected at Fort Washington, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, close October 3. Plans of this station were prepared by B. L. Gilbert, architects, 50 Broadway, N. Y.

William McAuley, architect, Real Estate Building, has prepared plans for interior alterations to the house of David B. Martin, at Brandywine Summit. Mr. McAuley is now ready for bids. Plans can be seen at his office.

Fields & Medary, 1414 South Penn Square, have prepared plans for a two-story stone and half timber house to be built at Waukesha, Wis., for Frank R. Putney. The building will measure 56x87 feet, and will cost about $15,000.

Jacob Naschold, architect, Mauhattan Building, has prepared plans for four cottages to be built in Delaware county, N. Y. They will be two stories high and will be built of frame, with shingle roof. Local bidders will be asked to bid.

Isaac Pursell, 199 South Fourth street, has prepared plans for a boiler and laundry house in connection with the City Hospital at Chester, Pa. It will be a one-story building, built of brick with slate roof. Local bidders only will be asked to bid.

Philip H. Johnson, architect, Fidelity Mutual Building, has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for State building for Pennsylvania to be erected at the Charleston Exposition at a cost not to exceed $25,000. It will be Spanish style of architecture.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for interior remodeling of the building 930 Chestnut street, lately purchased by George Allen. The contemplated change includes new bulk windows, new floors, elevator and innumerable minor changes. M. P. Wells Co. are bidding.

Plans are being prepared for a large hall for local Germantown societies. It will be erected on Germantown avenue, above Lehigh avenue. This hall will be one of the best appointed and the largest devoted to singing and entertainment purposes of the many German-American organizations owning their club house.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 2, 1901

Architect Notes.

Paul & Seymour Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, are working on plans for a two story school house to be erected in Chester, Pa. It will be built of brick, with tin roof, and will have all the modern appointments and furnishings of a first-class school house. Local bidders will be asked to bid.

Herman Miller, architect, Crozer Building, will be ready in about two weeks to receive bids for the private hospital for contagious diseases to be erected at Narberth, Pa. The building will be two and one-half stories, built of stone and iron, and will contain all the modern sanitary hospital improvements.

Horace W. Sellers, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has plans in preparation for an extension to the clergy house of the St. Clement's Protestant Episcopal Church, Twentieth and Cherry streets. The building will be three stories high and will be built of brownstone, and will measure 30x65 feet. It will contain all the up-to-date improvements. Will be ready in a short while for bids.

Dull & Coates, architects, 1126 Walnut street, have prepared plans for alterations and an addition to the house of Mrs. David Townsend, 1728 Wallace street. The addition provides for a new bathroom and interior alterations. The same architects are now ready to receive bids on hot water heating and electric wiring to house of Mrs. H. C. Townsend, at Forty-first and Locust streets.

During, Okie & Zeigler, architects, Crozer Building, have finished plans for a two-story frame and stone cottage at Buzzard Bay, Mass., for J. Paul Houghton, and also prepared plans for a building to be used as a general dining room by the occupants of seven or eight cottages in that town. This latter will measure 25x50 feet with a large porch, and will have a rear wing, to be used as servants' quarters and a kitchen. Massachusetts builders will be asked to bid.

Wilson Brothers & Co., Drexel Building, architect and engineers, have completed plans and sent same for estimate for four-story office to be built at Sixth and Perry streets, Reading, Pa., for the Philadelphia & Reading R. R. locomotive and repair shop department. The building will measure 96 feet 4 in x 43 ft 4 in. It is to be built of brick with peaked roof. It will be equipped with the usual office building furnishings. The following is a list of builders that are bidding: J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Geo. F. Payne Co., Ryan & Kelly, Jas. R. Wiggins, Lewis Haven's Sons, W. A. Hurlock & Son, E. S. Whitman, of Alentown; L. H. Focht and G. W. Beard, Co., of Reading, Pa. Bids close October 10.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 719 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a two story stable, to be built of brick with tin roof, and to measure 75x19 feet. It will be arranged with stable on the second floor and wagon and carriage room on the first floor. It is to be erected at 740 South Fourth street. All bids will be taken by the owner, David Goldstein, Third and Fitzwater streets. Has also prepared plans for a stable to be erected at 940 South Eighth street. It will be two stories with tin roof. The first floor will be arranged with stalls and the second floor will be used as a storeroom for wagons and carriages. Bids will be taken by the owner, Pedro Imenez-nelli, at the above address. Mr. Jackson is also at work on plans for some minor alterations to a residence in the city.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are working on plans for the Crane Ice Cream Company's new building, to be erected at 1809-11 Filbert street. The dimensions of the building will be 117 feet 3 inches by 42 feet. It will be four stories and basement. It will be built of brick and iron, slow burning construction. The Filbert street front will be of buff brick. The basement will be used for cold storage, the first floor for ice cream manufacturing, second floor will be a bakery, the third and fourth floors used for storage. Also are working on plans for a two-story frame stable for Mrs. Sarah Williams, to be built at Elkins Station, Pa., on the grounds where her new residence is now being built. It will measure 22x44 feet. First floor will contain four stalls and a carriage room, the second floor hay loft and coachman's quarters.

M. H. & C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, Real Estate Building, are preparing preliminary sketches in competition for the new City Hall to be built at Jacksonville, Fla. The structure will be two stories with a basement. It will be built of brick and terra cotta, and will be T-shape, each wing measuring about 100x40 feet. A prominent feature of the building will be a tower 125 feet high on the front of the building. This will contain clock and bell. The structure will have a vapor heat system and will be lighted by electricity. It will contain offices for all city departments except police and fire, and will also contain chamber for City Council, and a storeroom. The same architects have preliminary sketches in preparation for two suburban houses, to cost about $5000 each and to be built in the Twenty-second ward. They will be two stories, 30x33 feet, in dimensions, on lots measuring 75x150 feet. They will be built of brick and stone, pebble dashed, and will contain all modern conveniences, including vapor heat. Bids will be asked for about the middle of October.

Henry Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a school house and hall for the St. Elizabeth R. C. Church, to be built at Montgomery avenue and Twenty-third street. It will be Romanesque style of architecture, so as to conform in design with the rectory and church. Its main entrance will be on Montgomery avenue. This entrance will have a doorway eight feet wide and flanked on either side with polished granite columns. There will be twenty class rooms on the first and second floors, and the third floor will be used as a hall for entertainments, with a seating capacity of 15,000. In the basement there will be a gymnasium, complete in all its details. It will be built of Port Deposit granite with Indiana limestone trimmings. The dimensions of the building will be 180x66 feet. It will be heated by steam, with best plumbing, wired and lit by electricity, and will have all the furnishings of a first-class school. Will be ready for bids in about one month's time. Mr. Dagit says bids for the Sacred Heart rectory, at Riverton, N. J., will close on October 9. Details of this building in our issue of September 25. At the same office plans have been prepared for Mr. William Reuter, 518 Wood street, for an addition and alterations to house 329 North Sixth street. Addition consists of new two-story back building and interior improvements. Mr. Reuter, of 518 Wood street, will take bids up to October 9.

Anthony M. Zane has sold to William F. Forsyth, representing a New York syndicate, the old Epiphany Church property, at northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, for $601,000 and subject to a mortgage of $500,000. The property has a frontage of 132 feet on Chestnut street and 178 feet on Fifteenth street. According to plans of H. L. A. Jeckel, architect, who is associated with Mr. Forsyth, a seventeen-story office building will occupy the Chestnut street portion, and an eighteen story hotel building will occupy the Fifteenth street portion. The dimensions of the office building will be 132x78 feet, and the hotel building 85x132 feet. A 10-foot alley will separate the two buildings. The plans for the office building are already completed. The first floor will have five stores, 26x78 feet each, facing on Chestnut street. The upper floors will be utilized for office purposes. This office building will contain five elevators and will be lit by electricity. The plans are under way for the hotel building, which will be granite, brick and terra cotta, and will be fireproof in construction. The hotel will have 360 rooms, with baths attached. The first story will comprise a vast lobby, supported upon pillars, after the fashion of the Waldorf-Astoria, with floor of mosaic tiling and walls wainscoted with marble and frescoed in stucco. The dining rooms, cafes and accessories will be located on the first and second floors. The basement will contain Turkish baths and all the modern requirements. They will be arranged to have their own power plant, which will provide heat and light. The cost of the two buildings and lot will approximate $1,000,000. It is rumor that the Fuller Construction Company will do the work.

William Charles Hayes, architect, 1012 Walnut street, has finished plans and sent same out for estimates for a handsome residence to be built at Oak Lane, Pa., for Mr. George W. Stewart. It is to be three stories high and will be built of brick, with shingle roof. The interior will be finished in hardwood. It will be heated with hot air, with best plumbing, wired and lit by electricity, and will have all modern improvements. Dimensions of building, 50x70 feet.

Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, has finished plans for an extension to office building for the Schuylkill Arsenal, Gray's Ferry road and Washington avenue. It is to be built of brick, to match the brick work that was done in 1900. It is to be one story high and to have all modern appointments of a first-class building. It is to measure 100x15 feet. Plans can be seen at the Arsenal. All bids to be sent to Colonel Furey, southeast corner of Fifteenth and Arch streets, before 11 A. M., October 14.

The Wyncoote Country Club will shortly erect a modern club house at Wyncoote, Pa., which in point of beauty will compare favorably with any of the suburban club houses. The building will be two stories, of old English brick and shingles. The first floor will be devoted to a reception hall, as well as a billiard and smoking room and dining apartments. In the basement will be shuffleboards, shower baths and locker room. The house is to be erected on the club grounds north of Washington lane. Estimates will be asked for soon on this work.

Deeds were recorded yesterday whereby the property at the northeast corner of Filbert and Juniper streets was conveyed by Pierce Archer to Frank A. Barnett. The consideration was $150,000. The lot measures 42x150 feet. This building was for a number of years used as a school by La Salle College, and later used by the city as a gas office. It is now used by an automobile company. This is one of the most available sites near the City Hall. The purchaser represents a Pittsburgh syndicate, and it is rumored that a large office building is to be erected thereon.

Caldwell & Simon, 1229 Walnut street, are preparing plans for a factory to be built in the northwestern section of the city. The structure will be two stories, fireproof, steel and frame construction. It will measure 150x50 feet. The name of the owner and the exact location are withheld for the present. Also designs for a summer residence and a launch house to be built at Atlantic City, N. J., for a Philadelphian. The residence will be three stories, built of frame, with stone foundation, shingle roof and will contain all the latest and most modern improvements. The residence will be surrounded by a porch. Will be ready to receive bids on factory and residence in about two weeks.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Stacey Reeves & Son, builders, have been awarded the contract to make general improvements to house 1313 Spruce street, from plans and specifications of Charles Hillman, architect, Provident Building.

VOL. XVI.—No. 41.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

Section 10. In the case of tenancies or leasehold estates, of alterations and repairs, and of fitting up or equipping old structures with machinery, gearing, boilers, engines, cars or other useful appliances, the claim must be filed in the Court of Common Pleas of the county or counties in which the structure or other improvement is situate, within three months after the claimant's contract or agreement is completed; and in all other cases, within 6 months thereafter; and when filed, it shall be entered and indexed in the mechanic's lien docket. Upon it a writ of scire facias must issue within two years, unless the owner, by writing filed before the expiration of that time, waive the necessity for so doing for a further period, not exceeding three years; and a verdict must be recovered or judgment entered on the scire facias within five years after it is issued. Final judgment must be entered on the verdict within five years after its recovery. After judgment is entered, it must be revived by writ of scire facias to revive the judgment or by judgment thereon, within each recurring period of five years, if a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid, or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the times aforesaid, it shall be wholly lost.

Section 11. Such claim may be filed by any person, persons, firm association or corporation furnishing labor or materials to such structure or other improvement, and shall set forth:

1. The name of the claimant.
2. The name of the owner of the structure or other improvement and property.
3. The name of the party with whom the claimant contracted, and if not the owner, then whether or not such party contracted directly with the owner.
4. A copy of his contract or contracts, if in writing, or a statement of the terms and conditions thereof, if any of them are verbal.
5. The kind and character of the labor or materials furnished, or both, and whether the lien is claimed against the fee itself, or a lesser estate or interest therein.
6. When the contract is with other than the owner, or not for an agreed sum, a detailed statement of the kind and character of the labor or materials furnished, or both, and the prices charged for each thereof.
7. The amount, or sum claimed to be still due and chargeable against the particular property showing how that amount or sum is made up, and whether the claimant has any note or other collateral security for his claim, and if so, what it is.
8. A description of the property against which the lien is claimed, together with such a description of the structure or other improvement as may be necessary for the purpose of identification.

9. When the claimant first furnished labor or materials thereto, and when he last did so.

10. From what date the lien is claimed, and, if from a time preceding the filing of the claim, the reason why such date is selected.

11. When the contract is with other than the owner, or the claim is for alterations or repairs, or for fitting up old structures with machinery, gearing, boilers, engines, cars or other useful appliances, when and how notice was given to the owner of an intention to file the claim.

Attached to the claim shall be a statement, signed, and sworn to or affirmed to, by the parties claimant or some one of them, or by one of their principal or executive officers, or by some one for them, if the facts be better known by such third party, that all the facts therein set forth are true so far as they are within his own knowledge; and so far as they are derived by information from others; that he has made a careful examination and inquiry as to the truth thereof, and as a result of such examination and inquiry he believes them to be true. If the affidavit be made by a third party, the reason therefor shall be stated in the affidavit.

Section 12. If the labor or materials be furnished continuously in the erection and construction of, addition to, or removal of a structure or other improvement, the claimant may file a single claim, though furnished under more than one contract, with the same effect as if furnished continuously under a single contract. A single claim may be filed against more than one structure or other improvement, if they are all intended to form part of one plant. No apportioned claim shall hereafter be allowed, but separate claims, with the amount due determined by apportionment, may be filed as herein set forth.

Section 13. The lien of every claim for the alteration of or repair to a structure or other improvement, or for fitting up old structures with machinery, gearing, boilers, engines, cars, or other useful appliances, shall take effect as of the date of its filing, and shall be paid out of the proceeds of a judicial sale of the property described therein, in preference to any estate, charge or lien of which the claimant had not actual or constructive notice at that time, except municipal or tax claims and the exemption allowed by law; but such lien shall be wholly lost if the property be conveyed, in good faith and for a valuable consideration, prior to the filing of the claim. In all other cases, the lien of the claim shall take effect as of the date of the visible commencement, upon the ground, of the work of the building the structure or other improvement and shall be paid out of the proceeds of a judicial sale of the property described therein in preference to any estate, charge or lien of which the claimant had not actual or constructive notice at that time, except municipal and tax claims and the exemption allowed by law. An estate, charge or lien of which the claimant had actual or constructive notice before the date of such visible commencement, upon ground, if given to secure advances of money, knowingly to be furnished for the purpose of making the improvement in whole or in part, shall have, with prior liens and encumbrances, a preferential claim upon the funds raised by a judicial sale of said property, to the extent only of the actual value of the property immediately prior to such visible commencement of the work; but the proceeds of such sale, above such value, shall be applied to the payment of the mechanic's claim in preference to such estate, charge or lien. The lien of every such claim shall bind only the interest of the party named as owner of the property at the time of the contract or subsequently acquired by him; but no forfeiture or surrender of a leasehold or tenancy, whether before or after filing the claim, shall operate to prejudice its lien against the fixtures, machinery, or other similar property described therein.

Attorney at Law,

Architect Notes.

Frank Miles Day & Bros., architects, 925 Chestnut street, are working on plans for a new home for the Children's Seaside Home, to be erected at Chelsea, N. J.

It is reported that a handsome apartment house will be erected in the neighborhood of Sixteenth and Walnut streets in this city. A Philadelphia architect is at work on plans. Will announce details later.

Brouse & Arend, architects, 331 Chestnut street, have made plans and are taking bids on an exchange to be built in Trenton, N. J., for the Interstate Telephone Company. Local builders will be asked to bid.

It is rumored that a handsome fireproof hotel in the near future will be erected on the east side of Broad street, near Poplar, by a New York syndicate. We understand as yet no architect has been engaged.

It is expected that some settlement will be arranged this week in regard to the building of the Stock Exchange, at Third and Walnut streets. It might possibly be that the revised plans will be decided upon, or the amount might be increased so that it can be built under the present plans.

Lawrence Visscher Boyd has completed plans for some artistic alterations to Archibald Waterhouse's residence, 1521 Locust street. A new front, consisting of English redstone base, followed by a Pompeian brick facing, trimmed with marble and terra cotta, besides a balcony of yellow and red Italian marble in the third story, is the work contemplated. W. R. D. Ugherty and Maguire & Emery are bidding.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 42.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

Section 14. Upon the petition of any claimant having or being entitled to a lien, the actual value of the property bound by such advance money, estate, charge or lien, and the amount of the advances actually made, shall be determined prior to a judicial sale of the property, a stay being granted for that purpose should justice so require; but if application be not made prior to the sale, the same shall be determined upon the distribution of the fund realized thereby. And the court upon petition of any such claimant, may also require that a tract of land about to be sold at judicial sale, part of which is bound by or liable for such claim, shall be so divided that the part which is so bound or liable shall be sold separately from the rest of the tract, if it can equitably be done; and, if not, then it, or an auditor appointed after the sale, shall determine the relative value of the part bound by and that free of the claim, and the fund realized shall be distributed accordingly.

Section 15. The right to file a claim may be waived by agreement between the claimant and the party with whom he contracts, or by any conduct which operates to equitably estop the claimant. If the legal effect of the contract between the owner and the contractor is, that no claim shall be filed by any one, such provision shall be binding; but the only admissible evidence thereof, as against a sub-contractor, shall be proof of actual notice thereof to him, before any labor or materials furnished by him, or proof that a duly written and signed contract to that effect has been filed in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county or counties where the structure or other improvement is situate, prior to the commencement of the work upon the ground, or within ten days after the execution of the principal contract, or not less than ten days prior to the contract with the claimant. The only admissible evidence that such a provision has, notwithstanding its filing, been waived in favor of the claimant, shall be a written agreement to that effect, signed by all those who, under the contract, are interested antagonistically to the claimant's allegation. The giving of credit or the receiving of collateral security shall not operate to waive the right to file a claim; but shall delay voluntary proceedings thereon by the claimant until the time of credit shall have expired. A release signed by the claimant shall not operate as a waiver of the right to file a claim for labor or materials subsequently furnished, unless it shall appear thereby that such was the express intent of the party signing the same, but such release shall be so construed as to fully carry out that intent.

Section 16. Where a contract between the owner and contractor provides that payment shall be made in other than legal tenders, such contract shall have no legal effect as against the sub-contractor or those claiming under him, unless actual notice thereof shall have been given the claimant or use claimant before any labor or materials furnished by him; or a duly written and signed contract to that effect shall have been filed in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county or counties where the structure or other improvement is situate, prior to the commencement of the work upon the ground, or within ten days after the execution of the principal contract, or not less than ten days prior to the contract with the claimant. Such provision of the contract shall not bar the right to file a claim to recover the amount due in legal tenders, but the owner may file a petition, under oath or affirmation, setting forth the facts, under the term and number of the claim first filed, and making all the parties who have filed or are entitled to file claims parties respondent, and praying appropriate relief; whereupon the court shall grant a rule to show cause why the relief prayed for should not be allowed. The court shall from the pleadings, aided as to the material disputed facts, if any, by depositions or by a hearing at bar, make such order or decree as to the facts shall warrant. If the court shall find that payment was agreed to be made in other than legal tenders, it shall decree that upon the owner complying with his part of the agreement, within such time as the court shall designate, all the claims filed or which shall thereafter be filed by the parties respondent, as to whom the owner has not waived his right, shall be stricken from the record; and the payments to be made by the owner in other than legal tenders shall be made liable by the decree of the court to the parties interested in the same manner and to the same extent as the structure or other improvement itself would have been if no such provision had appeared in the contract, and distribution shall be made as herein set forth and upon equitable principles. Other parties interested may intervene at any time before actual distribution. Should other parties than the respondents subsequently file claims, such claims shall be stricken off, upon motion of the owner, unless it be proved that the claimant did not know of the pendency of said payments actually made, through ignorance thereof; or, that the owner knew of the rights of the claimant in time for him to intervene, and yet gave him no notice of the proceedings, in which event the claim shall be proceeded on as if no such provision appeared in the contract.

Section 17. When the contract between the owner and the contractor provides that the payments shall only be made at given times, such contract shall be efficacious as against the sub-contractor or those claiming under him, if actual notice thereof shall have been given to the claimant or use claimant, before any labor done or labor or materials furnished by him, or a duly written and signed contract to that effect shall have been filed in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county or counties where the structure or other improvement is situate, prior to the commencement of the work upon the ground, or within ten days after the execution of the principal contract, or not less than ten days prior to the contract with the claimant. If the contract be written, signed and filed within the times above set forth, and the owner complies with his part thereof, the structure or other improvement shall not be liable to claims in the aggregate in excess of the balance of the contract price remaining unpaid, or which should have remained unpaid, whichever is greatest in amount at the time notice was first given the owner of an intention to claim a lien upon such property, such notice if given in good faith, inuring to the benefit of all claimants. The court shall stay all executions upon judgments recovered upon such claims if payments are not due, and the owner may pay into court the whole balance found due under said contract, in accordance with the provisions of this section; whereupon the court shall order the claims to be stricken off upon petition, answer and replication, in the manner and with the effect provided herein in cases where payment is to be made in other than legal tenders.

Attorney at Law,
Stephen Girard Building.

Architect Notes.

Savery & Sheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are preparing sketch for alteration to house at Wilmington, Del. Local builders will be asked to bid.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, will prepare revised plans for court-house to be erected at Norristown, Pa. It will be two stories high and will be built of stone with slate roof. Will be ready in a short while for bids.

A tower is to be erected on the St. Elizabeth P. E. Church of this city; it is to be built of brick, stone and marble 18 feet square and 100 feet high, designed by Bailey & Truscott, architects. The following builders are bidding: Jacob Myers & Son, John R. Wiggins, William R. Dougherty and Machin & Brown.

There is no truth in the statement of the daily papers that Joseph Flynn, architect, Harrison Building, is preparing plans for a church building, to be located at Reading, Pa., to cost $75,000. In an interview with Mr. Flynn he says that he has not been commissioned to prepare any plans for such a building.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. OCT. 16. 1901

Architect Notes.

Wilson Bros. & Co., architects, Drexel Building, have started to prepare plans for the magnificent mausoleum for the estate of the late Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the millionaire dentist. This mausoleum was described in one of our recent issues.

Mantle Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street, is preparing plans for a large country house to be erected in Ridgefield, Conn. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick and stone. The owner's name and other details will be given later.

H. L. Reinhold, architect, 430 Walnut street, has prepared plans for alterations and improvements to the residence of Charles J. Miller, of the firm of A. & C. J. Miller, at Cape May, N. J. Also engaged in preparing sketches for hospital to be built in Chester, Pa.

Wesley Leshner Blithe, architect, 14 South Broad street, is working on preliminary drawings for a three-story stone angle-wing to be built to a country residence in Marple, Delaware county. The addition will measure 22x34 feet. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has sent out plans for a stable and laundry building to be erected for Samuel Rea, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The structure will be one and a half stories and will be built of stone with shingle r.o.f. Stacey Reeves & Sons are bidding.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1205 Chestnut street, has plans in course of preparation for an addition and alteration to the St. James Hotel at Asbury Park, N. J. The addition will consist of adding new story with general interior improvements. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

Watson K. Phillips, architect, 430 Walnut street, has plans nearly completed for an addition to the Springfield Presbyterian Church, at Flourtown, Pa. It will measure 50x30 feet and will conform to the architectural design of the present building. Will be ready for bids in about a week's time.

Philip Johnson, architect and engineer, Fidelity Building, is working on plans for a $25,000 fire house to be erected on Parrish street west of Fifteenth street. It will be a three story and basement structure and will be built of brick and stone and will have all the improvements of an up-to-date fire house.

Philip H. Johnson, architect, Fidelity Building, will prepare revised plans for the three new buildings for the Pennsylvania Hospital in a short time, and as soon as completed will ask for estimates. When estimates were asked previously bids exceeded the appropriation, which is $80,000 for the three buildings.

Charles Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building, is preparing plans for twin houses, to be erected at Wildwood, N. J. They will be three stories and basement, and will be built of frame with brick foundation. The interior will be finished in hardwood, heated by hot air, wired for electricity, with best plumbing, and to have all the modern improvements. Will measure 45x55 feet for both. Will be ready for bids the early part of next week.

Rowland Boyle, architect, Perry Building, is preparing plans for a laboratory building for the Lady of Victory School, to be erected at Fifty-fourth and Vine streets. It will be one story high, will be built of limestone and Pompeian brick, and will measure 24x32 feet. It will have all the necessary equipments for a building of that kind. Will take bids the latter part of the week.

M. H. & C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, Real Estate Building, are preparing preliminary plans for a four-story cold storage building to be erected south of Mason and Dixon lines. The building will be built of brick, with terra cotta trimmings, and will measure 100x200 feet. It will contain a complete equipment, such as condenser, ammonia pumps, engines, etc., and will cost between $75,000 and $100,000. Will be ready for bids in a little while.

Stern & Castor, architects, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a new building for the Frankford Real Estate and Safe Deposit Company, to be erected on the site of the old Second National Bank of Frankford, Frankford avenue below Unity street, which is to be torn down. The new building will measure 35x125 feet and will be built of granite. It will contain fire and burglar-proof vaults with safe deposit compartments, private booths for the use of patrons and the usual office necessities for such an institution.

Amos Barnes, architect and engineer, has prepared plans for the extensive alteration and addition to the building, 1414 Arch street, for the Grand Fraternity. They provide for new front and a three story rear addition and extensive interior improvements, and a steam heating plant. The following builders are asked to bid: Harry Kuemmerle, John O'Donnell, Lewis Havens & Sons, F. M. Harris & Son, Machlu & Brown, Burd P. Evans, Wm. R. Dougherty and Theodore Keeney. Bids due October 21st.

McIlvaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building, are preparing plans for a stable to be erected at Ardmore, Pa., for Matthew Baird, Jr. It will be two stories and will be built of stone and half-timber, and will be old English in design. It will contain six stalls and carriage house. Part of the first floor and second floor will be fitted up for living quarters for coachman. It will have all the latest improvements of a first-class stable. Will be ready in a couple of days for estimates on same.

Alfred Kelsey, of the firm of Kennedy & Kelsey, architects, of 331 Chestnut street, of this city, has been appointed a member of the special committee of the Municipal Art Society, of New York, to negotiate with the authorities controlling the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to be held in St. Louis in 1903 with respect to the construction of a model city on the grounds. Mr. Kelsey was thus honored by the New York Society because he is the originator of the scheme. The committee is as follows: John De Witt Warner, Charles C. Haight, Charles R. Lamb, designer of the Dewey Arch, and William S. Crandall, all of New York, and Alfred Kelsey, of this city.

Preliminary plans have been prepared for a large eight story apartment house, which it is proposed to erect on the Tatnall property, east side of Jefferson street, between Tenth street and Delaware avenue, Wilmington, Del. The building is to be somewhat similar to those facing Central Park, New York City. It will include a roof garden and cafe, which will be conducted after metropolitan ideas. It will have steel framework with brick and stone walls, and will be fireproof throughout. It will cover an area of 100 feet on Jefferson street and will be 150 feet deep. There will be 25 bachelor apartments comprising bed-rooms, library and bath-rooms and 20 other apartments ranging from 4 to 6 room each. The dining-room, including the cafe, is to be on top floor. There will be also elevators and lifts. Preliminary bids will be asked soon. Mr. Frank Tatnall, 720 Girard Building, Philadelphia, has the matter in charge.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, is preparing plans for new church for the Evangelical Lutheran Church to be erected on the corner of Forty-Seventh and Kingessing avenue. It will be built of brick with slate roof. The interior will be finished in oak. It will contain marble altars and will have stained glass windows, wired for electricity, and will be heated by steam. It will measure 100x70 feet and will be Romanesque in design. In same office taking bids on a colonial residence to be built for Mr. Joseph Kean, at Bellevue, Del. It will be three stories high, built of brick with shingle roof. The interior will be in hardwood finish, with tiled bath room, and heated by steam, and will contain all the latest improvements. Also taking bids for a stable for Mr. A. A. Sterling to be erected at Glen Summit, Pa. It will be two-story frame stable with stone foundation, with shingle roof. The first floor will contain stalls with carriage room etc. The second floor will be equipped as living quarters for coachman. The stable will contain all the appointments of a first class stable.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A. Raymond Raff will rebuild the property of Messrs. Paxson, Comfort & Co., at 519 Arch street, that was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

Plans for same were made by Architect Walter Smedley, Stephen Girard Building, and show a two-story stone building with all conveniences. Bids are due October 16th.

Mr. Taylor, who recently purchased all the ground and houses of the operation at that handsome suburb of Lanarch, Pa., will do away with the central plant which has been supplying the steam to these houses on the order of the Overbrook plant, and in future all houses will have to be equipped with their own heating devices.

Philip Anns Company, 1001 Chestnut street, are bidding for a new building to be erected at Trenton, N. J., for the Interstate Telephone Company. Plans for same were made by Architects Brouse & Arend, 931 Chestnut street, and show a three-story and basement brick structure, with stone trimmings, measuring 125x42 feet, containing all conveniences. Bids are due October 14.

Burd P. Evans, 706 North Ninth street, has been awarded the contract to erect the new church edifice for the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Apostles, at Park and Susquehanna avenues. It will be a stone structure and contain usual church conveniences. Architects Charles W. Bolton & Co., Witherspoon Building, made the plans for same.

Henry A. Buzby, builder, 5153 Wakefield street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Horace E. Moore, to be erected in Germantown, Philadelphia. Details of this house in one of our recent issues, from plans and specifications of Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, Twelfth and Chestnut streets.

Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, are bidding on the lumber, carpenter work, hardware, painting, galvanized iron and tin work, roofing, miscellaneous iron work and cut stone work for the Pennsylvania Sugar Refinery Company, according to plans by the George M. Newhall Engineering Company, Limited, engineers and architects, 136 South Fourth street. Bids due October 23.

William K. Gilton, builder, has been awarded the contract to build new bank building at Langhorn, Pa., for the National Bank of Langhorn, Pa. It will be built of stone and brick, with green, flat roof, two story high, interior to be hardwood finish, to be heated by steam heat, wired for electricity, to have electric fixtures to cost about $160,000. Thomas Stephens, architect, of Camden, N. J., has prepared plans.

Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, are taking bids for the carpentry and mill work to the extension to the business premises of Messrs. Gimbel Bros., on Market, Eighth and Ransstead streets, according to plans by Architect Francis H. Kimball, 71 Broadway, New York City. The building of window frames, ladies' waiting room, freight elevator shaft doors, fire towers, stairs and show windows are included in the work.

The contract for the Pennsylvania Building at Charleston, S. C., for the Exposition there has been awarded to McCarrell & Sloan, of Charleston, for $11,500. The structure will be staff work of Spanish design and will measure 100x80 feet, with a circular court of 50 feet in diameter, surrounded by a colonnade. There will be four towers, each 50 feet high, one at each corner of the building. The interior will be of ornamental tiled plaster work.

George Deane, builder, 939 South Seventh street, has been awarded the contract to build the bonded warehouse to be erected at Tenth street and Girard avenue. DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE, BUILDING, ARCHITECTURAL AND INSURANCE INTERESTS

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 43.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

Section 18. The sub-contractor shall be bound to the extent of the notice given by the contract filed, though it be but part of the entire contract or contracts between the owner and contractor. When filed the Prothonotary shall enter it in the judgment index in the name of the contractor, and shall be responsible for any neglect of duty in that regard as in other cases.

Section 19. When any contract for labor or materials to be furnished to a structure or other improvements shall be so drawn as to affect or in any manner impair the rights and remedies given to a claimant or use claimant, or to postpone the time of payment for a period exceeding six months after the last of the labor or materials are furnished, it shall be the duty of the party making such contract, whether duly written, signed and filed or not, to give actual notice thereof to those contracting with him prior to the time of the making of the contract with or the employment of such party. A failure so to do shall be sufficient ground for a rescission of the contract by the party thereto ignorant of the fact, and the recovery by him pro rata, by lien or otherwise, for the labor or materials furnished to the time of rescission. And the same right of recovery, by lien or otherwise, shall exist where the structure or other improvement is never completed, but through no fault of the claimant, unless it be destroyed by fire or other casualty.

Section 20. Where proceedings in bankruptcy or insolvency are instituted by or against any contractor or owner they shall operate to suspend all proceedings upon any contract or sub contract with him for labor to be done or labor or materials to be furnished to the structure or other improvement, and if he be adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent, or if he should die, then such contractor or sub-contractor may, at his option, refuse to proceed further under his contract; and such contractor or sub-contractor may, upon the happening of any such contingency, by notice to those contracting with him, suspend and end his contracts with such third parties, who shall have a like right, and so on down to the last party connected with the structure or other improvement. When any such contract has been suspended or ended, the right to file a claim, or to sue, under the contract, shall remain, and may be exercised with the same effect as if further proceedings, under such contract, had been determined, by consent of all parties.

Section 21. Within one month after the filing of the claim the claimant shall serve a notice upon the owner of the fact of the filing of the claim, giving the court term and number and the date of filing thereof, and shall file of record in said proceedings an affidavit, setting forth the fact and manner of such service. A failure to serve such notice and file an affidavit thereof within the time specified shall be sufficient ground for striking off the claim.

Section 22. Where a claim has been filed which includes unpaid items of labor or materials furnished by one who contracts with the claimant, whether or not such party is himself entitled to file a claim against the property of such party, may at any time before actual payment or satisfaction of the claim file of record in said proceeding a petition, under oath or affirmation, setting forth how his interest arises and the extent thereof, and praying that he be substituted as a use claimant to the extent of said interest, but not exceeding the balance due the claimant; whereupon the court shall grant a rule upon the claimant, the owner and the contractor to show cause why the relief prayed for should not be allowed. The court shall from the pleadings, aided as to the material dispute, make such order or decree as the facts shall warrant. If there be a dispute as to the amount to which the petitioner is entitled as against the claimant, that dispute shall be settled upon the distribution of the fund paid on account of said claim, or by a suit at common law, if such a suit shall have been brought, or by an issue in said proceedings, and the court may make such order in relation to the matter as upon equitable principles should be made. After a copy of said petition and rule shall have been served upon the owner or contractor payments made by him, or a release or discharge given by the claimant, shall not defeat or in any manner affect the rights of the use claimant, but in no other respects, the trial of any issue upon the claim shall be as if between the claimant and defendants only.

Section 23. Any party having a lien against estate in or charge upon the property included in such claim may file his petition, under oath or affirmation, averring that the date mentioned in the claim as the time when the structure or other improvement was commenced is incorrect, or that the claim is filed against more land than should be justly included therein, or that for any reason the claim is postponed to the rights of the petitioner, and praying an appropriate decree; whereupon the court shall grant a rule upon such claimant to show cause why the relief prayed for should not be allowed, and shall stay proceedings on the claim pending the hearing of the rule, should justice so require. At the instance of others than those personally served with the seire facias such rule shall be allowed, though judgment be recovered on the claim. The court shall from the pleadings, aided as to the material disputed facts, if any, by depositions or by a hearing at bar, make such order or decree as the facts shall warrant. Like proceedings shall be had if the petition shall aver that the claim is for any reason invalid, has been paid, waived or released, or should not legally or equitably be allowed as a claim against the property; but the material disputed facts in such cases, if any, shall at the request of either party be tried by a jury without further pleadings, when such request is granted by the court, the fact whereof shall be entered on the judgment index as a lis pendens, with the same effect as if a writ of seire facias had duly issued upon said claim.

Section 24. Any person having an interest in the property described in the claim whether existing at the time of the claimant's contract or acquired subsequently thereto, may, by agreement of the parties or by leave of the court, intervene as a party defendant and make defence thereto, with the same effect as if he had been originally named as a defendant in the claim filed. And the claimant may, by writing, filed at his cost, strike off the name of any defendant therein, and may substitute as a defendant, and issue a seire facias against any person who may have acquired an interest as owner after the time of said contract, or who is the personal representative of an owner or contract who has died, either before or after filing the claim, but such substitution shall always be without prejudice to any intervening rights.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 23, 1901

THE Supreme Court has very wisely decided the Board of Revision of Taxes Ripper bill unconstitutional. This will retain the present board, as at present organized, for three years at least. Justice Mitchell handed down the decision, and the court was unanimous.

Architect Notes.

John Flynn, architect, Harrison Building, has sent out revised plans for the addition to Mrs. Egan's residence in West Philadelphia.

At Turtle Creek, Pa., Architect S. C. Richards has been selected to prepare plans for a municipal building to be erected on Grant street. The cost will be about $10,000.

Walter Sm-dley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has prepared plans for a four-story brick rear addition to Henry F. Chorley's place at 117 Market street, and is now taking bids.

Wilson & Lindermans, McKeesport, Pa., have prepared plans for a frame hotel to be erected at Monessen, Pa., for Brahinger & Foster. It will be well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences.

Revised bids are being taken on stock house and cleaning pit and locomotive repair shops at Reading, Pa., for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. Plans and specifications by Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building.

It is rumored that Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, will prepare plans for a new office building to be erected on Chestnut street adjoining the new proposed office building that is to be erected on the old Epiphany site.

H. Morse, Jr., architect, Drexel Building, has designed a municipal hospital for Camden, N. J., and the plans have been approved by the Board of Health. There are to be an administration building, two ward buildings, a laundry building and stable. The exact location and further details later.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Son, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, are preparing plans for three stores to be built at Fifty-second street, between Walnut and Chancellor streets, for Mr. D. J. Lindsay. These houses will take up a frontage of 155 feet on Fifty-second street, will be built of brick and stone and have all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids about October 24th.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has completed drawings for two ornate two and one half story dwellings to measure 50 feet 4 in. x 32 feet, to be erected at Bala, Pa., for Samuel Smedley, real estate operator. These houses will have gabled shingle roof with all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids shortly.

J. C. M. Shirk, architect, 421 Chestnut street, has prepared plans for an automobile house for W. D. Grange to be erected at his residence, Green street near Walnut lane, Germantown. It will be one story high and will be built of brick with shingle roof. It will have cement floor and will have all the appointments of that kind of a building.

Seymour & Paul Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, are at work on plans for parking house and abattoir for the Reading Cold Storage and Ice Company to be built at Reading, Pa. It will be built of brick and iron three stories high and will be fireproof in construction. Will measure 15 x 150 feet and will cost about $10,000. Will be ready for bids in about three weeks.

Eugene A. McMurray, 22 Clinton street, Newark, N. J., has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected at Newark for Mrs. Emma Selts. It will be of brick, clapboards and shingle, with slate roof, fine interior finish, grill work, plate glass in doors, leaded glass, enamelled bath tub, nickel plumbing and steam heat. The estimated cost is about $4,500. Contract not yet awarded.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, are preparing plans for a handsome residence for Mrs. McClintock, to be erected at Haverford, Pa. It will be built of frame with stone foundation and will have a shingle roof. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be wired for electricity, and will have all the latest and modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Duhring, Okle & Ziegler, architects, Crozer Building, are preparing plans for a number of model workmen's dwellings to be built in Switzerland for a watch manufacturing company established there. Six houses will be built as an experiment. The project was suggested by the president of a local manufacturing concern during a recent trip through Switzerland. Work will be done by the builders of that country.

At Homestead, Pa., J. B. Knoch, Eighth avenue, has prepared plans for a four-story brick bakery for the Wohlforth Bakery Company to be erected on Seventh avenue, Homestead. It will have electric lights, steam heat and all modern appliances. The cost will be $20,000.—Architect A. Vernon has prepared plans for an addition to the Getzinger store, Eleventh avenue and West street; also plans for a brick dwelling to be erected on Ninth street for Patrick Tierney.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has prepared plans and is taking estimates on alteration and addition to the residence of Mr. William A. Lathrop at Wilkesbarre, Pa. The addition includes new wing, new room and general interior improvements. Local builders are bidding. Also has plans on board for an amusement building for the Briarcliff Lodge, West Chester county, New York. It will contain swimming pool, 30x100 feet, two bowling alleys, shuffle board, billiard room, dining room and locker room.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, have sent plans to builders for estimates for the new building to be erected at 1811 and 1813 Filbert street for the Crane Ice Cream Company. Details of this building in one of our recent issues. The following is the complete list of builders that will be asked to bid: Cramp & Co., Doyle & Doak, W. R. Dougherty, R. Monroe Stout, Stacey Reeves & Sons, Burd P. Evans, A. Raymond Raff, John R. Wiggins, Geo. F. Payne & Co., H. B. Shoemaker & Co., Wade & Gilpin. All bids due October 28th.

Geo. I. Lovatt, architect, 424 Walnut street, is working on preliminary sketches for a new church for St. Peter's R. C. Church to be built at Columbia, S. C. It is to be built of stone, French gothic in design and will seat about 600 people. It will cost $45,000. Also at work on plans for a new rectory for same church at the same place. Also working on drawings and specifications for a Study Hall for St. Joseph's College at Montgomery, Ala. It will be built of brick and stone and steel frame and will measure 10x30 feet. Local builders will be asked to bid.

Rush Anderson Plowman, architect, Betz Building, has prepared plans and sent same to builders for estimates for six stores and four dwellings to be built at Forty-seventh and Woodland avenue for Nathan B. Crenshaw. The six stores will face on Woodland avenue. They will be three stories high and will be built of brick with buff brick fronts and will contain all the latest modern improvements. The four dwellings will face on Forty-seventh street. They will also be built of brick with buff brick fronts and will have front porches. Interior will be finished in hardwood, with best plumbing, heated by hot air, wired for electricity and will have all the modern improvements. The following builders are asked to bid: Harry Kuemmerle, M. P. Wells & Co. and Hiram Miller & Sons. All bids due October 25th.

Caldwell & Simon, architects, 1229 Walnut street, have completed plans for a large addition to Richard Thorpe's factory, known as the Irwell Mills, at 1657 Meadow street, Frankford. The addition will be two stories high, built of brick and stone and will measure 43x139 feet, 4 inches. It will be used as a dye-house and two finishing rooms. The following builders are bidding: Kendrick & Roberts, 1205 Chestnut street; Thos. M. Seeds, 1216 Race street; Samuel Altermus, Olney, Pa.; Geo. W. Pierson, Lippincott Building. Bids close October 25th. Also in the same office are preparing plans for a handsome residence to be built for G. R. Robinson at Swarthmore, Pa. It will be three stories high, the first story will be stone and the balance will be rough cast and will have shingle roof. The interior will be finished in hardwood, will be wired for electricity with electric fixtures and will have all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids on or about October 30th.

Trustees of the Girard estate have inaugurated one of the most gigantic improvements in the city's history. The old Girard farm in South Philadelphia, whose broad acres have for years been practically idle, is to be opened up. It is proposed to close up Penn avenue where it runs diagonally through the farm and to open up East and West streets from Eighteenth to Twenty-third streets. Streets at right angles to them are to be opened from Passayunk avenue to Montgomery avenue and to Pollock street. The first streets to be opened will be Nineteenth and Twenty-first streets. The trustees will pave the street and place curbing on same. In a very short while they will start to build handsome and modern houses. The ordinance is now in the hands of a sub-committee of council and as soon as it is granted work will be started on these streets. It is the intention of the trustees to present to the city a site of ground bounded by Twenty-first, Shunk, Porter and Twenty-second streets. It is on this site that the old farmhouse occupied by Girard is. This building will be preserved in its present condition and walks will be laid out as a public park to be known as Girard Park. VOL. XVI.—No. 44. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

The Mechanics Lien Law under Act of June 4, 1901, besides repealing all former Lien Laws, provides also as follows:

Section 25. Any defendant named in the claim or any person allowed to intervene and defend thereagainst may present his petition under oath or affirmation, setting forth that he has a defence in whole or in part thereto, and of what it consists; and praying that a rule be granted upon the claimant to file an affidavit of the amount claimed by him, and to show cause why the petitioner should not have leave to enter security or pay money into court in lieu of the claim; whereupon a rule shall be granted as prayed for. Upon the pleadings filed, or from the claim and the affidavit of defence has been filed, the court shall determine how much of the claim is admitted or not sufficiently denied, and shall enter a decree that, upon the payment by such petitioner to the claimant of the amount thus found to be due with interest and costs, if anything be found to be due, or upon payment into court, if the claimant refuses to accept the same, and upon entering approved security in at least double the balance claimed and probable costs; or, upon payment into court of a sum sufficient to cover the balance claimed, with interest and costs, that such claim shall be wholly discharged as a lien against the property described therein, and shall be stricken from the judgment index. Thereafter the material disputed facts, if any, shall be tried by a jury, without further pleadings, with the same effect as if a writ of scire facias has duly issued upon said claim to recover the balance thereof, but the jury shall be sworn to try the issues between the claimant and the parties signing the bond, or between the claimant and the party who paid the fund into court, as the case may be; and verdict, judgment and execution shall follow as in an action commenced at common law.

Section 26. Any claim filed or to be filed under the provisions of this act may be assigned or transferred to a third party, either absolutely or as collateral security; but no such assignment or transfer shall impair or in any manner affect the rights of use claimants or give the assignee any other rights than his assignor had. Payment to the claimant of the amount of his claim, or the finishing of the contract by one who is a guarantor or surety of or for the claimant, unless such guaranty or suretyship inures to the benefit of the owner, shall operate as an equitable assignment of the claim, with a paramount equity in his favor as against any other assignee, but a secondary right as against any defendant or use claimant. In either case if the claim be not already filed, the assignee may file it in the name of the assignor to his use. If it be already filed, it shall be marked to the use of the assignee.

Section 27. No structure or other improvement bound by or liable for any such claim shall be removed or detached from the premises on which it is bound, pending the determination of the validity of such claim and its payment if adjudged to be valid, unless by virtue of a title obtained by judicial sale, or by one owning the land and not named as a defendant, or acquiring title through a defendant; and the court upon proof of an attempt or intention to remove or detach the same by or for a party defendant, or by one succeeding to the title of such defendant, shall upon entering approved security enjoin such removal or detaching until and unless approved security be first entered to protect the claimant in the amount of his recovery. If the structure or other improvement be filed, except in the hands of a purchaser for value, after removal and without notice, as shall the land also, if it was bound while the structure or other improvement was on it.

Section 28. In any suit brought to recover for labor done, or materials furnished to a structure or other improvement, whether the contract shall have been recorded or not, the plaintiff, if he files of record at the time of beginning the suit an affidavit setting forth the facts, may summons also therein the owner or any other party indebted to the defendant for labor done or labor or materials furnished to such structure or other improvement, the effect of service of which writ, upon such third party shall be to attach the moneys then or thereafter becoming due such defendant. If the defendant, at any time before verdict or judgment, shall file an affidavit that he does not owe plaintiff anything by reason of labor done, or labor or materials furnished, to such structure or other improvement, the summons against the garnishee shall be quashed by the court, upon motion, unless within fifteen days after notice and service of a copy of such affidavit the plaintiff enter approved security in double the amount of his claim, conditioned that he will prosecute his suit with effect or will pay all costs, damages and reasonable fees paid or suffered by the defendant, in case of his failure so to do.

NOTE.—Nearly all of the sections following the 28th Section of the new Mechanics' Lien Law are devoted to legal procedure, but it might be of interest to note that Section No. 55 provides that every distribution under the provisions of the Act shall be made as follows:

1. To use claimants the amounts due to them, but not exceeding in the aggregate the sum distributable to the lien of the sub-contractor through whom they claim.
2. To sub-contractors the amounts due to them after deducting any sums awarded to use claimants under them.
3. To contractors the amounts due to them after deducting any sums awarded to sub-contractors and use claimants under them.
4. To the owner any balance remaining. If the amount distributable to any of said classes shall be insufficient to pay in full the claim in that class shall abate proportionately.

And see Section 57, which provides as follows: As a condition precedent to any payment for labor done or labor or materials furnished to a structure or other improvement, the party making the same shall be entitled to demand from the person entitled thereto a receipt stating the amount thereof and for what it was given.

And Section 60 provides this Act shall apply only to claims wherein the work was commenced to be performed or materials were commenced and furnished after the date of approval, but the rights of claimants under existing laws shall remain unaffected by its passage.

The balance of this Act repeals all laws on the subject of mechanics' liens passed before its passage.

JOSEPH A. GORMAN,
Attorney at Law,
Stephen Girard Building.

Architect Notes.

Stearn & Castor, architects, will send out plans and specifications to-day for the Frankford Real Estate Trust & Safe Deposit Company's new home to be built on Frankford avenue below Unity street on the site of the old Second National Bank.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, is making plans for alterations to the city residence of W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., 25 E. Fifty-seventh street, New York city, also preparing plans for the remodeling of Mr. W. B. Carter's residence at Newport, R. I.

Statement in daily papers that M. H. & C. S. Dickinson, architects, Real Estate Building, are preparing plans and will be ready in a short while for bids for a factory at Erie avenue near Second street is not true. Messrs. Dickinson are not preparing plans nor have they any idea of doing so.

Hubing, Osie & Ziegler architects, Crozer Building, have prepared plans and are receiving estimates for alterations and additions to the house of Ledyard Heckscher at Devon, Pa. This is one of the oldest buildings in Delaware county and part of it has been built over 150 years ago. The addition will be stone with single roof and will match the present structure in style and material. It will be about double the size of the old house. Bids due November 6th.

Col. A. J. Drexel has just purchased a tract of 200 acres known as the Frederick Phillips estate, which is situated in a very picturesque section of the country, near Villanova. On the tract is the well-known Red Rose Inn. The land purchased includes about twenty acres belonging to H. G. Supplee. Next spring Mr. Drexel will commence the erection of a magnificent country seat, costing about $100,000. It is said that a well-known Philadelphia architect has been engaged to prepare plans.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 30, 1901

The American Cement Co. wins a Gold Medal.

The American Cement Co., of 22 South Fifteenth street, Philadelphia, Pa., have been awarded a gold medal, the highest award given, at the Pan American Exposition, held at Buffalo, N. Y., for their "Giant" Portland Cement, the "Old Reliable" American Brand. This celebrated brand of cement has been used on many of the largest engineering undertakings in the country, including The Cornell Dam of the Croton Aqueduct System, the Rapid Transit Underground Railway in New York, the Niagara Falls Tunnel and many others.

Architect Notes.

W. G. Eekles, New Castle, Pa., has prepared plans for a ten room addition to the Mercer Hotel at Mercer, Pa. The estimated cost of the improvements is about $10,000.

A. P. Cooper, architect, Uniontown, Pa., has prepared plans for an addition to the hotel building owned by Henry P. Gilmore. The cost of the improvements will be about $20,000.

Mr. Harry Reinhold, architect, 450 Walnut street, is working on plans for remodeling a residence at Rosemont, Pa. The plans call for interior improvements and additions. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

William H. Brown, chief engineer of Pennsylvania Railroad, has finished plans for a freight house to be built on Perry street, Trenton, N. J., for the company. It will cost $110,000. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

William Charles Hayes, architect, 1020 Walnut street, has asked for revised bids from the following builders for Dr. Stewart's new house to be built at Oak Lane, Philadelphia: Kendrick & Roberts, D. W. Sperry and Hill & Stevens, of Oak Lane.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut streets, have plans near ready for an extensive clinical laboratory for the University of Pennsylvania. Building will be of steel construction, brick and stone, two and three stories high, and very ornamental in design.

At Homestead, Pa., Architect D. S. Platt is receiving bids for the erection of a frame building to be fitted up as flats for Frederick Schuckman. The cost will be about $6000. Also taking bids on a brick block for business purposes, to be erected at Six Mile Ferry, for Michael Curran. The cost will be $5000.

H. M. Wirsing, New Castle, Pa., has prepared plans for a summer house to be erected at Beaumaris, Can., for Mr. Edwin H. Ohl. It will cost $6000. C. C. & A. L. Thayer have made plans for a brick and stone dwelling to be erected on Highland avenue for F. S. Hill. It will cost $6000. Also plans for remodeling a building to be fitted up for flats for Philip Wagner, on Mercer street.

H. G. Morse, Jr., architect, Drexel Building, is at work on drawings for the ten-story loft building to be erected on East Twenty-first street, New York. It is to be fireproof, steel construction, built of brick and stone, will be used for light manufacturing and will be equipped with machinery necessary for such a building. The exact location and owner's name withheld for the present.

At Braddock, Architect S. C. Richard has made plans for a handsome brick dwelling to be erected at Rankin, Pa., for Mrs. Dorothy O. Lejuk. It will be finely finished, structural iron, steam heat, sanitary plumbing, etc. The cost will be about $10,000. The same architect has let the contract for A. J. Kalchmar's dwelling at Rankin to the Braddock Lumber Company. Also plans for six frame dwellings to be erected at East Pittsburg for John B. Morgan, to cost $2000 each.

Perot & Bissell, architects, Bourse Building, are working on plans for a church hall to be built out of town. It will be one story and basement. It will be built of Flemish bond and Sayer Fisher brick. It will measure 40x70 feet and will be colonial in design. This hall will include all up-to-date improvements. Will be ready in about ten days for bids. Also working on plans for a large two-story brick stable to be built near Wilmington, Del. The first floor will contain stalls and carriage house, the second floor living quarters for coachman. It will measure 40x70 feet.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, Real Estate Building, are preparing plans for two large houses for Mrs. Chas. J. Clarke, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa. These will be erected instead of the four or five smaller ones she intended at first to have built. They will be in old English style, with terrace and large halls, and will be finished in hardwood and white pine, the latter enameled. They will have a frontage of 70 feet and will be of irregular depth. Will be heated with hot air, wired and lit by electricity and will contain all the latest modern improvements. Will be ready in a short while for bids.

With the acquiring of the Fell mansion at 1406 Walnut street by George C. Boldt, the proprietor of the Stratford Hotel, it is rumored that a mammoth hotel will be erected on the site, and it is said that John T. Windrim, architect, will make the plans. The new building will include the present hotel building and 1404-06 Walnut street, with a frontage of 185 feet on Broad street and 125 feet on Walnut, extending to Chancellor street. It is understood that the new building will not be started until next fall, but in the meantime alterations will be made to the newly acquired property in order to accommodate patrons of the Stratford during the winter. Mr. Windrim denies that he is to make plans.

T. Mitchell Hastings, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has plans and specifications for a handsome coachman's house and loose boxes to be built for C. C. Harrison, at Devon, Pa. The drawings show a rubble masonry and frame plastered coachman's house, to measure 38x40 feet. The structure will be two stories high and will contain parlor, living room, kitchen, laundry and store closet on the first floor, four bedrooms and bathroom on second floor. The loose stalls will be fifteen in number and each will measure 10x11 feet 11 inches. They will be constructed in an L-shape stone and brick structure. The following builders are bidding and bids are due November 1: Thomas Little & Son, Stacey Reeves & Sons, Appleton & Burrell and W. R. Dougherty.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Alvin R. Kerr & Co., builders, of Chester, Pa., have been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Mr. William Wilson, at Chester, Pa. Details of this house in one of our recent issues. Plans were prepared by Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, of this city.

William Charles Hayes, architect, 1020 Walnut street, has awarded the following contracts to Philadelphia firms for work on the Hall of Science, to be built for the Stetson University at De Land, Fla.: Cut stone, B. Ridgeway & Son; iron work, Steel & Wike; hardware, Murta & Appleton; terra cotta, Conkling & Armstrong Co.

In our last week's issue of this paper we stated that George Morris, of the Stephen Girard Building, had been awarded the contract for alterations to house 104 South Thirty-eighth street, from plans prepared by Henry Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street. This is a mistake, and should have been Martin Morris, builder, 1814 Wellington street, Philadelphia.

Wade & Gilpin, builders, northeast corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets are bidding on the new building to be built at 1809-11 Filbert street for Crane & Co. It will be four stories high and will be built of brick and iron, slow burning construction. It will measure 117 feet 3 inches by 42 feet. The building will be used as an ice cream manufactory, bakery and cold storage. Hales & Ballinger prepared plans.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, builders, 305 Walnut street, have plans on boards for a handsome hotel to be built at Michigan avenue and the Beach, Atlantic City, N. J., for Jos. H. Borden, Dr. Philip Marvel and Jos. H. Marvel. It is a brick, steel and cement fireproof hotel. The front of the building will be of pressed brick and terra cotta. It will be six stories and basement, and will be one of the finest hotels ever erected at Atlantic City. It will contain all modern improvements and will be heated by steam, wired and lit by electricity. Bids are due November 2. Plans and specifications were prepared by Rodgers & Macfarlane, architects, of Detroit, Mich.

The statement in the daily papers that the above firm has been awarded the contract for brick work in the construction of new buildings for the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company at Shackamaxon street wharf is premature. If Messrs. Armstrong & Printzenhoff have been awarded this contract, as above stated, it is news to them.

Roydhouse, Argy & Co., builders, Fidelity Building, have been awarded the contract to build the handsome residence for William L. Austin, at Rosemont, Pa. It is to be three stories high and will be built of Port Deposit granite and Indiana limestone. It will have a large plaza with porte cochere, the roof of porch to be supported by columns of turned Indiana limestone. The interior will be hardwood finish and will be wired for electricity and lit by combination gas and electric fixtures. It will also contain six bathrooms and will be equipped with a large and complete laundry. The house will contain the very latest modern improvements and will measure 43 feet 9 inches by 77 feet 10 inches, with a corner extension 34x38 feet. Plans and specifications by Bailey & Truscott, architects, 42 Chestnut street.

Councils' Committee on Soldiers' Monument yesterday decided to limit the cost of the proposed monument to $500,000. The recommendation of the T Square Club was accepted. It provides that competitive designs for the monument be sent in by the first Monday in next March. By the rules for the competition architects will submit their designs to a committee consisting of three persons. One member shall be appointed from the Philadelphia Charter of American Architects' Association, another from the T Square Club, and the third shall be chosen by these two. The competition will be open to all American architects, and copies of the rules governing it will be sent to all the most prominent architects in the country. The monument will be erected in the centre of Logan Square. Councils have appropriated $3000 to be awarded in prizes, the winner in the competition to receive $1000.

John R. Wiggins, builder, Heed Building, has been awarded the contract late Tuesday afternoon to erect the new building for Crane & Co., to be built at 1809-11 Filbert street. Details of this building previously noted in one of our issues. Plans and specifications

White is the president, Howard White, Jr., vice-president and manager. I. Whilden Moore has sold the property at 717 and 719 Atlantic avenue, to Philadelphia, who will make extensive improvements.

At Perth Amboy, Architect Grownay has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected for Mr. Broadhead, on Market street. Spencer Dayton & Son have made plans for a stable for Dr. Keasbey. Henry Nelson and Hans Griesen have bought lots on Paterson street and will erect cottages. Mr. J. Caesar will erect an eight family flat on Grant street from plans prepared by Spencer Dayton & Son. The Karian River Bridge Committee of the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders has had plans prepared for a bridge to cross the Karian river, between Perth Amboy and South Amboy. It will be 4350 feet long, and will cost about $150,000.

At Edgewater, Bergen county, the Knickerbocker Sugar Refining Company has decided to erect a plant at Edgewater. The plans have been prepared by George M. Newhall Engineering Company, of 43 Cedar street, New York city. The plant will include a boiler house, melting house, bone, black and char house, pan house and ware house, and will cover an area of 574 feet in width and will be built on piling extending 300 feet into the Hudson river. There will also be two wooden piers extending 300 feet farther into the river. Purchases of equipment and contracts for the erection of the buildings will be let sometime before January 1st, at which time the piling will be completed. The company has a capital of $1,500,000. The president of the company is Mr. George K. Ross, with headquarters at the Newhall Engineering Company, 43 Cedar street, New York city.

Through Delaware.

At Georgetown, in a short time, a vote will be taken on a proposition to construct water works and an electric light plant.

Through Maryland.

At Annapolis bids will be received until November 27 for the erection of a cadets' quarters building at the U. S. Naval Academy. Address A. S. Crowninshield, Chief of Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

At Baltimore, F. M. Tyson will erect six two-story brick dwellings on Frederick avenue. John Hopkins University has broken ground for a four-story brick building at 115 East Baltimore street. It will cost $8000. William Ferguson & Bro prepared the plans and are also the contractors. Clarence Hampson will erect thirteen two-story brick dwellings. The recent fire in the furniture store of Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., on Market street, this city, at which many lives were lost, has caused serious alarm among the owners of high buildings as well as serious thought among our local architects.

The results from the fire have certainly established the inutility of the fire escape, as at present constructed, as a reliable means of escape as well as rescue. Vigorous means will have to be adopted to change the present outside system for the fire-proof tower regardless of cost or difficulties such change may cause owners.

To tolerate a system which is simply barbarous any longer, is to hourly jeopardize human life in every section of our daily industrial life and without justice or reason.

The fire did not take place in a rattle-trap structure owned and controlled by parsimonious people. The building was of the first class, of its kind, and of a kind to engender confidence and respect in every quarter.

The owner while a large property holder is a broad gauge, liberal-minded citizen, who not only keeps his properties in first-class condition but aims to reach a high degree of safety in a wise provision of fire escapes which conformed at the time of building to the strict requirements of the law.

The occupants was a firm composed of gentlemen who have commanded the respect and esteem of the community for years and who also fully comprehended the environments surrounding their business, but who unfortunately like hundreds of others rested under a false opinion as to the safety and security of their employees in case of fire.

The cure is in the law and now while the Coroner is actively engaged in his investigation as to the Hunt, Wilkinson fire his duty is to go through the subject of fire escapes, not even excepting the present fire trap theatres with their death arranged gallery stairways as well as their rotten fire escapes which with few exceptions are mere bluffs at a conformation of the old law and which if ever loaded with people will fill the streets with the killed and maimed just as certain as fire will burn.

Pierce, Butler & Pierce Manufacturing Company's New Catalogue.

We are in receipt of an elaborate catalogue just issued by the Pierce, Butler & Pierce Manufacturing Co., of Syracuse, N. Y., whose Philadelphia office is in the Master Builders Exchange, containing very elaborate illustrations of its sanitary plumbing products which it manufactures on a large scale.

The work contains 66 pages fully setting forth its many sanitary plumbing specialties in a way to understandingly inform the readers of the shape, size, artistic beauty and utility of each article.

The work is the test of its kind we have ever seen and will be invaluable to both builders and owners as well as plumbers in a proper selection of the things that should be in every building.

REAR Admiral Crowninshield, who though ranking merely as Captain, was practically the high cockadrum of the navy during, before and after the Spanish war, and who lorded it over Commodores and Admirals as well as "subs" from his perch in the Bureau of Navigation, is to be "rewarded," says a Washington dispatch, by being placed in command of the European station. Naturally the squadron on the station is to be increased to a size befitting the prospective nominee, so that when he shall hobnob with the rulers of "the King's navy" it may be as the commander of the biggest lot of ships the United States ever had in European waters. To him who hath shall be given.—Exchange.

Architect Notes.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, are ready for bids on the construction of the Seaford National Bank, to be built at Seaford, Del. Will be ready the latter part of this week for estimates for Mrs. McClintock's house, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street will send out to-day plans for the two-story Sunday school building for the Dotter's M. E. Church, to be built at Twenty-fourth and Dickinson streets. It will be built of stone with all appointments for a building of that kind. All bids are to be sent to the Rev. Mr. Lukens, at 2213 Tasker street.

Savoy & Scheets, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are at work on preliminary plans for a country residence, to be built at Lansdowne. It will be three stories, stone and rough-cast building, measuring 44x32 feet, with a wing 19x24 feet. The name of the owner withheld for the present. Ready for bids in about three weeks.

It is rumored that Mr. Henry C. Lea, owner of the Hunt-Wilkinson Building, recently destroyed by fire, is trying to secure the property next door, occupied by William F. Potts, and if successful will erect on this site and the Hunt-Wilkinson site a magnificent fireproof building. Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, will prepare the plans.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for a convent building for the Roman Catholic parish in Lansdale, Pa. It will be frame and will be three stories high and will measure 26x48 feet. Mr. Watson is now ready to receive estimates for alterations and addition to St. James Hotel at Asbury Park, N. J. Work will include new wing and general improvements.

M. H. & C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, are preparing plans and specifications for the two houses to be built at Glenside for W. T. B. Roberts. Details of these houses previously noted. Also preparing plans and specifications for a handsome residence to be built at Lawndale, Pa. It will be built of stone and be pebble dashed, and will contain all the modern improvements.

J. F. Stuckert Sons, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and sent same out for estimates from Philadelphia and Norristown builders for the erection of a three-story factory building to be built in Norristown, Pa., for the Clipper Lawn Mower Company, Incorporated. It will be built of brick and slow burning mill construction. It will measure 40x50 feet. Bids due in one week's time.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has prepared plans and sent same to builders for estimates for a laundry and stable building, to be built at 2719-27 Susquehanna avenue, for Mr. William Dages. It is to be two stories high and will be built of brick and will measure 45x80 feet. The following is the list of builders who are asked to bid: Thomas Little & Sons, Kendrick & Co., Burd P. Evans and Jacob Myers & Sons. Bids are due November 7.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and sent same out for estimates for stable to be built at Jenkintown, Pa., for Mr. Horace Lippincott, Jr. It is to be one story and loft high. It will be built of stone and stucco work with shingle roof. It will measure 56x29 feet. It will contain four stalls with a separate carriage house, cleaning room and harness room. The upper portion of stable to be fitted up as coachman quarters. It will also have a large court for washing carriages, etc.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and sent to the builders for estimates for an addition to the Hirst & Rodgers carpet mill, to be built at Allegheny and Kensington avenues. The building will be three stories high and will measure 42x62 feet. It will be constructed of slow burning material, with brick and slag roof. The building will have a frontage on Allegheny avenue. In order to connect the new and present structures a tower fire escape will be installed. Bids due November 7.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has sent out revised plans for the Stock Exchange, to be built at Third and Walnut streets. The plans, as revised, contemplate merely the rebuilding of the interior. The addition of a fourth story, as at first proposed, is eliminated. The first floor will be used for offices. The board room will be on the second floor. Adjoining it will be reading, writing, smoking and reception rooms, together with the clearing house office. The Governing and Committee's room and office of the secretary on the third floor will be gallery for visitors.

Spencer Roberts, architect, 1524 Chestnut street, has completed plans and sent same to builders to-day for estimates for a summer cottage to be erected at Sea Girt, N. J., for Mr. Chas S. Hinchman. It is to be two-and-one-half-stories high and will be built of frame with stone foundation and shingle roof. It will measure 70x50 feet. The interior will be finished in hardwood. The following builders are asked to bid: W. R. Dougherty and Appleton & Burrell, of this city; Lewis Lawton and Chas. W. Keifer, of Trenton, N. J.; M. C. Warren, of Germantown and Kendrick & Co., of this city.

Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, is preparing sketches for a new residence, to be built at Clearfield, Pa., to measure 58x31 feet. Also working on plans and specifications for a residence to be built of stone and half-timber, with slag roof, and will measure 33x59 feet. All modern improvements. This house will be built on the percentage basis. Also preparing plans and specifications for a house to be built at Waukesha, Wis. for Mr. Frank R. Putney. It is to be built of stone and half-timber, with slag roof, and will measure 56x67 feet. It will contain all modern improvements. Local builders will be asked to bid.

Lawrence Vissher Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has prepared plans and sent to the builders for estimates for a handsome residence, to be built at Lansdowne, Pa., for Mr. Homer, of that place. It will be American domestic in design, two and one-half stories high. The first floor will be built of stone and the upper portion of shingle. It will contain twelve rooms with all the modern conveniences, and will measure 30x50 feet. The following builders are bidding: Liddell & McClintock, of Germantown; H. B. Shoemaker & Co., of this city; William C. Shuster, Jr., Edgar S. Bishop and William Saunders, of Lansdowne, Pa. All bids due December 9.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and sent out same for estimates for a two-story frame stable, to be built at Ashbourne, Pa., for Mrs. Williams. It will measure 24x44 feet. It will be frame with shingle roof. On the first floor will be three single and one box stall and carriage house, on second floor harness room, man's room and loft. It will contain all the latest sanitary improvements. Also in same office have plans under way for a three-story residence for Mr. J. Nolan, to be built at Willow Grove, Pa. Will measure 33 feet 6 inches by 33 feet 6 inches, with summer kitchen extension of 18x10 feet. The first story will be stone and the upper portion frame, with slate and tin roof. The interior will be hardwood finish and will contain baths and all modern improvements. It will be wired and lit by electricity and contain eleven rooms.

Wright Butler, Cumberland, Md., has made plans for a two and a half story brick and stone dwelling for Mrs. Jane Roberts. It will have fine interior finish of hardwood, tiled bath room, sanitary plumbing, steam heat, etc. The cost will be about $10,000. The general contract has been let to the Cumberland Building Co. Also plans for a two story brick dwelling for Charles Cooley, to cost $2500. Also plans for a three-story store and bakery, to cost $8000. Also plans for a dwelling for Miller Hamilton, to cost $3000. George Flack Sausbury, Cumberland, Md., has prepared plans for a stable and carriage house for Capt. John Sheridan at Mount Savage, Md. It will contain eight box stalls. The cost will be $5000. Also plans for a dwelling for William G. Hiser, of Cumberland. It will be of brick and stone, leaded glass, tiling, steam heat, sanitary plumbing. Cost $7500. Also plans for a row of eight brick dwellings and two stores.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 6, 1901

Our next issue, November 13, will contain our report of building operations and transfers of real estate for the season of 1901, ending Oct. 31st, last. A special edition of 5000 extra copies will be mailed to those who are most interested in the growth and prosperity of our city. As a fact, there is no other reliable data available, and were it not for these reports this very important business branch indicative of the city's growth and prosperity might be in less reliable hands. The issue of Nov. 13th next, will be a grand opportunity for advertisers.

A Booklet on Dexter Portland Cement.

Messrs. Saml. H. French & Co.'s booklet, just issued for the use of architects and engineers, in the interest of the Dexter Portland Cement, for which this firm is the selling agent, covers the question of cement in a series of terse and pointed sentences as logical as they are argumentative.

The "highest standard attainable" is the modest claim for Saml. H. French & Co.'s Dexter Portland Cement, and while this statement is broad and far-reaching enough to suit all architects and engineers, its weight and importance must be judged in the absence of personal scientific test by the character and business standing of those who make it.

In this instance, at least, it is conclusive that the sponsors for Dexter Cement not only know whereof they speak, but all the wealth of Christendom would be no inducement to the firm to give its endorsement to any article that would not specifically fill each and every claim to the full intent and purpose of its meaning.

Architect Notes.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has prepared plans for alterations and addition to paper box factory at 448-50 York avenue for Walter P. Miller, owner. Estimates now being taken by him for this alteration and addition.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has prepared plans and sent same to builders for estimates for a house and stable, to be erected at Rosemont, Pa., for Charles Dessel, Esq. The house will measure 70x40 feet and will be built of stone and timber. It will be two stories and attic high and will have shingle roof. The interior on the first floor will be hardwood finish, and the second and third floors will be white pine finish painted. It will be heated with hot air, wired for electricity and will contain all modern improvements. The stable will measure 30x40 feet and will be built of stone, and will also have shingle roof. It will be two stories high, with all modern improvements. The following is a list of bidders who are asked to bid: J. L. & A. E. Pennock, Jacob Myers & Son, Kendrick & Co., of Philadelphia, Harry D. Wolf, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Milton Younge, of Overbrook, Pa., and Gracy Bros., of Rosemont, Pa. All bids are due November 7.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The record last week of 307 transfers of real estate is the heaviest for this year.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, are bidding on revised plans for Stock Exchange, Third and Walnut streets. Plans by Louis Hickman, 323 Chestnut street.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1204 Chancellor street, have been awarded the contract to build the frame storehouse for the Philadelphia Forge Company at Tacony, Philadelphia.

David A. McClelland, carpenter, contractor and builder, 515 South Twentieth street, has greatly enlarged his office by the addition of the adjoining property, 517 South Twentieth street.

John Wiggins, builder, Heed Building, has plans on board for the Real Estate, Trust & Safe Deposit Company's new building to be built at Frankford, Pa. Plans by Stern & Caster, architects.

William Steele & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, will be ready in a short time for bids on the new building to be built at Thirtieth and Thompson streets for the National Umbrella Company.

George W. Sperry, builder, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Wyncote, Pa., for Morris W. Hoover, from plans and specifications by Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building.

Wade & Gilpin, builders, Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, have plans posted for revised bids for the Stock Exchange, to be built at Third and Walnut streets, from plans of Louis C. Hickman, architect, 323 Chestnut street. Bids due November 9.

Charles W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, have awarded the contract to Steel & Wike for the iron work and to William Gallaway for the terra cotta work in connection with the Brainerd Hall for Lafayette College at Easton, Pa.

L. H. Focht, builder, of Reading, Pa., has been awarded the contract for the erection of the Colonial Trust Company Building at Reading, Pa., from plans and specifications of Seymour Davis & Paul Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Bids for the erection of three new buildings at the Philadelphia Hospital close November

8. The following contractors are bidding: H. A. Miller & Son, Maguire & Emory, Penn Erecting Company, J. H. Jordan, Henderson & Co. and Harry Kuemmerle.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has asked the Board of Port Wardens for permission to make extensive improvements on the Delaware river front, between Walnut and Dock streets, which will include the lengthening of piers 10, 11 and 14 to the new headline.

George F. Payne Co., 409 Juniper street, has been awarded the contract to repair the fire-damaged warehouse and factory at 526 and 528 Cherry street, at a cost of $9000, for William J. Donoghugh, owner. New posts, girders, joist floors, windows and general repairs.

Harry Kuemmerle, builder, Betz Building, has revised plans on boards prepared by Phil. Johnson, Fidelity Building, for Children's and Maternity Hospital and a hospital for contagious diseases, in connection with the Philadelphia Hospital, at Thirty-sixth and South streets.

Kendrick & Roberts, builders, 1203 Chestnut street, have been awarded the contract to build the handsome residence for Dr. W. D. Stewart at Oak Lane. It will cost about $15,000. Details of this house were previously noted from plans and specifications by Wm. Charles Hays, architect, 1020 Walnut street.

John H. Jordan, builder, 2118 Oxford street, has been awarded the contract to build the new fire engine house on Fifteenth, above Parrish street (will cost $25,738), and public bath house on Eleventh street, above Girard avenue, from plans and specifications of Phil. H. Johnson, architect, Fidelity Building.

Albert Simpson, builder, of 6336 Magnolia avenue, Germantown, has been awarded the contract to build the new stable for Bethesda Home at Wyndmore, Pa. It is to be a one-story and loft building, with slag roof, and will contain all the latest stable fixtures, from plans of Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

Smith, Davis & Co., artificial stone pavements and floors and concrete work, 201 Weightman Building, inform us that as the cold weather is approaching they are about finishing up on their outside work, but are fully prepared to execute all contracts for inside work at reasonable prices during the coming winter months.

Penn Erecting Company, builders, 1421 Filbert street, has plans on boards for a venereal and contagious skin disease hospital, children's hospital and maternity hospital for the Department of Charities at Thirty-fourth and Pine streets. All bids to be sent to Dr. John Shoemaker, chairman of the board, on November 8. Plans by Philip Johnson, architect, Fidelity Building.

Robert W. Carson, of Philadelphia, has paid $180,000 for the estate of the late Harry Ingersoll, also of Philadelphia, at Reef Point and Yznaga avenue, Newport, R. I. The estate comprises 231,000 square feet of land, with buildings. Mr. Carson will tear the old house down and build a villa at once, and we believe there has been no architect up to the present time engaged.

Hill & Stevens, builders, Oak Lane,, Pa., will break ground in a day or so for a twin house for Mr. Frederick Gerhart at Eleventh street and Oak lane. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone and half-timber, with shingle roof. The interior will be hardwood finish, wired for electricity, heated with hot air, with all modern improvements, will measure 60x80 feet and will cost about $9000.

Machin & Brown, builders, 147 North Seventh street, are bidding on a new building for the Real Estate Trust and Safe Deposit Company, to be built in Frankford, Pa., from plans by Stern & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building; also on new church to be built in Jenkintown for the Jenkintown Methodist Episcopal congregation, from plans of Gladstone Holm, architect, Royersford, Pa.

W. A. & A. P. Wells, builders, Stephen Girard Building, are receiving estimates for the erection of the new building for the New York Stock Exchange. It is to be built of specify granite and will cost about $2,000,000. All bids are due on November 7. The same builders have plans posted for revised bids on the Stock Exchange Building. Bids due November 9. Plans by Louis C. Hickman, architect.

Philip Anns Company, builders, Mutual Life Building, has plans on boards for alterations and additions to Hotel Colonial at Asbury Park, N. J., for Mr. Frank M. Cooper. The addition will consist of raising old building and placing basement and new first floor on it, and it is to have general interior alterations. Plans and specifications are prepared by Brouse & Arend, architects, 931 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Henry Shoemaker & Co., builders, 113 North Seventh street, have plans on boards for a handsome residence, to be built at Lansdowne, Pa., for Mr. M. Horner, Esq. It is to be two and a half stories high and to measure 30x50 feet, the first floor to be stone and the upper floor shingle. Interior to be hardwood finish and to contain all the latest improvements. Bids due November 9. Plans by L. V. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building.

Henderson & Co., builders, Heed Building, have plans on boards for a new factory building for Hirst & Rodgers, to be built on Allegheny avenue and Kensington avenue, from plans of Hales & Ballinger, architects. Also, on Stock Exchange to be built at Third and Walnut streets from plans of Louis C. Hickman, architect. Also, bidding on the three new hospitals for the Department of Charities to be built at Thirty-fourth and Pine streets. Plans by Philip Johnson, architect.

Maguire & Emory, builders, 1524 Sansom street, have plans on boards and are taking estimates for a handsome residence to be built at Wayne, Delaware county, Pa., for Mr. F. H. Treat. It will be three-story high and built of stone and frame with shingle roof. It will be surrounded by a porch. The interior will be finished as follows: First floor, hall and library in chestnut; dining room in poplar, the den in white pine and the balance of the first floor and all the second and third in white pine. It will be wired for electricity and will contain all the latest and modern improvements. Plans and specifications by David K. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building. Bids due November 12th.

Kendrick & Co., builders, Perry Building, have plans on boards and are taking bids for a laundry building and stable for the Empire Laundry, to be built at 2619-27 Susquehanna avenue. C. E. Schermerhorn is the architect. House and stable for Charles Dissel, to be built at Rosemont, Pa., Plans by Albert Dilks, architect. New factory building for Hirst & Rodgers, to be built at Allegheny and Kensington avenues. Plans by Hales & Ballinger, architects. New building for the Real Estate Trust and Safe Deposit Company, to be built at Frankford, Philadelphia. Plans by Stern & Castor. Also a new Sunday school building for the Dorrsters M. E. Church, to be built at Twenty-fourth and Dickinson streets. Plans by Isaac Pursell, architect.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has plans on boards for alterations to first floor 216 Market street for Henry Collins, Esq. Plans by Morris & Vaux, Stephen Girard Building. Also new building for the Real Estate Trust and Safe Deposit Company, to be erected on Frankford avenue, below Unity street, Frankford, Philadelphia. It is to be four stories high and will be built of granite. The interior will contain fire and burglar-proof vaults with safe deposit compartments and private booths for the use of patrons and the usual necessary office fixtures for a building of that kind. This building will measure 35x25 feet, and is to be erected on the site of the old Second Street National Bank, which is to be torn down. Bids due November 7.

J. L. & A. E. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, have plans on boards for a house and stable, to be built at Rosemont, Pa., for Charles Dissel. The house is to be two stories and attic high, with shingle roof, and will measure 70x40 feet, to be built of stone and timber; the stable two stories high, with shingle roof, will be built of stone and will measure 30x40 feet.

Bids due November 7. Also have plans on boards for a ten-story loft building for Samuel A. Greenler, Esq., to be erected on East Twenty-first street, New York City. It is to be built of fireproof, steel construction, brick and stone. It will be used for light manufacturing and will be equipped with elevators. Plans and specifications by Herbert D. Hale & Henry G. Morse, Jr., architects, Drexel Building. Bids are due November 14.

Jacob Myers, builder, Juniper and Sansom streets, has plans on boards for handsome residence, to be built at Rosemont, Pa., for H. H. Ellison. It is to be built of stone and half-timber, and will measure 65 feet by 44 feet 4 inches, with a servants' wing three stories high and measuring 59 feet 6 inches by 20 feet 8 inches. Round the front and one side of the house runs a wide piazza, adjacent to the entrance a porte cochere. The details are elaborate, giving the residence a very artistic appearance. It is to be old English in design. Plans and specifications were prepared by Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building. Bids due November 7. Also bidding on Mr. Charles Dissel's house and stable, to be built at Rosemont, Pa. Details of this house in another part of this paper. Bids due November 7. Also bidding on alterations and addition to Ledyard Heckscher's House, at Devon, Pa. after the plans prepared by Duhning, Okie & Ziegler.

Plans are now posted at Doyle & Doak's, builders, for a group of buildings for the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. The plans show a large plot of ground terraced and surrounded by a high ornamental iron railing. The entrance brings one before the Memorial Hall, four stories high, of fancifully cut stone. This building is divided into anterior and posterior structures, connected by a narrow hall. The front building will measure 240x70 feet, and the rear 90x150 feet. At each side are four story cadets' quarters of the same material and of equally fine architecture. They are each built about a court 96 feet square. The plans show a central hall with the rooms ranged on each side. In the rear is the mess hall. From each of the cadets' quarters run colonnades to the Armory and boathouse. These plans were prepared by Earnest Flagg, architect, 36 Wall street, New York. The same builders will make alterations and addition to house of F. K. Hipple at Bryn Mawr, Pa., from plans of E. V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Building.

Rosewood and Wolf streets, $11,000. Besides these are four lots, Nos. 1818 to 1819 South Broad street, offered at $40.00 per lot. An appropriation of $50,000 has already been made for the purchase of a site for the school. The committee will not decide upon a site until its next meeting, at which, if the cost of the lot agreed upon exceeds the amount of the appropriation, a resolution asking for an additional sum will be adopted. There is a feeling that the new school should, if possible, front on Broad street.

Some Portland Cements may show a high tensile strength at a short period, and yet be so defective that the work done with them will disintegrate with age. This is due to imperfect composition. The Dyckerhoff brand is invariably of correct chemical composition, and the work done with it is invariably strong and absolutely durable.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 46.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1901.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

CRAMP'S "RETIVIZAN," AMERICAN BUILT BATTLESHIP FOR THE IMPERIAL RUSSIAN NAVY.

THE ASBESTOS MANUFACTURING CO., 426 MARKET ST., PHILA., Manufactured and Applied all the Material used on the Boilers, Steam Pipes, Etc., on the Imperial Russian Battleship, "Retvizan."

The return of the Russian battleship, "Retvizan" from her trial trip, and her splendid record of 18.18 knots per hour, has again demonstrated the value of first-class insulating material.

The performance of this ship has been so entirely satisfactory as to bring forth the praise of not only her owners, but all interested in maritime affairs. The performance of her boilers and engines, particularly, has given the greatest satisfaction, the boilers steaming freely and furnishing more steam than was really necessary to fulfill the terms of her contract of 18 knots per hour, and the engines working smoothly and without heat, or even warming up of any one of her many journals.

Great care has been taken in the insulation of the boilers and steam pipes of this magnificent battleship, as it is very important that no condensation should occur in the steam pipes which furnish the steam for driving the engines, as this not only represents a loss, but is dangerous, should any great amount of condensation occur, as it would then be carried over into the engines with the possibility of knocking out the cylinder heads or perhaps the entire destruction of the engines.

On the thirty-two drums of the boilers, blocks 6 in. x 8 1/2 in. x 1 1/2 in., made of material of formula furnished by the Wm. Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Co., manufactured and applied by the Asbestos Manufacturing Co., 426 Market Street, Philadelphia, were placed, firmly secured with galvanized wire netting, and then followed with two heavy coats of plastic material of the same formula, outside of this a hard finishing plastic was used, making the exterior waterproof and fireproof, and on the steam pipes, sectional moulded covering of the same material, was wired on to the pipes in the same manner as the drums, followed with a heavy fireproof and waterproof paper, and finished with canvass hose duck jacket, sewed on. All of the steam pipes of the heating system, which number thousands of feet, together with water pipes, used for various purposes, have been protected with the material manufactured by the Asbestos Manufacturing Co., 426 Market Street, Philadelphia.

The steamship, "M. S. Dollar," built by the New York Shipbuilding Co., one of the finest of her class, and the first ship built by this company, has her boilers and steam pipes protected in the same manner as above, and with the material manufactured and applied by the Asbestos Manufacturing Co., 426 Market Street Philadelphia. Also the large 18 in., 22 in. and 24 in. pipes used for conveying steam for heating the immense buildings, the exhaust shops, etc., of the New York Shipbuilding Co., have all been covered with the same material and by the same Company.

The Germantown Trust Company Increases its Capital.

The Germantown Real Estate Deposit & Trust Company at its meeting of stockholders held October 17th voted to increase the capital stock of the company from $300,000 to $600,000. This increase together with the surplus or undivided profits account which amounts to $400,000 now gives the company a practical working capital of $1,000,000.

The stockholders also voted to change the name to The Germantown Trust Company.

All the old officers were re-elected: Mr. Edward Mellor is President, Wm. H. Haines Vice President, Francis Yarnall Secretary and Treasurer, Jay Gates Title & Trust Officer and John C. Bookius Real Estate Officer.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass Co's. New Warehouse.

Very few people comprehend the magnificent proportions and the wonderful progress made by the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company. No proper estimate of the business of this great American manufacturing establishment can properly be formed through an acquaintance with only one of its many distributing branches.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass Company is the pioneer of the Plate Glass industry in America; they have not only solved the intricate secrets of making the finest Plate Glass known to the commercial world, but have placed upon the American market the equivalent of the finest French Plate at less cost to the consumer. At the present time, this company operates nine factories and are the largest producers of Plate Glass in the world. They have warehouses in the principal cities, the number at the present time being sixteen.

The new warehouse of the Philadelphia branch, now in process of construction at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Arch street, will be one of the architectural features of the city, and will be second to no warehouse for completeness in all the details necessary for the prosecution of the glass and paint business. It is expected to be ready for occupancy in June 1902. The present address of the Company is 1012-1018 Filbert street, with offices at 28 Filbert street.

1901 The Close of the Building Season Record for 1901 Shows Great Improvement Over Last Year.

From January 1st to October 31st, Inclusive.

4679 New Buildings of all kinds erected and now in course of erection, costing $19,525,884, exclusive of the cost of the land, an increase over the same months of 1900 of 1666 new buildings, and an increase over the investment for the same months of last year of $6,413,148.

2049 alterations and additions (costing $300 and over), costing $3,073,500. Of these improvements there are 122 more than for the same months last year, and the amount expended is greater by $183,000.

Total cost of expenditure this year is $22,599,384, against $16,003,236, an increase of $6,596,148.

The transfers for the same months this year number 10,829, representing a cash consideration of $69,796,181.09, against 10,075 transfers for the same months of last year, with a cash consideration of $53,808,894.90.

The appetite of credulous investors for schemes as roscate as the blush on a maiden's cheek is without a parallel.

The newspapers are teeming with inviting testimonials directing the "constant readers" to the royal road to riches in keeping with their preferences for oil stocks, gold and silver mining stocks, industrial stocks of various kinds, and the only scheme and schemer distinguished for his absence is Colonel Sellers and his eye wash.

Sums of money are daily taken from the savings funds, and pieces of real estate have been sold at a sacrifice to enable the owners to buy gold brick investments.

How long this craze to surrender what represents the earnings of honest industry is to last it would be difficult to predict, but it is quite evident that with a large class at present anything and everything except it be real estate is popular as an investment, regardless of loss or consequence.

When men and women were daily appealing to the officers of savings funds to waive the two weeks' notice in order that they might make payments on the small homes they had purchased, conditions were extremely encouraging, besides which it indicated a proper appreciation of the safety of such investments, and it is fair to assume that the absence of this sentiment at the present time is largely responsible for the want of an active demand for such properties.

As one gentleman whom we interviewed suggested, these small houses possess few attractions to investors. Investors looking for large blocks of small dwellings do not materialize as heretofore, and owners of large blocks are in some few instances, seeking to trade for suburban and other properties. While these are the facts which cut off an important feature of former demand, they are the result of bad location, bad construction, disappointment and dissatisfaction as to past experience when business conditions were different from what they are at present. It is these things that make up sentiment, and it is the influence of sentiment that controls the market.

There is no doubt that bad construction has disgusted owners who purchased for investment and whose experience in caring for such houses justifies their efforts to unload them.

There are many people, however, whose faith in real estate remains unshaken, and the demand for occupancy as well as investment must increase so long as collateral forces continue without impairment.

Marriages are plenty enough, for according to the figures furnished by Chief Bird, of the Marriage License Bureau of this city, 9,371 licenses were granted from January 1st to October 31st, inclusive, over 1,700 having been issued in the month of June and nearly 2,000 in October.

The wage earners are well employed, particularly those engaged in iron and steel, and while the textile interests show little if any improvement, particularly in woollens, there is no distress through the want of work in either of the two branches.

The saving fund deposits and the number of depositors do not show any improvement, and the employment of labor. A slight shrinkage compared with last year is to be accounted for in the increased cost of living; the withdrawals to enter into the will o' the wisp schemes now rampant everywhere; the purchase of small mortgages; paying on properties, etc.

Rentals are good for small houses and in some instances slight advances have been made and accepted, while in a few instances threats of removal have been made unless rents were reduced.

Two-story dwellings are as a rule well rented, and even in the poorer locations there is few empty. There is considerable demand for dwellings in the fashionable quarter central, but this will not hold good in North central sections.

Rentals in West Philadelphia for small houses, it is claimed, have a downward trend. This includes those which rent for $12 to $15, and these occupants are said to express a good deal of dissatisfaction. In fact, these reductions are asked for as a rule everywhere, and even the new houses soon sink back on a level with their less modern neighbors.

Hard lines as a rule is the experience of owners in renting large dwellings. There are a great many of them vacant from the fact that they are too roomy to meet the wishes of housekeepers, who seem to prefer more contracted facilities, even for large families. The house labor problem is no doubt responsible for this, as it is for the present popularity of apartment houses.

The sentiment favoring apartment houses is growing, and considerable capital will be invested in buildings of this character next year. There have been fourteen of these, ranging in cost from $12,000 to $480,000, provided for during the ten months of the present year. Some of these have been completed, but the larger are in course of erection.

The importance of the apartment house in construction work can be better understood when we state that the fourteen for which permits have been issued since January 1st, and which, of course, are embraced in our tables, represent investments aggregating $1,584,300. This influence detracts immensely from the former prestige of our better class of dwellings, and it extended to the extent protected, property of this character is bound to suffer.

Money is not plenty, and loans that are sought are in large amounts. Even in these borrowers and lenders often fail to meet, owing to differences as to the rate of interest; borrowers in most cases feel that they should be accommodated at 4 and 4½ per cent, while the lenders do not want to lend against estate at that rate. This is not surprising when the current rate for call loans is equal to 4½ and 5 per cent.

There is not a great deal of interest expressed among our trust companies in building operations.

Of course, gilt-edged applications are still entertained by a few companies that are not overloaded with real estate, but as a rule there is no welcome for applicants.

Operation work has been confined mostly to small operations, and there have been but a few big efforts have been largely experimental as the 4,272 two and three-story dwellings erected this year are the work of a great many builders when compared with the results of former years.

There is little demand for sites for industrial plants. Indeed, such an inquiry is a rare avist in real estate circles.

W. Bruce Barrow, 1134 Vine Street, who makes a specialty of the sale and renting of factories, says: "During the early part of the year there was a small demand for new factories, and from the last of May to the last of August there was nothing but the regular demand. From August up to the present time there has been considerable demand for modern factories, mostly of the large class, say 50x200 and 300 feet, with 14-foot ceilings, and especially those with railroad sidings. The applications were from furniture manufacturers, woodworkers, ironware and various other lines."

"The demand from textile manufacturers has not been so great."

"There is still a great demand for the above with railroad sidings."

"There has been more demand this year for suburban factories than at any time during my fifteen years' experience. At the present time I could rent twenty-five modern mills, and among the applicants there are a number who would purchase under special conditions."

"Summing up your interrogatories, I would say that the demand for good modern mills is considerably better at present than for the past five years. This fact, however, applies to Philadelphia and surroundings."

"The demand for centrally located commercial buildings has greatly improved."

There is some complaint as to shrinkage in the value of land. This is not pronounced, because these properties are in the hands of strong men who fully appreciate the limit of the building area, which they recognize is being immensely curtailed every year.

Of course the suburbs have become a keen competitor against city property, whether it be land or houses, and while the fad for suburban homes seems to be on the increase, there are plenty who become dissatisfied with the experiment and act accordingly.

The conditions, then, in city real estate are no worse than in the early part of the year, while in some respects decided improvements are noticeable. So long as iron and steel and railroad earnings stand up—and we have only entered into the cycle in that direction—and the market continues to improve on general lines, and the exceptions must grow fewer yearly.

Ultra conservatism is the great obstacle, for it has a far-reaching influence. It is more harmful than smallpox scars or bad water. As a manufacturing city, our energies should be bent in that direction, and these industries should be encouraged, and not only be welcomed through favorable discrimination, but organized effort should be made to tempt them to locate here.

Increase the number of our manufacturing plants and our population increases in a two-fold ratio. This is the logic in the situation as we see it, and it answers the question as to "what shall we do with our small houses?"

Architects feel greatly encouraged over the outlook, for while the present has been an extremely good year with them, they look forward to 1902 with unusual confidence. It is expected that the work will embrace factories, hotels, apartment houses and costly residences.

Great improvements as well as large increase in values is anticipated along the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Land has already reached $10.00 per acre, and it is expected that fancy sites will go even higher.

That Chestnut street properties have about reached their limit of value is thought by not a few people, yet the supply in the vicinity of Broad street is so extremely limited that such conjectures may be entirely wrong. The contemplated improvements in this neighborhood are so extensive that what these are unfolds an entirely new aspect with no doubt change conclusions.

The Third street section will continue to improve from the fresh impetus the new Stock Exchange will give it.

Arch street from Broad to Eighth street will certainly become a prominent business center, and there is no better opportunity for investment than right there and now. It is stated in this connection that one of our wealthiest houses will locate there.

Deductions based on the condition of the whole country are favorable enough for every one. We are still exporting to an extent which makes us the master of the world, and while this may lead to trouble, it will not be of our own seeking, but as a result of jealousy arising through the want of ability on the part of our competitors. "Commercial things will smash things," says a German Emperor, but when the smashing commences he will not find a one-sided game, at all events.

As will be seen in our tables, this year's record thus far includes 4,679 new buildings of all kinds. Of these, 4,297 (including stores and dwellings) are intended for dwelling purposes, or in other words habitations for at least 21,455 persons.

Comparing the record of last year, which covered the same months, there are 1,833 more buildings erected for dwelling purposes than last year.

This increase is mainly in two-story dwellings which are good for 1,386 of the increase, while the three-story are entitled to but 132, and the four-story 15. The dwelling in operation work—two and three-story dwellings—including stores and dwellings, amounts this year to $10,104,500, while in the same months of 1900 it was only $6,831,000. Right here there is an increase in construction work of $3,273,500.

This increase certainly indicates that there is still great faith existing as to the future for two and three-story dwellings. Nor can it be justly said that it is the result of backing furnished by the trust companies.

The important increases by wards for the two-story dwellings are as follows: Sixth Ward, 10; Twenty-second Ward, 117; Twenty-third, 80; Twenty-fifth, 198; Twenty-eighth, 35; Twenty-second, 4; Thirty-third, 21; Twenty-fourth, 37; Thirty-seventh, 65; Thirty-ninth, 216; Forty-first, 23.

The wards which show a serious falling off from last year in two-story dwellings are the Twenty-first, 12; Twenty-fourth, 37; Twenty-sixth, 120; Twenty-seventh, 13; Thirty-first, 10; Thirty-third, 33; Thirty-sixth, 16; Thirty-eighth, 17; Fortieth, 153.

West Philadelphia, consisting of the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-seventh, Thirty-fourth and Fortieth Wards, shows a gain over last year's work of 132, the important 300 two-story dwellings, the Thirty-fourth having an increase of 508 only, while the Twenty-fourth is 37 less, Twenty-seventh 13, and the Fortieth 153.

In three-story dwellings West Philadelphia shows a gain in each ward, except the Twenty-fourth, which is less by 31. The Twenty-fourth's increase is 22, Twenty-seventh 31, and the Thirty-fourth 51, the total gain being 95.

In the whole city three-story dwelling construction shows a gain over last year's work of 132, the important increases by wards being as follows: Second Ward, 12; Eighth, 3; Fifteenth, 2; Eighteenth, 7; Twentieth, 4; Twenty-first, 34; Twenty-third, 8; Twenty-fourth, 22; Twenty-seventh, 31; Thirty-second, 8; Thirty-fourth, 51; Thirty-fifth, 18; Thirty-seventh, 25; Thirty-ninth, 26. The wards which show less are the First, 4; Fourth, 5; Fourteenth, 1; Sixteenth, 1; Twenty-second, 1; Twenty-eighth, 14; Thirty-first, 1; Thirty-third, 31; Thirty-eighth, 13; Fortieth, 4. Four-story dwellings show an increase of 15, although the 25 erected this year cost but $2,073 more than the 10 erected during the same months of last year.

Office buildings over two story for which building permits have been granted are 4 in number this year, against 5 for the ten months of last year; but while there is one less, the investment in these is greater by $555,500.

Warehouses this season number 29, against 16 in last year's report, and indicate a more active movement in these buildings this season is $1,233,100, while the last year cost $202,700, an increase of $1,030,400.

Dye and dry houses this year are 9 in number, costing $67,840, against 8 last year, costing $35,650, an increase of $32,190.

Factories are 54 this year, costing $1,120,075, against 43, costing $1,045,740, for last season, a gain in the investment of $74,335.

Engine and boiler houses are 14, costing $39,650, while our last November report showed 8, costing $25,000, a gain of 5 this year and $14,650 greater investment.

Breweries and bottling houses number 4 this year, costing $50,350. During the season of 1900 there was but one of these, and its cost was $2,500. Right here there is a gain of $47,850.

Foundries and shops are 21 in number, costing this year $50,000, while our report of last November shows but 20, costing $52,422, an increase in favor of 1901 thus far of $70,738.

The decided increase in our industrial plants we believe fully justifies the increase we show in operation work.

The increase is distributed along the whole line of industrial work, for without a single exception there is a gain in construction work in this direction.

The gain in these industrial plants over those erected during the same months of last year is $1,812,148.

We append a table showing the industrial buildings erected yearly during the last 10 years.

So long as it is conceded that the growth of these various industries is the very essence of the life and prosperity of our city—and the growth this year is sufficiently evident to convince the most skeptical—and the strides in these continue onward and upward, the future of the two and three-story dwellings remains a settled question, for they will be needed.

The schoolhouses number 11, costing $107,365. Last year there were 6, costing $33,097.

Stables are 93, costing $139,500; last year 45 was the number, costing $67,500, an increase of $72,000. Churches, 11 this year, costing $32,902, against 8 last season, costing $337,000.

Miscellaneous buildings are 86, costing $3,167,621, while last year up to November 11 there were 72, costing $2,574,550. Our miscellaneous table gives the special character of these buildings, as follows:

The 86 miscellaneous buildings include: Apartment houses, $25,000; $400,000; $550,000; $150,000; $27,500; $2,000; $135,000; $265,000; $20,000; $70,000; $15,000; $24,000; $49,400; $12,000; hospital, $15,000; home, $34,000; interior finish building at Third and Chestnut streets, $100,000; police stations, $40,000 and $29,321; fire house, $58,800; bakery, $75,000; amphitheatre, $10,000; riding academy, $50,000; home, $10,000; infirmary, $5,000; market, $30,000; printing house, $20,000; boarding house, $19,000; varnish house, $65,000; bakery, $18,000; drill hall, $25,000; theatre, $50,000; theatre, $50,000; bakery, $20,000; armory, $10,000; bank, $50,000; filter house, $140,000; H. H. Godman addition, $23,000; power house, $10,000; bathroom, $3,000; Wayfarers' Lodge, $4,500; pan house, $112,000; hall and store, $15,000; chapel, $2,300; $5,500; $4,500; $1,500; $7,000; $3,500; $4,500; $5,000; $3,000, and a few other buildings of minor importance.

The improvements and additions show considerable improvement. There were 1,027 of these, costing $300 and over, last season, costing $2,890,500, while we account for in this report $2,049, costing $3,073,500, a year gain also of $33,000.

The total expenditure for improvements of sufficient importance to record amounts this year so far to $2,599,834, while for the same months last year it was $1,600,238, a clear gain of $999,596.

Up to October 31st inclusive this year there were 10,829 transfers of real property in this city, bearing a cash consideration of $69,746,181.00; last season there were 10,075, and the cash consideration was $53,508,304.90.

The mortgage encumbrance on the properties transferred this year amounts to $23,323,550.83, or 40.5 per cent.; in 1900 it was 33.6 per cent.; in 1899 it was 40 per cent.; in 1898 it was 36.4 per cent.; 1897, 39.2 per cent.; 1896, 34.3 per cent.; 1895, 29.3 per cent.; 1894, 23.6 per cent.

The ground rents on the properties transferred this year amount to $607,303.23, or about a six per cent. basis represents a further encumbrance of $1,123,221.33.

The sales of real estate at auction from January 1st to October 31st, inclusive, amount to $3,004,594, while our last November report gave but $2,598,613.91, a gain in this year's auction sales of $405,980.02.

Editorial.

It is stated that the Master Paper Hangers' Association contemplate appealing to the next State Legislature for the passage of a bill prohibiting the re-papering of the walls of sleeping rooms in dwellings and offices, and in all other buildings, until the old paper has been removed and the walls have been scraped, as it is claimed that the paper on the walls is an absorbent for contagious germs.

It is almost impossible to believe that a body of sensible men, such as the Master Paper Hangers' Association is supposed to contain, would even attempt to perpetrate such tommy rot upon an all-confiding public.

In the first place it is not the paper, but the paste which these self-same paper hangers use which is the germ catcher in case the playful animal is meandering in the vicinity of their artistic work.

In the second place if the germs is unfortunate enough to get mixed up with the paste, his doom is settled just as soon as he becomes hermetically sealed on the wall under the paper, and all the paper hangers in Christendom couldn't make a live germ out of him after the paste has dried, notwithstanding their unselfish interest in the peoples' welfare.

If the master paper hangers are really serious in their singular interest for the health of mankind, they should submit a bill to the next Legislature to compel paper hangers to use antiseptic paste and at the same time provide for a heavy penalty in the way of fine and imprisonment for every master paper hanger whose men were detected in using any other.

The scheme to compel owners to have their walls scraped, whether they need it or not is about as transparent as the scientific learning they attempt to force upon the public.

Architct Notes.

Revised plans are being prepared and will soon be sent out for bids for the store and office building to be built at Fourth and South streets for Elias Green.

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for a new church edifice for St. Nicholas' Roman Catholic Church, at Atlantic City, N. J. It will be a one-story structure of ornamental appearance, to cost about $100,000.

At Reading, Pa., Muhlenberg Bros., Second National Bank Building, have prepared plans for a handsome dwelling to be erected for Mr. John R. Myler. It will have fine interior finish, sanitary plumbing and will be supplied with all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $12,000.

At Elizabethport, N. J., David B. Provost has prepared plans for a new factory building 150x500 feet long, for the Singer Manufacturing Company. Walls of cement with steel rods, steel frame, asphalt and gravel roof, wire glass, steel girders, three electric elevators for freight, electric lights, etc.

Plans will be sent out this week to builders for estimates for the new clubhouse for the Republican Club to be built on East Girard avenue. It will be three stories high and built of brick and will measure 85x30 feet and will have the usual clubhouse appointments. Plans by Joseph S. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building.

The statement in a local daily paper that C. E. Schermerhorn, architect 430 Walnut street, has completed plans and will send same to local builders for bids on umbrella manufactory, to be erected for the National Umbrella Company at Twelfth and Hamilton streets, is not true. Mr. Schermerhorn knows nothing of such a factory to be erected on the above site.

Caldwell & Simon, architects, 1229 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications for a three-story stone and rough cast residence to be erected at Swarthmore, Pa. for C. R. Robinson. It will measure 50x30 feet. The following builders are asked to bid: H. C. Lewis, of Swarthmore, Pa.; John Davies & Son, William R. Dougherty, Kendrick & Roberts and Kendrick & Co., of this city. Bids due November 14.

Horace Sellers, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has completed plans and will send same to the local builders or estimates the latter part of this week of the new clergy house to be erected for the congregation of St. Clements Protestant Episcopal Church, at Twentieth and Cherry streets. The new structure will be three stories in height and will be constructed of brown stone, to be in keeping with the present church building, and will be fitted up with all modern appointments.

L. T. McLagan, 122 Market street, Newark, N. J., has prepared plans for a handsome two-story and attic stone and shingle dwelling to be erected for Mr. Henry Scheider, 63 Warren street, Newark. Slate roof, broad piazza around two sides, leaded glass dome in roof to light stairway; oak, cherry and white pine interior finish, open fireplace, tiled bathrooms and kitchen, steam heat, sanitary plumbing, gas and electric lighting, leaded glass, cabinet mantels and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $15,000. Work will begin at once.

In the office of Mantle Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street estimates are now being taken on interior fittings and decorations in house on Sixty-fourth street and Madison avenue for Mrs. Georgina Balfour Harrah. Contract has been awarded to the Sunderland Building Company, of Danbury Conn. for the erection of a country house at Ridgefield, Conn., for W. E. Maynard. The building is 95 feet front and has a depth of 70 feet. The style is Italian renaissance, the buildings having large terraces with sunken gardens, the plans for landscape work being made by Olmstead Bros., Brookline, Mass. Present plan does not include heating, electric nor elevator work. Drawings are being made for alterations and additions to the residence at Chestnut Hill for Mrs. Middleton. Estimates will be taken shortly for alterations and additions to the residence of Mrs. Bayard, Germantown, Philadelphia.

At Montclair, N. J., Leonard L. Bishop, 462 Bloomfield avenue, has prepared plans for two attractive dwellings to be erected on Clare ville avenue, Montclair, for Mrs. Lillian F. Francisco, of Upper Montclair. They will be of frame clapboards and red cedar shingles, shingle roofs, quartered oak interior finish on first floor, second floor in cypress or white wood, North Carolina pine floors, plate and leaded glass, steam heat, sanitary plumbing, electric lights, tiling, fine bathroom fixtures, etc. Cost, $6000 each. Also plans for three two-story and attic frame dwellings, to be erected at Verona, for J. Harper Bunnell, of stone and shingle, fine interior finish, and will cost about $16,500.

Also plans for a frame dwelling to be erected for James B. Dyer at a cost of $3000. Also plans for a two-story and attic brick and shingle dwelling to be erected for the Montclair Realty Company, of which S. J. Holmes, 188 Park street, is the manager. Steam heat, hardwood finish, open fireplaces, tiling, cabinet mantels, open plumbing. Cost, $6500.

Arthur H. Brockie, 328 Chestnut street, has sent out revised plans for bids on a large addition to the residence of Mr. Edward Browning Boxwood, at Rosemont, Pa. The following local builders are bidding: William Dougherty, Thomas Little & Son, F. C. Hoover & Son, of this city, and H. P. Wolfe, of Bryn Mawr, Pa. Bids due November 14.

Paul & Seymour Davis, architects, 907 Walnut street, are working on plans for a new bank building to be erected for the First National Bank of Scranton, Pa. It will have granite on three sides and one party wall. Main bank will have marble wainscoting, marble floor and bronze fixtures and a gallery for working space. In the rear will be directors' room, cashier's and president's rooms. In the basement will be bicycle room and working space, clerks' toilet and steel lockers. On second floor will be dining room, toilets and working space. This bank building will cost about $150,000, will be heated with steam and lit by electricity. Will be ready to receive bids about December 1st. Also in the same office are working on plans and specifications for a fireproof woolen mill for William H. Grundy & Co., to be built at Bristol, Pa., to cost about $30,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A large barn and several outbuildings on the Algeron S. Roberts estate, near Bala, were destroyed by fire Sunday night. The estimated loss is about $9000. The farm is leased to Henry Green.

Penn. Erecting Company, 1421 Filbert street, has been awarded the contract for placing an apparatus for filtering all the water to be used in the new Telephone Exchange, Sixteenth and Cherry streets.

It is rumor that the site of the fire, 1219-21 Market street, on which the Hunt, Wilkinson & Co.'s building stood, has been sold, it is reported, for $7000 a foot. Not being able to see Mr. Henry C. Lea, the owner, the report could not be verified.

Harry B. Shoemaker, builder, 113 North Seventh street, has been awarded the contract for addition and alterations to the building 1414 Arch street for the Grand Fraternity. Plans and specifications by Amos Barnes, architect and engineer.

David A. McClelland, builder, 615-17 South Twentieth street, has plans on boards for Sunday school addition to the Dotterer M. E. Church, to be erected at Twenty-fourth and Dickinson streets, from plans prepared by Isaac Purcell, architect, 119 South Fourth street.

George W. Pierzon, builder, Lippincott Building, has been awarded the contract to build the new public school at Eighth and Clearfield streets. Details of this school in one of our recent issues. Plans by Horace Cook, architect for the Board of Education, seventh floor, City Hall.

Kendrick & Co., builders, Perry Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new residence and stable for Charles Bissell, to be erected at Rosemont, Pa. Details of this house and stable previously mentioned. Plans and specifications by Albert Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., builders, Fidelity Building, have been awarded the contract by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the erection of the new passenger station to be built at Twelfth street, Pittsburg, Pa., for that company. It will be built of brick and will be one story high, and will measure 58x23 feet. Work will start at once.

Philip Arms Co., builder, has plans on boards for the Sunday school building for the Dotterer M. E. Church. Plans by Isaac Purcell, architect. Bids due November 16. Also bidding on new summer cottage to be erected at Sea Girt, N. J., for Charles S. Hickman, Esq. Plans by Spencer Roberts, architect. Bids due November 15.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1204 Chancellor street, have posted plans for a summer residence for Charles S. Hickman, to be built at Sea Girt, N. J. It will be two and one-half stories high and will be built of frame with stone foundation and shingle roof. The interior will be hardwood finish and will measure 70x50 feet. Bids due December 15.

Harry B. Shoemaker, builder, 113 North Seventh street, has plans on boards for a mill and dye house for Fred. Rumpfs & Sons, to be built at Langhorne, Pa. The proposed building will replace the property recently destroyed by fire. One-half of the building will be three stories high, the mill will measure 40x40 feet and the dye house will measure 102x47 feet. It will contain a boiler room

What will probably be the largest coal pier in this country will shortly be erected at Newport News by New River soft-coal operators. The New River combination is headed by Thos. G. McKell, president of the McKell Coal & Coke Co., and C. J. Whittenberg, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Coal & Coke Co. These two gentlemen and other Northern capitalists, together with several English ship-owners and bankers, have secured an option on the Whitehead-Tucker tract, fronting 500 feet on Hampton Roads. Work on the structure will begin almost immediately.

William Steel & Sons, builders, Witherpoon Building, will build the $350,000 mammoth new hotel and apartment house that is to go at Michican avenue and the Beach, Atlantic City, N. J., for a syndicate headed by Dr. Philip P. Marvel, of that city. The building will be fireproof throughout and one of the finest ever built in Atlantic City. Details of this hotel in one of our recent issues. Plans and specifications by Rodgers & Macfarland, architects, Detroit, Mich. It is expected that this hotel will be ready for the accommodation of guests by July 1, 1902.

Reports from the south show that the building in that section of the country will far surpass the building record of 1900, Atlanta's building record and Richmond's show that the building this season will be nearly double of last year. With the opening of the Charleston Exposition it will open up many new avenues for the manufacturers and dealers in building supplies to sell their goods to the south. The architects have shown their ability to design and construct buildings which are both artistic and an architectural monument to the cities in which they have been erected.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have completed plans and are asking for bids for store building and stable to be erected at Forty-ninth and Baltimore ave. for Robinson & Crawford. The store building will measure 22x75 feet, 2 inches and will be built of brick and stone and terra cotta. It will be two stories high, the first floor will be a large store, the second floor living apartments. The stable is two stories, built of brick and will measure 16 feet, 6 inches by 20 feet, 9 inches. It will be situated directly in the rear of the store. Hiram Miller & Sons are bidding.

Lewis Havens & Sons, builders, Grand Building, are about to start the erection of an eight-story mercantile building at 1216-18 20 Arch street, the old Moore property. This building will be built for Youngs Smyth Field of the wholesale notion firm at Tenth and Market streets. The company has been reorganized and Mr. Field is president. This new structure is to have a frontage of seventy-five feet. The elevation plans show a front largely of glass, the first story filled in with granite, the second with Indiana lime stone and the rest gray brick. Plans have been prepared by Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn square.

R. Monroe Stout, builder, 1215 Filbert street, has plans posted for the two story Sunday school addition to the Dotterer Memorial Church, at Twenty-fourth and Dickinson streets. It is to measure 64x90 feet and will be built of stone. Plans and specifications by Isaac Purcell, 119 South Fourth street. The same builder is also estimating on a new residence to be built at Grove Terrace and Old York road, Willow Grove, for Daniel T. T. Nolan. It is to be three stories high and to measure 33 feet 6 inches by 33 feet 6 inches. Details of this house in one of our previous issues. Plans and specifications by Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's new stone bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg is nearly finished, and will be the largest and longest bridge of the kind for railroad use in the world. The length between shore abutments is 8791 feet, or over two-thirds of a mile, there being forty-eight spans or arches, making a structure of great solidity and imposing appearance. Four tracks will occupy the surface and four trains can run over it at the same time at maximum speed. The old iron bridge, built in 1874 for two tracks, has become inadequate for the road's business at that point, and not strong enough to stand the greater weight of modern locomotives and cars.

Thos. Little & Sons, builders, 1220 Ranstead street, have plans on boards for the Children's Seaside Home, to occupy the block of ground bounded by Annapolis and Richmond avenues, Atlantic avenue and the Boardwalk, Chelsea, N. J. The main building will front towards the ocean and will be three stories high and measure 290x64 feet, including two wings. In the rear two one-story lantern-roof wings will be attached, each measuring 168x40 feet. The buildings will be constructed of wood. A dome-shaped cupola will rise from the roof of the main building. Bids due November 17. Plans and specifications of Frank Miles Day & Bros., architects, 925 Chestnut street.

W. W. Rea & Sons, builders, 1815 Francis street, have been awarded the contract to build the eight-story light manufacturing building to be erected at the northeast corner of Ninth and Spruce streets. It will be built of brick and Indiana limestone trimmings and slow-burning mill construction, and will measure 62 feet 2 1/2 inches by 99 feet 6 1/2 inches, and will also have a fireproof sub-basement. This building will be equipped with machinery necessary for a building of this kind. It is to be erected on the site of the Friends' Meeting House, which will be demolished. Plans and specifications by Charles Balderston, architect, 411 Walnut street. This building will cost about $50,000.

The announcement of the laying of the last rail on the longest railway in the world, the one connecting Moscow and St. Petersburg, and through them all Europe with the Pacific ocean at Vladivostok, goes well with the announcement of the conclusion of Russia's convention with China consenting to Russian dominion in Manturia, to which place the great railway will ultimately be extended. The hand which governs the locomotive throttle on the Siberian Railway will forever outweigh the influence of other foreign hands in Northern China. The real line will be the road through Manchuria and the real terminus Port Arthur on the Gulf of Pechili. The road which is now finished makes, to reach Vladivostok through the former Russian territory, a detour which is comparable to that of the Intercolonial road in Canada. It is even a matter of doubt whether the true line will not some time strike straight through Mongolia from the Balkan, via Urgan and the Gobi Desert to Shanhaikwan—Exchange.

At St. Louis, Mo., the Washington University site of twelve acres, directly west of the World's Fair grounds, and all of the fine university buildings have been acquired for the use of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company during the life of the World's Fair. The Washington University gives the Exposition Company free use of the university grounds and buildings, and in turn the Exposition Company will expend $1,000,000 in the erection of permanent buildings, to become

(ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.)

VOL. XVI.—No. 47. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

J. A. Oakley & Son, 1201 East Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J., has prepared plans for a four-room school building, to be erected at Roselle, N. J.

W. N. Jury, Shamokin, Pa., has prepared plans for a fireproof hotel, to be erected at Ninth and Independence streets, for the Shamokin Inn Company. The estimated cost is about $75,000.

The statement in the daily papers that Smead-Wills Warming & Ventilating Co., of 417 Locust street, was about to place a steam plant in West Chester, Pa., for the heating of houses of that town is untrue.

Albert Dilks, architect, Mutual Life Building, has sent out to builders for estimates plans for the alteration to the seventh floor of the Watkins Building. The following builders have been asked to bid: James J. Bradin, Jno Wiggins and Lewis Havens & Sons. Bids due November 21st.

Harry Reinhold, architect, 430 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a two-story and a half residence, to be erected in Brook Haven, Delaware county, Pa., for Mr. James Traumbauer. It will be built of frame with stone foundation and shingle roof and will measure 35x40 feet. It will contain all the latest improvements.

John Allen, architect, Betz Building, has plans prepared and sent same to builders for estimates for a fireproof storage house. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick and slow burning mill construction. This storage house is for the Park Theatre and will be built in the rear of the theatre facing on Olive street and will cost $7,000.

David K. Dean, 430 High street, Williamsport, Pa., has prepared plans for a church for the Christian Society at New Martinsville, West Virginia. It will be of brick veneered, stone basement, slate roof, well finished throughout, stained glass, steam heat, electric lights, church furniture and fixtures; cost, $4,000. Rev. W. M. Long is the pastor in charge.

Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, is preparing plans for a new residence to be built at Merchantville, N. J., for William Early. It will be two and a half stories high. It will be built of frame with stone foundation and shingle roof. Interior will be in hard wood finish and will have all the modern improvements. It will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

Harry Daght, architect, 435 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a new academy building, to be erected at Lakewood, N. J., for the Sisters of Mercy of that place. It will be three and one half stories high and will be constructed of brick and stone and will measure 65x100 feet. It will be fireproof in construction and all modern details are provided for the interior equipment in the specifications, and when the structure is finished it will be complete in every respect. It will cost about $80,000. Will not be ready for bids until some time after the first of the year.

Cope & Stewards, n. architects, 320 Walnut street, have completed plans and sent same out for estimates for a two-story stone stable to measure 90x32 feet, to be erected at Ambler, Pa., for Mr. Chas P. Fox. J. S. Cornell & Son are building.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, is working on plans for a two-story stable to be built at Wyncote Pa., for Dr. John B. Deaver. It will be built of stone and will contain eight stalls six single and two box. The carriage house and harness room will be on the first floor, and the second floor will be left and man quarters.

Howard A. Stout, of Atlantic City, N. J., has prepared plans for a handsome country place, to be erected near Leeds' Point, for R. W. Scott, of Philadelphia. The structure will be three stories high, of brick and frame, fine interior finish, two bathrooms, eight bedrooms, library, parlor, dining room, kitchen, etc. A stable, with accommodations for six horses and a number of carriages, will also be erected. The cost will be about $15,000. The grounds will also be improved, from plans prepared by a landscape gardener.

Paul & Seymour Davis, architects, 905 Walnut street, have prepared sketch of a handsome hotel to be erected at Atlantic City for Mr. G. Jason Walter. This hotel will be six stories high and basement. It will be part brick and stone, and on the roof of this hotel will be a roof garden. It will have all the appointments of a first-class hotel. On the front and facing the sea there will be a casino building erected. This hotel is to be erected on the old Bev property. The hotel will be known as the Hotel Windsor. When finished it will be one of the finest hotels now there.

Bailey & Trascott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have prepared plans and sent same to builder for estimates for a handsome residence to be built for Samuel M. Curwen at Villa Nova, Pa. It is to be three stories high, the first story to be built of stone, the balance to be built of stucco work. The interior will be finished in hardwood and wired for electricity, and will contain the most approved plumbing work, with all the latest improvements. The following builders are invited to bid: Grey Bros., of Rosemont, Pa.; Henry P. Wolfe and George C. Ristine, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Jacob Myers & Sons, of Philadelphia. Bids due Monday, November 25.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, are working on plans for a new house to be erected at Rosemont, Pa., for Major General Brooke, U. S. A., one of the heroes of the Spanish-American War. It will be built of stone, plaster finished and will be two-story high. It will measure 80x35 feet. The interior wood work on the first floor will be hardwood and the second floor white pine painted. It will cost between $12,000 and $15,000. The same architects are preparing plans for a two story plaster and shingle roof, work house and stable to be erected at Bellhaven, Conn., for Mr. and Mrs. G. Bauman, of New York City. The house will contain 15 to 20 rooms and will cost about $30,000.

Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, has completed plans and sent same to builders for estimates for a four-story warehouse, to be erected at Sixth and Clearfield streets, for the Philadelphia Brewing Company. A central portion, running longitudinally, is one story high. It will be built of brick, stone and terra cotta, and will be fireproof throughout. It will measure 59 feet 11 inches by 104 feet 2 inches. Bids are due November 25. The following is a complete list of those invited to bid: Charles McCaul Company, J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Doyle & Doak, Thomas Reilly, Roydhouse & Arey, Cramp & Co., Payne & Co., Stacey Reeves & Sons, John Wiggins and Steel & Sons. Also in same office are at work on plans for a stockhouse for the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, to be erected at Thirty-third street and Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Details later.

Perot & Bissell, architects, Bourse Building, are working on plans for a colonial stable to be built at Wilmington, Del. for Mr. Du Pont. It will be two stories, built of frame and brick with shingle roof, and will measure 35x70 feet, contain box and shingle stalls, a large carriage house and all the latest sanitary stable improvements. Also working on plans for a parish house and church hall, to be built at Mauch Chunk, Pa. It will be a one-story and basement structure and will be colonial in design. It will be built of brick with granite trimmings and shingle roof. It will be wired for electricity and have patented skylights, Wilson rolling partitions, heated with hot water, and will contain all the latest modern improvements. Also working on plans for an addition and alterations to a residence outside of Philadelphia. The addition is to be a five-story structure, to be built of brick and steel, and will be fireproof throughout. The interior will be wired for electricity, heated with hot water, best plumbing and will contain all the up-to-date improvements. It will measure 25x150 feet and will be French style of architecture. The alterations will consist of general improvements to the old or present structure. The exact location and name of owner withheld for the present. Also in same office have plans under way for alterations and addition to a residence near Wilmington, Del. The addition is to be a four-story structure, to be built of frame with slate roof, the interior finished in hardwood, wired for electricity and heated with hot water, best plumbing and all the latest appointments. This new building will measure 25x35 feet. The alterations are general improvements to the present residence. The exact location and the name of the owner also withheld for the present.

The Following Communication from Architect Deery, Betz Building, will be read with interest:

TO THE EDITOR REAL ESTATE RECORD.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12, 1901.
DEAR SIR:—The recent horrible and sad spectacle of the destruction of lives and buildings on Market street was an incident that will be frequently repeated in this city, where buildings have been similarly constructed, unless the owners remodel them to a higher standard. It is possible to convert them to "slow burning construction" at an economical expenditure of money. To change them to "slow burning construction" it is necessary to remove all air spaces or passages around floor beams, ceiling joints, partition studdings and wall furrings where they are of wood by filling in compactly all the spaces or voids between them with either terra cotta tiles, concrete asbestos, mineral wool or other non-inflammable material. Cast iron or steel or metal columns supporting walls or girders should be encased in not less than two inches of brick, terra cotta or concrete. Posts under girders if of solid timber of liberal thicknesses are very advantageous in time of fire. If of meagre thicknesses they could be increased by spiking or bolting solid planking closely together.

Where rooms have not any ceilings and the floor beams are exposed they could be changed to the new standard by bolting or spiking another beam or joist tightly against each of those in service; then put over existing floors, a two inch tongued and grooved plank flooring.

Such reconstructions to "slow burning construction" can be obtained without the cessation of the business, and will provide a building that will be the equal, and often the superior of many ill devised "fireproof constructions." The interest on the capital invested for these suggested reconstructions will be found to be considerably less, and therefore a saving over existing outlays since the fire insurance would be greatly reduced, and the certainty of non-interruption or destruction in an established business would be assured, and in the event of rental the owner or estate would not be deprived of the earning power, while the bonds of sympathy and humanity would be strengthened in the protection afforded human lives since a conflagration in such a structure would be readily confined to the part in which a fire may originate.

The stairs should be inclosed in walls or non-combustible partitions with heavy iron doors. They should be in constant use and would be escapes from the ravages of sudden fire and smoke. JOHN JEROME DEERY.

"Quick as a Wink."

With the increased use of compressed air as a motive power for many purposes, hose with convenient and quick acting couplers are indispensable to the speedy accomplishment of work.

The W. J. Clark Co., of Salem, Ohio, have been making for the past seven years a coupling called the "Quick as Wink" for air or water hose, which has reached a deserved popularity in manufacturing plants. It is made in all the different sizes required for different sizes of hose, the larger sizes being used extensively by fire departments.

"Quick as Wink" couplings have many advantages which commend them to manufacturing plants where economy of time is a valuable consideration. The important feature of this coupling is the ease with which it is connected and disconnected. One man can do the work in just about one-fifth the time required by screw couplings. It is locked merely by pushing the two parts together and unlocked by inserting the small, flat key and giving a slight turn. One particular benefit of these couplers is very apparent. They are so easily and quickly operated that almost no time is required to attach a piece of hose, or detach it from the air supply in any part of the shop. A workman is thus enabled to couple the hose from one place, and carry and attach it to another, about as quickly as if he has only to pick up and carry and lay down the hose, only a second or two being consumed in operating the couplers.

Connections made by "Quick as Wink" couplings are absolutely secure, no twisting or sharp bends of the hose will cause a coupler to let go or leak, and the facility with which the couplings are operated works a large saving in time of workmen in compressed air using plants. Compressed air has come to be regarded as one of the most safe, economical and useful powers, and the "Quick as Wink" coupling for the hose by which compressed air is applied to the working of pneumatic tools and machines, seems to be an indispensable adjunct thereto. The company has a catalogue which explains their coupler with great detail. A copy may be had on request.

Architect Notes.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, are taking revised bids on the new house for Mrs. D. W. Nolan to be erected at Willow Grove, Pa.
Caldwell & Simon, architects, 1229 Walnut street, have prepared plans and are taking preliminary bids on a six-story building for light manufacturing purposes. It will be built of brick and steel and slow burning mill construction. It will measure 30 ft x 70 ft, and is to be erected at 118-15 North Seventh street. The building will be equipped with machinery necessary for a building of this kind. W. R. Dougherty, Thos. Seeds and John Davies & Sons are bidding.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is reported that John W. De Long will erect a six-story apartment house in Germantown, to measure 40x138 feet, and to be known as the St. Albans.

Steel & Sons, Witherspoon Building, will make alterations and additions to 148-5 Prudence avenue (Second and Callowhill sts) for Mr. Fremont Bowman.

Harry Kuemmerle, builder, Betz Building, has plans posted for an addition to stock house for Crystal Spring Brewing Company, at Conshohocken, Pa. It will be three stories high and be built of brick and slow burning mill construction. It will have cement floor and be fireproof throughout. Bids due November 23.

The contract for the erection of the stock house and cleaning pit house, to be erected at Reading, Pa., for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, has been awarded to George W. Beard, builder, of Reading, Pa. Plans and specifications by Wilson Bros. & Co., architects and engineers, of this city.

W. A. & A. E. Wells, builders, Stephen Girard Building, have been awarded the contract to build the Stock Exchange at the northeast corner of Third and Walnut street. Contract price $160,635. This price does not include interior finishing or the installation of the mechanical plant. Louis Hickman is the architect.

The store properties 1227-29 Market street, which were damaged as a result of the Hunt-Wilkinson fire, are to be rebuilt by Doyle & Doak, builders, for Elliston P. Morris, the owner. The ruins of 1227 are to be torn down and a three-story brick building measuring 20x180 feet is to be erected. The building 1229 is to be rebuilt and remodeled.

Steel & Sons, builders, have plans posted for a two and one-half story shing residence, to measure 31x33 feet, to be built at Oak Lane for Mrs. J. R. Reynolds. Plans by Stern & Castor, architects. Also bidding on warehouse for the Philadelphia Brewing Company, to be built at Sixth and Clearfield streets, city. Plans by Otto Wolf, architect. Bids due November 25.

MacIn & Brown, builders, 147 North Seventh street, have been awarded the contract for addition and alterations to residence of Ledyard Heckscher, at Devon, Pa. The addition will be stone with shingle roof, and will match the present structure in style and material. This addition will be about double the size of the old house. Plans by Duhring, Okie and Zeigler, architects.

The George A. Fuller Construction Company, North American Building, is figuring on plans of Architect Burham, of Chicago, Ill., in order to make an approximate bid for the erection of a twenty-two-story office building on the site of the Lafayette Hotel, adjoining the Land Title Building, which was designed by the same architect. It will measure 120x140 feet. Bids due November 27.

Washington, D. C.

A site has been selected for the building for the Government Bureau of Standards and has been approved by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, President of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The tract of land selected for the purpose is known as "Children's Home" site. It consists of about eight acres, situate about a quarter of a mile west of Connecticut avenue, on Pierce Mill road. The site was selected because it is so situated as to be free from all mechanical and electrical disturbances and influences, and because its elevation is sufficient to meet the requirements of atmospheric conditions, factors necessarily taken into consideration in view of the delicate and accurate work, which is performed by the new government institution. The sum of $25,000 has been appropriated, to be expended in the purchase of the site. The Board of Visitors, when it meets in December, will examine the plans for two buildings, the erection of which has been authorized for the purposes of the bureau. These buildings are to be a laboratory and power house, and it is estimated will cost about $250,000. It is expected that the work of construction will be begun January, and that the buildings will be finished in about a year. The new bureau was authorized at the last session of Congress. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 27, 1901

Architect Notes.

Plans are under way by the government architects and will soon be ready for bids for a pattern shop to be built at League Island. Capt. Chambers will have the matter in charge. Will cost $70,000.

At Norristown, N. J., George W. Bower & Son have prepared plans for a three-story, brick store and flat building, to be erected on Speedwell avenue for Salmey Bros. The plans call for metal ceilings, steel beams, plate glass, terra cotta, open plumbing and steam heat. Will cost $14,000.

Architect Aher A. Ritcher, of Lebanon, Pa., has had his plans accepted for the new Memorial Reformed Church to be erected in Washington, D. C. This is the church congregation with which President Roosevelt worships. Cost estimated between sixty and ninety thousand dollars.

C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a new store building for Mr. George Twibill, Sr., to be erected at 3629 Ridge avenue. It will be built of brick with tin roof, an ornamental front and plate glass windows. The owner will take bids. It will measure 20x29 feet.

A. A. Richter, Lebanon, Pa., has had his plans accepted for a new church to be erected in Washington, D. C., for the congregation of the Memorial Reformed Society. It will be gothic in design, finely finished throughout, handsome church furniture and fixtures. The estimated cost is about $90,000.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozer Building, have plans under way for a handsome library building for the West Chester Normal School. The preliminary drawing shows a very artistic stone structure; further details later. Also are designing a magnificent memorial chapel for the Church of St. Saviour Protestant Episcopal, to be erected at Bar Harbor, Me.

J. Jerome Deery, architect, Betz Building, has plans in the course of preparation for a mortuary chapel and family vault, to be built at East Hampton, L. I., for Mr. John Monks. The structure will measure 24x38 feet with a partition measuring 6x12 feet. It will be built of stone and finished on the inside with tile and marble floors and walls.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, has prepared plans and is taking bids on the erection of a boiler house for the Hotel Chalfonte, at Atlantic City, N. J. It will be three stories high, built of brick and measure 53x46 feet. The following builders are bidding: Stacey Reeves & Sons, Doyle & Deak, of this city; Daniel Kannuer and Frank Souder, of Atlantic City, N. J.

Wilson Bros. & Co., architects and engineers, have prepared plans, which have been forwarded to the owner, for a handsome colonial style house, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa.

It will be three stories high and built of brick and stone and measure 60x85 feet. It will be surrounded by a porch and have portiere cocheres. The interior will be finished in hardwood and will contain all the latest modern improvements. Owner will take bids.

McIlvain & Roberts architect, Land Title Building, have prepared plans of a stable for Mr. Phineas Protty to be built at Haverford, Pa. It will be frame with stone foundation and will be two-stories high, the first floor will contain 3 single and 1 box stalls, carriage and harness room; second floor will contain loft and men quarters. It will measure 25x40 feet, and will be wired for electricity, heated by hot air and will have all the sanitary stable appointments.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed plans for a two-story and basement brick laundry building, measuring 84x90 feet to be built on the lot at Sixteenth and Dauphin streets, for the Excellent Laundry, of which A. S. Cassell is the proprietor. This building will have an ornamental front of gray-faced brick trimmed with galvanized iron and terra cotta. Mr. Cassell will take bids. A. Raymond Raff, Burd P. Evans and Kendall & Co. are bidding.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has prepared plans and is taking bids on a residence, to measure 85x92 feet, for Mr. Frank Presbrey, to be built at Briarcliff Manor, N. Y. The house is to be very handsome in design and will be built of stone and half-timber with shingle roof. The interior will be hardwood finish with stained glass windows, tile work and best plumbing. It will be heated with steam heat and wired for electricity and will contain all modern conveniences.

It is the intention of Mr. Carl Berger and the owner to sub-contract and to invite all sub-contractors on all the work pertaining to the erection of the three story fireproof laboratory and office building and glass factory with power plant for Mr. Max Levy, to be built at Wayne Junction. Plans can be seen at the Builders' Exchange; Mr. Carl Berger's, office, 14 South Broad, and Mr. Max Levy's, office, 1225 Race street. Plans will be ready for bids on Wednesday, November 27.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have sent plans and specifications to builders for estimates for the handsome three-story residence of Mr. Thompson McClintock to be built at Haverford, Pa. Details of this house previously noted. The following builders have been invited to bid, Chas. McCaul Co., Lewis Havens' Sons, Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., Geo. F. Payne & Co., Kindrick & Co., of this city; H. Rand, of Oak lane and Frank Mahan, of Ardmore, Pa., bids due December 6.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have plans under way for an iron foundry, to measure 75x300 feet, to be erected at 1612 Vandyke street for the Schneider Iron Foundry. Also working on plans for a spinning mill, to be built of brick and to measure 75x450 feet, to be erected at Frankford and Allegheny avenues. Also same architects are designing a number of handsome houses for William Overington, to be erected along Oakland and Orthodox streets to Arrot street, Frankford. They will be three stories high and have porch fronts, and be built of brick and stone, and will include all the modern improvements.

Duhring, Okie Ziegler, Crozer Building, have completed plans and sent same to builders for house and stable to be built for J. W. Sharp, Jr., at Berwyn, Pa. The house will be two and a half stories high with a frontage of 50 feet and a rear wing. It will be built of stone. The interior will have hardwood finish and will contain all the latest and modern improvements. The stable will be two story and will also be built of stone. The first floor will contain stalls, carriage and harness room and second floor will contain loft and man quarters. The following is the list of builders who have been invited to bid: Balingier Co., John Wiggins, W. R. Dougherty, Machin & Brown, of this city, and Wm. Burns and W. J. McComb, of Berwyn, Pa. Bids due December 2.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, is preparing plans for a handsome country residence for Anthony J. Drexel upon the old Phillips property, at Villa Nova Pa., which Mr. Drexel bought a few days before returning to Europe. The house will be built of Indiana limestone with red tile roof and have a front of 160 feet and a depth of 100 feet. The style of the English Renaissance will be followed. The entrance hall will be elaborately carved stone, which will open into a main hall 60 feet long and 30 feet wide. On either side of the main hall will be the library and dining room, both of which will be elaborately decorated. On this floor will also be a breakfast room, drawing room, billiard and smoking rooms, Mr. Drexel's office, the children's dining room and parlors. A broad stairway of ornately carved stone will lead to the second floor, where there will be seven teen bedrooms, each with a bath adjoining. On the third floor there will be twenty bedrooms and baths for the servants. The building will cost approximately $250,000. Will be ready for estimates in a short while.

CHESTNUT HILL PHILA. PA.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have sent out plans for estimates for a big addition to the present mineral water plant of Brinton & Bruns. The addition will be three stories high and built of stone and terra cotta with mottled brick front. The roof is to be slag. The floor of this building will be cement and measure 29 feet 6 inches by 59 feet 8 inches. It is to be erected on the west side of Seventeenth street, above Vine, and will adjoin the present plant. Bids due December 1. The same architects have designed a shaft of monumental granite, to be erected in the National cemetery, at Culpepper, Va., in honor of the deceased members of the Twenty-seventh Regiment, New York State Volunteers of the Civil War. The New York coat of arms will be cut in relief near the top of the monument, below which is a citation of the deeds of the First Brigade, First Division, Twelfth Corps, Army of the Potomac. The shaft will be twenty-one feet high, 8 feet square at the base and 6 feet square at the top. S. S. Marvin, of this city, has the project in hand. It will cost about $5000.

Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Building, have completed plans and specifications for a handsome residence to build at the northwest corner of Forty-sixth and Kingessing avenue for Mrs. Frank Van Roden. The Lutheran Church of the Incarnation is at present on this corner and the building is to be demolished to make room for this new residence. The plans call for a three-story residence of handsome design, measuring 41' 6" x 43' with a rear extension of 15' x 27' 8". The exterior walls will be pressed brick laid in flemish bond with trimmings of blue stone and marble. An eight-foot-wide hall will extend through the three floors. On the first, on either side of the hall will be library, reception room, dining and music room. In the extension will be kitchen and laundry. The upper two floors will have eight bed rooms, a children's play room, studio and servants' quarters. The interior appointments will include open fire places, a dumb waiter, electric lights, open work plumbing and tile and mosaic work. The house will be finished throughout in hardwood. The cost will approximate $25,000. The following is the list of builders who are asked to bid: Jacob Myers & Sons, Doyle & Doak and James Johnson.

Carl P. Berger, architect, 14 South Broad street, has prepared plans and specifications and will send out to-day for alteration and addition to house at the northwest corner of Nineteenth and Spring Garden streets. It is a three-story residence, measuring 36x80 feet and will have new dining room, kitchen, sitting room, stairs, reception hall and entire renovation inside and out. It will have new front and bay windows, hardwood floors and three new bath rooms and entirely new up-to-date plumbing, beamed ceiling, tile work and interior decorations. The following is the list of builders who are invited to bid: Doyle & Doak, William R. Dougherty, George F. Payne & Co., A. Raymond Raff, Roydhouse, Arey & Co., G. L. Shipp, Wm. Steel & Sons, Wade & Gilpin, J. C. Wiggins, Appleton & Burrell. Bids due December 30. Also in same office plans and specifications of laboratory and office building for Max Levy, to be built at Wayne Junction, Germantown, are being revised, which provides for a three-story instead of a two-story building as last announced and will be thoroughly fireproof. Also plans have been prepared for a glass factory for the same party at the same place. These plans include power house, boiler and engine room and cold storage, to be built of brick with steel trussed roof and also to be fireproof. These plans will also be sent out to-day.

Architect Notes.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, 1421 Chestnut street, architects, are taking bids on plastering, decorating and fresco painting on New Arcade for Horn & Hardart, 816 18 Chestnut street.

It is rumored that Joseph M. Huston, architect, will announce in a few days the name of the successful builder for the new club house for the Eighteenth Ward Republican Club. It is to be built at 420 East Girard avenue.

Geo. I. Lovatt, architect, 424 Walnut street, is preparing preliminary sketches for a convent for the Roman Catholic Parish of St. Paul, at Wilmington, Del. Rev. J. J. Monaghan is the pastor. It is to be three stories high, of stone and brick, and will measure 45 x 100 feet.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and sent same to builders for estimates for a two-story brick stable measuring 30 x 44 feet, for the Philadelphia Home Made Bread Co. to be erected at 1426-28 Marshall street. Bids due December 9th.

At Greensburg, Pa., W. B. Sloan has prepared plans for a parsonage to be erected at Latrobe, Pa. It will be of brick veneered, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. The building committee consists of C. W. Saxman, T. B. Anderson and E. B. McCully.

Perot & Bissell, architects, Bourse Building, will send out plans on December 5th for parish house and church hall to be known as St. Mark Hall, to be built at Mauch Chunk, Pa. The following builders have been invited to bid: W. J. Dougherty, N. J. Gruher, of this city, and Chas. Neast and J. Sanel, of Mauch Chunk, Pa.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a three-story brick and iron dormitory for the State Lunatic Hospital, at Harrisburg, to cost about $50,000. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Architect Clutho's competitive plans have been accepted for the new city hall to be erected at Jacksonville, Fla.

A. P. Cooper, Uniontown, Pa., has prepared plans for a large addition to the West End Hotel, at Uniontown. It will contain eighty-three rooms, baths, etc., and will cost $20,000.

J. Charles Fulton, Uniontown, has prepared plans for a church to be erected for the Methodist Episcopal congregation at Martin's Ferry, Ohio. It will be finely finished, provided with modern conveniences, and will cost about $85,000.

Eight designs have been submitted for the new capitol building to be erected at Harrisburg, Pa. Four of these come from Pittsburgh, one from York, one from Lancaster, two from Philadelphia. The estimated cost of the building is $4,000,000. Professor Wm. P. Ware, of Columbia University, will make a selection of the plans to enter for competition. It is stated that Professor Ware will be able to report about December 20th next.

W. L. Price, architect, 731 Walnut street, has finished plans and invited estimates for a handsome three story residence to be built at Tyrol, Montgomery county, Pa., for Mr. C. C. Price. It is to be built of stone and plaster work. The interior will be finished in hardwood, will be wired for electricity and will have the best plumbing. It will contain all the latest improvements and will measure 60 x 50 feet. The following builders have received invitations to bid: Frank Mahan, of Ardmore, Pa.; Milton W. Young of Overbrook; Alex. Martin, of Conshohocken, Pa. and R. C. Ballinger & Co., of this city. Bids are due December 6th.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is stated in hotel circles that the Hotel Bellevue, on Broad street, is to be torn down and an office building erected on the site.

It is expected that the sub-Committee of Councils on Municipal Hospital Sites will decide to-day on the proper grounds for this hospital.

Doyle & Doak, builders, have been awarded the contract to make alterations to 1425 Moravian street, for the Union League. Work on this building will start at once.

Stiles & McCay, builders, of Atlantic City, will erect the new apartment house for Capt. Young, which is to be erected opposite his pier at Atlantic City, N. J. Details of this house previously noted in one of our issues.

William R. Dougherty, 1804 Sansom street, has been awarded the contract for a new stable to be erected at Torresdale, Philadelphia, for Mrs. Middleton. It will be two stories high, of stone, measuring 35x75 feet.

Councils' Committee on Schools yesterday decided to recommend an increase in appropriation to the Board of Education of $15,000 for the construction of elevators in the Girls' High School and Commercial High School.

It is rumored that James B. Reilly, proprietor of the Hotel St. Charles, at Atlantic City, has sold this hotel to a party named Kleinsmith, of Philadelphia, for $300,000. This hotel is one of the finest hostleries on the Jersey coast.

It is rumored that Patrick McShane, builder, 2500 North Thirty-fourth street, has been awarded the contract to make alterations to the residence of Mrs. Daniel Egan 4520 Chester avenue. Work will include electric lighting, steam heating, etc.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., builders, Fidelity Building, has been awarded the contract to erect the new station at Fifty-second street for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Details of this building previously noted. Plans were prepared by the company's own engineers.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1509 Sansom street, has plans posted for the handsome marble gymnasium for the Girard College, bids due December 5th. Plans were prepared by James Windrim. Also for additions and alterations to the residence of W. E. Carter, at Newport, R. I. Plans and specifications by Horace Trumbauer, architect.

Kendrick & Co., builders, Perry Building, have been awarded the contract for an addition to the varnish factory at Eleventh and Curtin streets. The addition will be a frame structure covered with galvanized iron, and will measure 20x45 feet. Also have been awarded the contract for alterations to Union Traction Company's building, on Susquehanna avenue.

Burd P. Evans, builder, has been awarded the contract to erect the three-story brick and steel frame laundry building for the Excellent Laundry, A. S. Cassell, proprietor. Contract price $8000. Plans by C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 480 Walnut street. Also has plans posted for the new gymnasium for the Girard College, and for the new brew house for the Crystal Springs Brewing Co.

Harry Kates, builder, of Willow Grove, has been awarded the contract to erect the new residence for Mr. L. J. Nolan, at Willow Grove, Pa. It will be frame with stone foundation, and will measure 33 feet 6 inches by 33 feet 6 inches and with kitchen wing 18x10 feet. Details of this house in one of our recent issues. Plans by Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

D. W. Sperry, builder, 1305 Arch street, has been awarded the contract to build the handsome new residence and stable at Melrose, Pa., for Mr. Raymond White. The house is to be three stories high and will be built of stone and pebbled ash, the stable will be two stories, of stone and elaborate design. They will cost $10,500. Plans by Albert E. Yarnall and E. Allan Wilson.

Jacob Myers & Sons have plans posted for a four-story structure with a very ornate front of polished granite with fancy galvanized iron trimmings. The whole of the first floor, an area 21 feet 9½ inches by 97 feet 8½ inches, will be store proper of Peter Thompson. The upper three floors will be devoted to work rooms. This structure will be built at 1118 Walnut street. The present building is to be demolished. Plans by Edgar Hazlehurst, architect.

The Board of Port Wardens yesterday granted licenses to the Pennsylvania Railroad to construct piers out to the Port Wardens' line, between Walnut and Dock streets, and to John D. Pew to build a pier at Marcus Hook. Applications were received from Alexander Kerr & Co. to construct a bulkhead at Green street, and from George W. Hancock to build a pier at Vine street wharf. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company also asked leave to extend Pier 43, North Wharves, and E. B. Malone asked for a permit to extend Pier 44, North Wharves. All applications were referred to the Committee on Improvements of the Delaware River.

Proprietor, Publisher and Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. DEC. 4 1901

The citizens of the twenty-ninth ward have prevailed upon Builder Henry R. Shoch to again become a candidate for re-election to Select Council.

It is seldom that this journal enters into the sphere of politics. Its purpose is to serve the interests of the building and real estate trades of this city and State, which are composed of gentlemen of different political affiliations.

It needs no apology, however, for its earnest endorsement of the candidacy of Mr. Shoch, for it is doubtful if there is anyone in the real estate interests of this city as builder, owner and broker, who in the past quarter of a century has contributed in enterprise and earnest work more to the city's welfare than has Mr. Shoch.

In contradistinction to the political hacks of both parties, all of whom are constantly seeking nominations of some sort, Mr. Shoch as a citizen and business man rises head and shoulders above nine tenths of the average on whom political preferment falls, for he is not only identified through large property interests with the policy of retrenchment and economy in municipal management, but his antecedents as an active builder and business man are such as will commend him to all good citizens of the whole city who desire his re-election as a member of this important branch of the city government.

The new United States mint on Spring Garden street is loudly condemned by the working force engaged in the coinage of money.

The ceilings of the mechanical work rooms are not only too low, but the proper ventilation of these rooms seems to have been entirely ignored. The gases from the annealing furnace are having a terrible effect upon the workmen, several of whom have already been prostrated.

The boilers in the basement will have to be removed, for the heat in the rooms directly over them is almost unbearable, even in cold weather, and unless the removal is made before hot weather it is stated that the men will be compelled to abandon their work.

In the division of the space it is claimed that everything has been sacrificed for offices for the executive force, while the essential needs of the mechanical departments are in bad shape.

It is also stated that serious trouble has already been experienced from the soot and smoke from Baldwin's, and this in time will ruin the rollers, as well as blacken and besmear the whole building, inside and out.

Reflecting Hand Levels.

For practical utility for approximate or preliminary work in the taking of levels for cuts and fills or construction work on buildings, the over-coat pocket reflecting levels of F. Weber & Co., 1125 Chestnut street, this city, is perfection in compact form. The instrument can be attached to a house, a fence, a cane or umbrella, or any old stick for a Jacob's staff. The level bubble, through a nicely adjusted mirror, is reflected upon the crop hairs of sighting and leveling, is instantly accomplished by a single moment.

This instrument is nicely cased, and can be carried suspended by a finger or in a coat pocket.

If you need draughtsmen's supplies, keep in mind the resources of F. Weber & Co.'s establishment.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Kendrick & Roberts, builders, Keith Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new mill for William H. Grundy & Co., to be erected at Bristol, Pa. It will be fireproof throughout. Details of this mill previously noted. It will cost about $30,000. Plans and specifications by Paul and Seymour Davis, architects, 905 Walnut street.

There are seventy-two two and three-story houses to be erected on Sixth and Seventh. Reaney and Morton streets, Chester, Pa. Plans are now posted in office of John L. Galloway. Eleventh street and Washington avenue, Philadelphia. Will contain all the modern and up-to-date improvements.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, builders, 713 Ranstead street, have plans on boards for a three-story Mansard-roofed residence, to be built on the north side of Green lane, west of Ridge avenue, Roxborough, for E. E. McConnell. It will measure 16 feet by 51 feet 2 inches. Plans prepared by Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer.

Z. M. Bowen, builder, of Chester, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new residence of Jonas Trumbauer, at Brook Haven, Pa. It will be frame with stone foundation, and will measure 22 x 40 feet. Plans by Harry Reinhold, architect, 430 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

E. M. Noel and D. C. Thomas, builders, of Baltimore, Md., are the lowest bidders, at $2,448,000, for the construction of the new cadet quarters at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. The other bidders were as follows: John Pierce, New York, $2,784,500; Geo. A. Fuller & Co., $2,739,732 and Doyle & Doak, $2,629,000, of this city.

Central Cornice Works, Chas. H. Blaine, proprietor, 311 North Fifteenth street, have been awarded the following contracts: copper cornice on M. E. Church at Havre de Grace, Md.; galvanized iron cornice on St. John's P. E. Church, at Norristown, Pa.; galvanized iron cornice and metal ceilings on bank at Milton, Del., and copper cornices and skylights on school house at Ardmore, Pa.

H. B. Shoemaker, builder, 113 North Seventh street, has plans posted for a new passenger station for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad to be erected at Summerdale, Pa. It will be a one-story frame station measuring 18 x 32 feet, with a bay window 8 feet 6 inches x 10 feet 6 inches on the corner. It will contain one large waiting room, baggage room. Bids are due December 5th. Plans by the company architects.

It is the intention of the Lackawanna Steel Iron Co. to erect at West Seneca, New York, homes, school houses, churches, etc., for their workmen similar to Homestead, Allegheny county, Pa. They will build about 600 houses, which will be two stories, of brick and frame. Some will measure 16 feet 3 inches x 25 feet, others 16 feet 8 inches x 35 feet. 400 of these houses will be built at once, the other 200 later. It is expected that in all there will be about 2000 buildings erected in this place from time to time. The company have prepared plans of these houses and invited the following builders to bid: Philip Anns & Co., Chas. McCaul Co., Doyle & Doak and Kendrick & Roberts, of this city.

Lewis Havens & Sons, builders, Girard Building, have plans posted for the erection of a bank building for the First National Bank of Seaford, Del. It will be built of Mount Airy granite, the sides of brick, trimmed with granite and Indiana limestone. The interior will be of hardwood finish with grilles front banking fixtures. The floor outside of the same will be paved with mosaic. The cellar will have cement floor. It will have all the latest appointments of a building of this kind, and will measure 15 feet 73 inches x 65 feet 63 inches. Plans and specifications were prepared by Newmann, Woodman & Harris, Real Estate Building, of this city.

Harry Kuemmerle, builder, Betz Building, has plans on the boards for a five-story hotel to be erected at 149-51 South Carolina avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., for Anna McFarland. It is to be known as the Hotel Fayette. It will be built of brick and stone, with an ornamental front. It will measure 40 x 100 feet, and will be fireproof throughout. A new feature of this structure is provision for galvanized iron shutters on all the windows. There will be about 20 rooms to a floor. It will have all the modern improvements of a first-class hotel, such as steam heat, hot and cold sea water baths, lighted by electricity, elevators, etc. Plans and specifications were prepared by Adams & Davis, architects, Atlantic City, N. J. Bids are due about December 13th.

At Long Branch, Monmouth county, A. S. Gottlieb has prepared plans for extensive improvements to the dwelling of Leonard Lewisohn, at West End, Long Branch. The entire dwelling will be remodeled and a new kitchen, laundry, billiard room, sleeping rooms and piazzas added. The architect's address is 156 Fifth avenue, New York city.

—The city surveyor has been asked to make the necessary survey for the establishment of a municipal water plant, and to make a report to the Board of Commissioners at a meeting to be held December 2d.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county the following new bridges were recommended: one across Woodruff Creek, at Elizabeth, to cost $600; an iron beam, brick arch, bridge forty-eight feet wide and twenty feet span across West Brook, Wood avenue, Linden township, to cost $2800; a single span iron bridge across the Elizabeth River at Crane street, Elizabeth, to cost $12,000; an iron beam bridge at Prince street, Elizabeth, to cost $13,500. These recommendations will receive further consideration at the next meeting of the board.

At Madison, Morris county, A. Wallace Brown, 374 Belleville avenue, Newark, has had plans prepared for a handsome dwelling to be erected on High street, Madison, at a cost of about $10,000. The site is 300 x 250 feet. The dwelling will be finely finished, sanitary plumbing, tiling and all modern conveniences. The grounds will be laid out and improved and a stable erected.—The sewerage committee of borough council has been authorized to employ an engineer to prepare plans and specifications and estimates for a sewer system and a disposal plant.

A large amount of building will be done between Sea Bright and Spring Lake recently bought by a syndicate. Henry Morgenthau, president of the Central Realty Bond and Trust Company of New York City, has bought 125 acres of the new property and will erect a handsome summer home from plans prepared by Buchanan & Fox, of New York City. It will be of brick, finely finished throughout and provided with every modern convenience. The cost will be about $100,000. The surveyors are at work on the tract of the company laying out streets and staking out lots.

At Atlantic City, New Jersey, the Hotel Devonshire has been sold to Mr. William Moore, of Philadelphia, by John W. Risley for $23,000. The Auditorium Pier, it is said, has been bought by George E. Teller, of Coney Island, who will make extensive changes and improvements to the structure before next season.—Wm. Margerum, of Philadelphia, has bought the Arno property, Connecticut and Oriental avenues, and will cut it up in building lots.—Wm. Burkard has bought twenty-two building lots in Chelsea from the Commonwealth Real Estate Company for $33,000.

At Lakewood, Ocean county, it is stated that a new hotel will be erected at Lexington avenue and Fifth street by the Hartman Hotel Company, composed of Leopold Hartman, of Far Rockaway, Long Island, and others. The proposed structure will be of frame, and will contain one hundred rooms. It will be finely finished throughout and will be provided with all modern conveniences. It will cost about $75,000.—Mrs. John M. Child will erect a dwelling to cost $6000 from plans prepared by John M. Thomas. Steam heat, gas and electric lighting, hardwood finish and modern conveniences.

At Perth Amboy, Middlesex county, the contract for the new First Presbyterian Church on Market street will be awarded in short time by the architect, A. F. Leicht, 21 State street, New York City. The structure will be of stone, with a seating capacity of about 800. The estimated cost is about $25,000. It will be finely finished, fine church furniture, stained glass windows, steam heat, electric lights, etc. The building committee consists of Henry Petty, J. R. Deitch, Douglas Frazer, John H. Gregory, Charles Snedker, E. S. Thule and F. M. Barnes. Mr. Barnes is chairman of the committee.

At Newark, when the present contract for the disposal of city garbage expires next June it is said a new dual system requiring the cremation of garbage and separate collection of ashes will be demanded. Architect Henry Balchlin, 810 Broad street, is about to award contract for the erection of an apartment house at West and Montgomery streets for William Hesselbacher. It will be four stories high and will cost about $15,000.—M. P. Roche, 164 Market street has made plans for a three-story frame flat to be fitted up to accommodate six families, cost $6500. Also plans for a two-family dwelling to cost $4500. Steam heat and modern conveniences.

At Princeton, Mercer county, the plans for the new gymnasium for Princeton University have been finished and work will begin on the erection of the structure in a short time. The building will be two stories high and will occupy a site between the Stafford Little Hall and the Brokaw Memorial building. The main floor of the gymnasium will be 166 feet long and 101 feet wide. There will be rooms for sparring, wrestling and fencing, a running track of twelve laps to the mile will occupy a part of the second floor. There will also be a large trophy room, 48x68 feet opening out from the main entrance. The whole will be finely finished and equipped and will cost about $200,000.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will spend $20,000,000 in improving its line between Philadelphia and New York. Among the changes involved are the elimination of curves and reducing of grades wherever possible, and the elevation of tracks at every crossing and through the larger towns and cities. The work of elevation is now in progress at Newark, Trenton and New Brunswick, and has been finished at Elizabeth and Jersey City. A new bridge of eighteen spans will be built over the Raritan River, at New Brunswick, and one of twenty-one spans over the Delaware River, at Trenton. In the latter city the elevated tracks will be nearly three miles long. Camden will also be cared for by the elevation of tracks there. A new station will be built at Elizabeth to replace the old east-bound passenger station, and new freight yards will be constructed near the Walnut street base ball grounds. At Bristol, Pa., a new elevated line will be built, for which the right of way has been secured, and a new passenger station will be erected. It will take nearly five years to accomplish all the work now mapped out on this part of the system, and the result will be material lessening in the time between Philadelphia and New York and in the cost of operating.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington it is settled that the resolution granting the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the right to elevate its tracks through the city, will pass the Street and Sewer Department. This will insure the erection of shops and improvements costing $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

Through Maryland.

At Hagerstown the Washington County Water Company has the construction of a new reservoir under consideration.

At Fort Washington bids will be received until December 9 for the construction of a permanent pumping station; 140,000 gallon reservoir and 60,000 gallon steel tank and restle, and connecting same with distributing mains at Fort Washington and Captain Abe S. Bickham, Quartermaster, 419 N. Washington street, Alexandria Virginia.

At Cumberland a joint meeting of the Board of Water Commissioners and the Water Committee from City Council was held a short time since, and it was decided to install a new pump at the water works. J. C. Troutwine, of Philadelphia, Pa., will superintend the work.—A charter has been granted the Cumberland Electric Light & Power Company with a capital of $50,000 to install an electric light plant. Those interested are Charles W. Kilbourn, of New Brunswick, New Jersey; Arthur Leroy Fell, of Washington, D. C.; Arthur L. Bosley, of Baltimore, Maryland, and others.

It will cost $11,500.—Plans have been prepared by Owens & Sisco for a club house for the Maryland Street Company, to be erected at Sparrow's Point, on the river front; the athletic grounds and lawn to extend to the water. It will be one-story high, of frame, 40x55 ft., with porches 12 ft wide extending around the building. There will be a large reception hall, billiard room, library, gymnasium, ladies' parlor, lavatories and all modern conveniences. The kitchen will be well equipped, and the whole will be finely finished and furnished.—Plans have been made for a market house on North avenue, near St. Paul street, to be erected by a private company. It is proposed to build a market house similar to those which are successful in New York and other Northern cities. The cost will be about $100,000. It will be a two-story building about 150x150 feet, with a cold-storage plant. The street frontage of the building is to be divided into store fronts for the use of florists, confectioners and grocers. The interior of the first floor will be devoted to the use of butchers, fruit dealers and other regular market men. In the rear of each stall will be glass front refrigerators, through which cold storage pipes will run. The basement of the market house will be devoted to the cold-storage plant. The second floor will be leased to some business man for the purpose of opening a department store.—Alfred M. Quick, Water Engineer, has laid before the Water Bureau a drawing for a reservoir to be constructed at a cost of $360,000 or $520,000, according to the location. Mr. Quick will also report on the proposed plan to raise Lock Raven dam.

Washington, D. C.

Middaugh & Shannon, who have erected a number of dwellings in the Bloomingdale sub-division, near First street, will continue their work by the erection of other dwellings in the same neighborhood. They have just purchased from Joseph Paul and E. J. Stellwagen the frontage of an entire block on First street, between Albany and Baltimore streets. The dwellings to be erected will be three stories high, well finished throughout, and provided with all modern conveniences. The firm has just started the erection of eight two-story dwellings at the southwest corner of North Capital and T streets, and will also erect eight similar dwellings on the southeast corner of First and S streets.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 50. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Plans will soon be out for repairs to the Pennsylvania car shops at Wilmington, Del. Mr. Richards, of the company, has the work in charge.

George K. Parsell, 363 George street, New Brunswick, N. J., has been selected to prepare plans for the proposed Middlesex County Jail.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, will, on December 11th, move to the Stephen Girard Building, 21 S. Twelfth street, Room No. 1326.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, Bullet Building, architects, are making revised plans of the Essington church. It is to be a one story and basement structure of large dimensions.

George A. Flagg, 471 Newark avenue, Jersey City, has prepared plans for a two one-half story frame dwelling 18x41 feet to be erected on Von Ripen avenue, at Jersey City, at a cost of about $4,000. Bids for its construction will be received in about ten days.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, is working on plans for a two-story residence to be built at Langhorne, Pa. It be frame with stone foundation and shingle roof and will contain all modern improvements. The name of the owner withheld for the present.

C. Howard Lloyd, of Harrisburg has been selected to prepare the plans for the proposed new public school building for the Tenth ward, Harrisburg. It will be of brick and stone, finely finished, provided with all modern conveniences and will contain twenty-four rooms.

Perot & Bisell, architects, 308 Bourse Building, have prepared plans and will take bids on alterations and additions to a country residence known as "Commission No. 214." Plans call for a new addition of brick, structural iron and terra cotta floors and general interior alterations.

Frank Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is making plans for improvements at 1527 Spruce street for Madame Nash. This work will consist of remodelling the interior and the erection of a two-story addition, measuring 39.3 x 15.6 feet, to contain work rooms and accommodations for the employees will be ready for bids soon.

Arnold H. Moses, architect, 136 South Fourth street is preparing plans for alteration of a large house in Marlton, N. J., into two dwellings. This house will have all the modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in about ten days. The same architect has plans in course of preparation for a frame store dwelling to be erected at Pitman Grove, N. J., to be built next spring.

McIlvain & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building are preparing sketches for a country residence for J. Edward Ross, Esq., to be erected at Haverford, Pa. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone and plaster. On the front and side there will be a porch. The interior will be finished in hardwood. It will have open plumbing work, wired and lighted by electricity and will contain all the modern improvements and conveniences. Will take bids shortly.

A bill has just been passed by the Georgia House of Representatives to erect a union station on state property in Atlanta. The bill provides for a commission of nine members headed by the governor, which will receive bids and inspect plans for the erection of such a structure. The commission is also authorized to advertise the project and to ask for plans and estimates in the newspapers of Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore. One-half million dollars of the state money will become available for the project on January 1, 1903.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, Crozer Building, have plant in the course of preparation for a handsome country residence and stable for Mr. Percy Wilson, to be erected at Devon, Pa. The house will be built of stone, and will be two and one-half stories high. It will have a porch on the front, the interior will be finished in hardwood, with all the modern appointments. The stable will also be built of stone, and one-and-a-half stories high. It will contain stalls, harness room, carriage house and loft. Will be ready for bids shortly.

Horace Seeler, architect, Stephen Girard Building, are preparing plans for alterations to cottage for Richard P. White, at Nantucket, R. I. Local builders will be asked to bid. The same architects have sent out plans to builders for estimates on the clergy house to be built at Twentieth and Cherry streets for St. Clements' P. E. Church. It will be built of brownstone and will match church in architecture. It will be three stories high and will measure 30x70 feet. The following builders have been invited to bid: W. J. Grukler, H. M. Kisler, Jacob Myers & Son, George L. Sipps, Hiram G. Peppercorn. Bids due December 17.

The Building Committee of the Palatinate Reformed church have commissioned Messrs. Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 331 Chestnut street, to prepare plans for new church to be built at Fifty-sixth street and Girard avenue. It will measure 86x94 feet. The interior will have auditorium with gallery seating 600 people. There will also be a Sunday school room seating 300 people. On the corner of the church proper will be a large tower. The church will be heated by steam and wired and lit by electricity and will be equipped with the usual church furnishing. It will cost between $25,000 and $30,000. Will be ready for bids about March 1, 1902. Work will be started about April 1st. It will be English Gothic in design.

It is said that ground has been purchased on Germantown avenue above Dauphin street and that plans are in preparation by a local architect for the erection of a hall for the Philadelphia Quartette, a German singing society, of this city. It is to be 60 x 155 feet, and will be four stories in height, and will be of granite, ornamental brick and fire-proof construction. The plans show a handsome exterior. There will be a club house adjoining, with gymnasium, swimming pool, bowling alley and all the appointments of a first-class club house. The music hall will be elaborately constructed, having a large stage and an immense auditorium to accommodate thousands of persons. It is rumor that Herman Schweizer, architect, who prepared the design for the handsome new home of the Columbia Singing Society, is making these plans.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 436 Walnut street, has prepared plans and sent same to builders for estimates for a four-story, brick, fireproof tenement house, to be built at the southeast corner of Manton and Sheridan streets, between Federal and Wharton, Seventh and Franklin streets. The building is divided into one, two and three-room tenements, each provided with bath room, in which is located an iron tub and flush closet; also provided with closets and dressers, gas, etc. Each tenement is reached direct from the street by means of a brick fire tower staircase and tenements are separated from each other by brick curtain walls, making it the most modern and complete building of this kind in the city. The following builders have been invited to bid; bids are due December 14th: George W. Merson, William H. Lower, Joseph Price, Kendrick & Co., R. Monroe Stout, Maguire & Emory and Burd P. Evans.

Wilson Brothers & Co. have completed plans and invited estimates on a fine new building for the Pennsylvania and Reading Railway employees' branch of the Young Men's Christian Association. This structure will be three stories high with a basement and attic. It will be built of brick with bluestone trimmings over an area of 65 x 90 feet at Trenton and Lehigh avenues. The exterior view presents a peaked roof structure with two dormer windows and a double-decked porch, measuring 10x34 feet each. The first floor will contain library, a social room, a ladies' committee room and offices. The second floor will contain thirteen sleeping rooms, two toilets and a bath room. The plan of the third floor provides for a meeting room with a stage and movable scenery. The basement will be utilized in part as a kitchen, the rest to be devoted to shuffleboards, bath room and shower bath. The following builders have been invited to bid, all bids due December 17th: Lewis Havens & Son, W. A. Hurlock & Son, Geo. F. Payne & Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Ryan & Kelley, Stacey Reeves & Sons, Thos. M. Seeds, Jr. and Jno. P. Wiggins.

architects and engineers, Drexel Building. Bids due December 17th.

A petition bearing the name of over 300 business men whose offices or business places are immediately North and East of the Terminal Station, has been prepared for submission to President Baner, of the Reading Company, asking for an entrance and exit to and from the station on the East side of Filbert street. Plans have been prepared showing how such an entrance could be supplied, and these will be submitted with the petition.

The Managers of St. Luke's Homeopathic Hospital, Broad street above Westmoreland, have purchased for $12,000 the lot, 50 x 200 feet, adjoining the hospital on the North and extending West to Carlisle street. Plans are now being prepared for a large building that will be equipped with the latest improvements for hospital purposes. The upper of the two buildings now used as a hospital belongs to the Board of Managers, and will be connected with the new structure. Work upon the new building will be commenced next spring.

H. B. Shoemaker & Co, 113 North Seventh street, have been awarded the contract to build the new club house for the Eighteenth Ward Republican Club at 420 East Girard avenue. It will be three stories high, of brick and will have all the usual appointments of a first-class club house. Plans by Jos. M. Huston, architect. Witherspoon Building. The same builder has also been awarded the contract for awnings for the Reading Terminal at Twelfth and Market streets for the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company.

Ashton S. Tourison, 6805 Germantown avenue, builder, has been awarded the contract for a three story Colonial style players wing and swimming pool building to be built on the Manheim Cricket Club grounds. The players' wing will measure 84 x 30 feet and the pool building 108 x 50 feet. The former will contain 526 lockers for the members on the first, second and third floors, and 16 for visitors on basement. The swimming pool will be so arranged that it may be covered over with a floor and used for cricket in the winter. In addition, the pool building will contain bowling alley and space for cricket. Work will be started at once on this building.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is about to abolish more grade crossings. The sharp double curve at Frankford Junction, so objectionable to engineers, especially of the express trains between New York and Philadelphia, is to be cut out. To do this, a new line will be built, leaving the present road, just east of Frankford station and running straight in a northeasterly direction until it regains the main line in the neighborhood of Margret street. In the execution of this work there will be seventeen bridges over streets running north and south. At an interview with Mr. Brown, chief engineer of the company, he stated that this work would be started in the early spring of next year (1902) and would be pushed along as quickly as possible.

John D. Rockefeller has donated the sum of $250,000 to the Bryn Mawr College, and as soon as $250,000 more has been raised the four new buildings for the college will be built, and the $500,000 would erect three of them—a dormitory, a new library building and a central plant for heating and lighting. The library is most needed, and the proposed building for it would give the college thirty more rooms. The dormitory will be a continuation of Pembroke Hall to the west, to contain a dining room and accommodations for eighty students. The new heating and lighting plant would effect a great saving in operation and greatly decrease the danger from fire. Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have prepared plans for these buildings.

Hiram Miller, builder, Stephen Girard Building, has plans posted for a temporary coal pocket for the United Ice and Coal Company, to be built at Harrisburg, Pa. Bids due December 16th. Also have proposals for the United States Post Office to be erected at Jamestown, New York. It is to be a three-story attic and basement building, measuring 97 feet 4 inches x 50 feet 4 inches. It will be built of granite, limestone and gray brick laid in Flemish bond, iron and steel structure, and will be fireproof throughout. The interior will be handsomely finished. Bids are due January 4, 1902. Heating apparatus, electric wiring and conduits are not included in this proposal. Plans and specifications by J. Know Taylor, architect of the Treasury Department.

It is now a settled fact that the Land Title Building, will have two more stories added to the present building and an annex will be built running clean back to Sanson street, this will take in the Lafayette Hotel, a lot measuring 119 ft 4 in on Broad street and 115 feet 9 in on Sanson street, this annex will be twenty-two stories high. This structure will harmonize with the appearance to the Land Title Building. The demolition of the Hotel Lafayette will not take place until June, so it will be more than a year before this immense office building will be completed, and will cover a total area of 189 feet 4 in by a depth of 115 feet 9 inches on Sanson street and 100 feet on Chestnut street. Geo. Fuller Company have placed a bill in for it. Burham, architect, of Chicago, prepared the plans.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, have posted plans for the new United States Custom House to be built at Baltimore, Md. The plans show a five story, structural steel building with an exterior of granite, very similar to the new mint in this city. It will measure 252.8 x 189.6 feet and will be erected at Lombard and Water streets, Baltimore, Md. Bids due January 7, 1902. Also plans on boards for rotary annex and battery station for the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, to be erected at Fulton street between Essex and Shepard avenues, Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y. It is to be a one story and basement structure and will be built of brick, granite and bluestone trimmings. Bids due Dec. 11th. Also have plans been posted for United States Post Office and Court House to be erected at Jamestown, N. Y. The plans call for a structure three stories and basement high, measuring 97 feet 4 inches x 50 feet 4 inches. Bids due January 4, 1902.

Through Pennsylvania.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, a franchise has been granted the Lebanon Light Company to operate and maintain a gas plant.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery county, Council and Board of Health have under consideration the erection of an emergency hospital.

—At Mount Joy, Lancaster county, the Mount Joy Electric Light and Power Company has been incorporated with a capital of $15,000.

—At Pittsburg, bids will be received until December 27th for improving Lincoln avenue Extension and Wildwood Branch Road. Address W. E. Thompson, county comptroller.

—At Reading, Berks county, Contractor L. H. Focht is taking estimates for the construction of the Colonial Trust Company's new building, for which he has the general contract.

—At Leechburg, Armstrong county, a charter has been granted the Apollo, Leechburg & Vandergrift Street Railway Company to construct a bridge across the Kiskiminetus river at Leechburg.

—At Erie, Erie county, the city engineer has made a report to the Railroad Committee of the estimated cost of construction and damages to surrounding property of a bridge at East Buffalo Road.

—At Allentown, Lehigh county, steps have been taken toward the erection of a new Federal building at Allentown. Congressman Green has introduced a bill to appropriate $150,000 for such a building.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, the Republic Iron and Steel Co. will erect a blast furnace to cost $500,000, with a daily output of 400 tons. The steel mill to cost $2,000,000, as at first proposed, will not be erected.

—At Delano, Sch. county, a charter has been granted the Delano Water Company with a capital of $10,000. Those interested are: Thomas W. Huline, of Mount Holly, N. J.; Wm. Anderson, of Overbrook, Pa. and others.

—At Easton, Northampton county, the viewers, appointed by the court of Northampton county, have reported favorably to the construction of a bridge over the Lehigh river at Glendon. The structure will be about 600 feet long.

—At Doylestown, Bucks county, work will soon begin on the erection of a power house for the Doylestown Traction Co., for which plans were prepared by Engineer W. A. Drysdale. Wm. Steel & Sons, of Philadelphia, are receiving sub-estimates.

—At Easton, Northampton county, the contract for the erection of the Jenks Hall, at Lafayette College, Easton, has been awarded to Frank J. Lorch & Sons, of Easton. The structure will be three stories high, of stone, well finished, all modern improvements. The plans have been prepared by Charles Bolton & Co., of Philadelphia.

—At Chester, Delaware county, it is said that there is a movement on foot to locate a large pipe and tube mill on the T. T. Rocket farm, which comprises about seventy-six acres. The representative of the tube mill called upon Thomas E. Urian to secure information as to the advantages of the location for such a plant.

—At Sellersville, Bucks county, the Sellersville Board of Trade has been assured that the Phila. & Lehigh Valley Traction Co. will erect a large power house at Sellersville, provided the Reading Railroad Company will grant a switch. In case the switch is not granted the company will probably erect the power house at Allentown, Pa.

—At Willowgrove, Montgomery county, David Nolan, the butcher, will erect an attractive dwelling on the Doylestown pike. It will be well finished, provided with modern improvements and will cost about $4000. The contract has been let to the Harry Kates Company and work will begin at once on the erection of the structure.

—At Dravosburg, Allegheny county, a charter has been granted the West Elizabeth and Dravosburg Bridge Company to construct a bridge across the Monongahela River, from Port Vue to Jefferson township. Those interested are J. A. and W. T. Pierce, of McKeesport, Pa.; Charles H. Kline, R. H. Jackson and E. J. Askey, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

—At Berwick, Columbia county, the Berwick Borough Council has granted the Columbia & Montour Electric Railway Company the right of way through the streets of the borough, allowing the company to use the T. rail. The electric company will macadamize a part of the road used by it. Work will be started at once and the line will eventually be extended to Nesquehock.

—At Altoona, Blair county, at a recent meeting of the Citizens' Bridge Committee, appointed to secure plans and estimates for the construction of a bridge or subway at Eleventh street, report was made adverse to the subway on account of the cost, which was $245,000, exclusive of the cost of sewerage and street car tracks. The estimate for the bridge was $108,000, if paved with brick or flagstone and $82,000, if paved with wood. The construction of the bridge will be urged by the committee.

—At Ridley Park, Delaware county, a meeting was held in Ridley Town Hall last week to discuss ways and means for establishing a hospital for contagious diseases. Nearly every Board of Trade and School Board in Each will be two stories and attic and will contain ten rooms, finely finished bath room, furnace heat.

—Edgar V. Lieber, the architect of the Arlington Company, has prepared plans for a number of cottages which the company will erect. This suburb of Baltimore will be finely improved. The car line will run through the centre of the property, and at each end two beautiful entrances will be made of stone and iron. The park will be terraced and improved and will be the centre from which will radiate a series of building lots. Other parks will be laid out and a fine boulevard 100 feet wide will be constructed.—A large clubhouse will be erected on the former Bull estate.—The Baltimore labor unions have under consideration the erection of a building to cost about $100,000. A fund is being raised for the purpose.—J. E. Sperry has made plans for a handsome dwelling, to be erected at Green Spring Valley, for Mr. J. R. Parr.—Charles W. Hurst will erect thirty-two-story dwellings next spring on East Chase street.—Douglass H. Thomas has made plans for a dwelling, to be erected at Cotonsville, Md, for H. P. James.—It is said that the plans of J. H. Parker, 1 Somerset street, Boston, Mass., and Douglas H. Thos. Jr., Atlantic Trust Building, Baltimore, have been selected for the new white marble structure, to be erected at Charles and Baltimore streets, for the International Trust Company.—Robert Garrett & Sons, bankers, have under consideration the erection of an eight-story office building at 9 and 11 South street.—Mr. King, president of the Security, Storage and Trust Company, is said to be interested in the erection of a two-story market house, near North avenue and St Paul street, to cost about $100,000.

Washington, D. C.

Senator Lodge has introduced a bill providing for the erection of an annex to the White House to cost $1,000,000.—President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, accompanied by Chief Engineer Brown and other officials, had a conference at Washington, D. C., with Mr. Burnham, chairman of the Washington Park Commission, and Senator McKim, chairman of the Senator District Committee, in regard to the site for a new union railway station for the capital. It appears that the forthcoming bill to revise the legislation to accord with the Union Station project will name the Massachusetts avenue site, and it may be assumed that matters are now advancing toward that solution of the long standing problem.—The estimates for maintenance of navy yards and stations and improvements aggregate $21,526,359. Estimates for the various navy yards are as follows: Portsmouth, N. H., $1,947,575 (including $500,000; for a new floating dry dock); Boston, $1,570,000; naval coal depot, Rhode Island, $200,000; naval station, New London, $51,000; New York $3,475,000; League Island, $741,300; Washington, $622,000; Norfolk, $1,511,000; Charleston, $1,050,000; Key West, $38,000; Pensacola, $985,800; Algiers, La., $359,000; Mare Island, $885,700; Puget Sound, $1,169,500; San Juan, $2,618,000; Tutuila, $108,000; Cavite, $381,000;

King will erect five dwellings on Sheridan street, Mount Pleasant. They will be two stories high and will be finely finished throughout. The Y. M. C. A. building on G street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets will probably be enlarged owing to the large increase in the membership of the association.—The excavation for the proposed new building on the grounds of the American University, to be known as the Ohio building has been begun. Such progress has been made that it would be possible now to lay the corner stone, but owing to the location of the site away from the city, and the condition of the roads as they are apt to be at this time of the year, it was concluded to defer the formal ceremonies until spring. This new structure, which is really a memorial to the late President McKinley, will be larger than the white marble building first erected on these grounds. There is to be a central portico of the classic order and on each side will be wings. After the Ohio building will come the Pennsylvania building, which will contribute to what will really be a no le group of academic edifices. The fine architecture of the individual structures, as well as the harmony of the groupings, will be in keeping with the fine natural surroundings.—The Washington Terminal Company, with a capital stock of $5,000,000, of which $50,000 has been paid in has filed articles of incorporation with the Recorder of Deeds. All of the $500,000 of stock certificates so far issued are declared to be held by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The incorporators, besides Washington representatives of the company, include G. L. Potter and J. M. Graham, of Baltimore. The incorporation is under an act to eliminate grade crossings in the District and to require construction of new terminals and tracks for the Baltimore & Ohio road. It is said that competition plans will be received by the Commissioners until February 8th for a municipal hospital to be erected on Thirtieth street and Arkansas avenue. The estimated cost is several million dollars.

Plans have also been filed for a nine-story apartment house to occupy the block bounded by Brooklyn and West End avenue and Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets. The owner is William Waldorf Astor. The cost will be about $2,500,000. Work will not begin on the structure until next year, at which time the twenty-one year lease will expire. A feature will be an underground connection with the Seventy-ninth Street Station of the underground road from a central court.—The importance of the Herald Square section of the city, which has been growing so rapidly of late will be greatly increased by the decision of the Long Island Railroad to locate its Manhattan station in West Thirty-third street, close to Broadway. It has bought two lots there having a frontage of 44 feet, and will erect a building of which it will have use only for the ground floor, from which elevators will connect with the trains below. This will be the station of the tunnel which the railroad intends to build from its terminals in Long Island City under the East river to Manhattan, and later perhaps to Jersey City. The Rapid Transit Commission is expected very soon to give permission to construct this tunnel.—Plans have been drawn and are now under consideration for the rapid transit tunnel to pass under the Grand Central Station and unite with the tracks of the New York Central and the New Haven roads at Fifty-sixth street. It is not known whether they will be approved or not.

VOL. XVI.—No. 51. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

At Cleveland, O., Architects Searies & Hirsh, 808 Electric Building, have plans for a five-story brick and stone hotel, to be erected on Erie, near Chestnut street, for the Baldwin Improvement Company; cost, $35,000.

W. D. Hill, Pottsville, Pa., has prepared plans for a new tower and spire for St. Boniface Roman Catholic church at St. Clair, Pa., of which Rev. C. Saur is the pastor. Slate roofing, galvanized iron cornices and electric lights will be required. Bids will be received until December 21.

Philadelphia Art Club, at Broad and Chancellor streets, has invited competitive drawings for an enlargement of its buildings. The most likely proposition so far is the addition of three more stories. This would give ample sleeping and dining room apartments besides a spacious art gallery.

Emil Hartman, architect, 514 Walnut street, is preparing plans and will ask for estimates on Thursday of this week for a stable for Geo. Esslinger & Son, brewers, at Tenth and Willow streets. It will be two stories and will be built of brick and will measure 32 x 53.11 feet.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 480 Walnut street, will be ready for bids on revised plans for new court house to be erected at Norristown, Pa., shortly after the first of the new year. It will be two stories and basement, will be built of granite and will cost about $400,000.

At Hancock, N. Y., Architect H. M. Hubbard, 82 Arcade, Utica, N. Y., has preliminary plans for a Baptist Church, 70x90 feet, for Hancock. Brick and stone exterior, slate roof, stained glass, frescoing, hardwood finish, hardwood pews, furnace and pipe organ; cost, exclusive of organ, $12,000.

C. E. Rahn, architect, 410 Walnut street, is preparing plans and will be ready for estimating the early part of next week for alterations and additions to building at 1416 Washington avenue. The addition will consist of adding one more story to the present building and strengthening the same for manufacturing purposes.

William H. Brown, Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will soon ask for estimates for a power house to be erected on Federal street, Camden, N. J., for the West Jersey Railroad Company. It will be two stories, will be built of brick and will measure 88 x 130 feet. Plans by the company engineers.

R. C. Loos, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a new church to be built at Damariscott, Me., for the Methodist Episcopal church of that place. It is to be built of stone and will be Gothic in design. It will measure 60 x 80 feet. The Rev. F. Palladino, the pastor, is chairman of the building committee.

Armour & Co., of Chicago, are having plans prepared for a three-story brick and stone storage building, to be erected at Youngstown; cost, $20,000.

At Milwaukee, Wis., Architect Russell, Hathaway Block, is completing plans for a three-story brick main building for the Milwaukee Infants' Home Association, to be built the coming spring; cost, $15,600.

At Schenectady, N. Y., Rev. C. Schauer, pastor German Evangelical Friends' Church, 438 Franklin street, has plans for a church. Brick, stone and ornamental iron work, slate roof, electric light, steam heat and bell tower with chimneys. There will be two stories, lower to contain Sunday school and society rooms, upper to be auditorium with seats in tiers.

At Payne, Ohio, Architect William P. Gunther, Akron Ohio, has plans for a Catholic Church, 44x100 feet, for St. John the Baptist congregation, Payne. Stone, slate roof, pews, stained glass, hardwood finish and floors, frescoing, hard plaster, plastic ornaments, marble altar, combination light fixtures and water closet outfit; cost, $15,000. Plans will be ready January 1.

Duhring, Okie & Zelgler, architect, Crozier Building, have prepared revised bids and will probably award the contract this week for a new residence for J. W. Sharp, Esq., to be built at Berwyn, Pa. It will be three stories and will be built of stone. It will be 46.8 x 32.4 feet with an extension of 18.4 x 22.4 feet. Wm. R. Dougherty, R. C. Ballinger & Co., of this city and W. H. Burns, of Berwyn, Pa., have placed revised bids.

Architect Cass Gilbert, 111 Fifth avenue, New York, is preparing plans for the new court house to be erected at Newark, N. J., which is to cost about $1,000,000. It will be 160 x 180 feet, four stories and basement. It will be fireproof and of marble or granite. It is said that the building will equal 1,600,000 cubic feet and its cost is limited to 60 cents per cubic foot. It is expected that bids will be asked for about 15th of March next.

John M. Beall, Monessen, Pa., has prepared plans for a dwelling for Mrs. W. S. McDonaid. It will contain twelve rooms. Also plans for a dwelling for Mrs. Homan to contain seven rooms. Also plans for a dwelling to be erected for Dr. Howard Day. It will be well finished, provided with modern conveniences and will cost about $6,000. Also plans for a dwelling to be erected for Mr. H. N. Odbert. Also plans for a dwelling for Samuel Kent.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a four-story building measuring 20 x 63 feet, to be erected at the northeast corner of Ninth and Filbert streets for Frank Hardart, of the firm of Horn & Hardart. It will be built of Roman sized gray brick, trimmed with granite. The first and second floors will be fitted up for cafe and restaurant; the other two floors will be arranged for business purposes. Plans will be sent out at once. Bids are due about December 26th. The following builders have been invited to bid: Cramp & Co., Thos. McCarthy, Chas. A. Auchter, H. B. Shoemaker & Co. and J. H. Jordeu.

Arnold H. Moses, 136 South Fourth street, architect, is working on plans for an addition to the Samaritan Hospital at Broad and Ontario street, this city. The plans show buildings to be constructed of brick with limestone trimmings in the Georgian style of architecture. The structure to be erected are a two-story wing, measuring 50 x 30 feet, to contain lecture room, clinic hall and administration offices and a large wing to be three stories, with basement, measuring 85 x 42 feet, to contain private patients' rooms with bath attached. Laundry and steam heating plant in the basement. A similar building for private patients, a new ward building, a maternity building and the alteration of the present hospital into wards are among the possibilities of the near future. Mr. A. H. Moses will be ready to take bids on the work around the first of the new year.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 480 Walnut street, is working on plans for a handsome apartment house to be known as the Majestic. It is to be built in the central portion of the city, the exact location and owner's name withheld for the present. It will be built of granite with a facing of red pressed brick and terra cotta. It will measure 70 x 125 feet and will accommodate on each floor twenty-two rooms and seven bath rooms arranged in suites of two, three and four rooms. On the first floor will be an exchange, fashioned in onyx; a parlor, trimmed in white and gold and dining room, finished in Flemish oak, the treads and risers to be marble and the stairs of bronze. There will be a roof garden on top. This apartment house will be provided with all modern fittings, such as elevators, steam heating, wiring and lit by electricity. Will furnish more details later.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, is working on plans for extensive improvements to the department store of N. Snellenburg & Co. at Twelfth and Market streets. The improvements will consist of building new arcade to connect with Hood, Foulkrod & Co.'s building, recently purchased by them. This building will be six stories and will have a very handsome main entrance leading into both buildings. It will be built of terra cotta up to the second floor and from there to the roof of brick. On the top of this building will be a tower, which will be built of galvanized iron. The structure will be fireproof and will have every appointment of a first-class department store. It will be 176 feet high and will measure 33 x 180 feet. The old Hood & Foulkrod building will also be refitted to suit the needs of a department store. New elevators, etc., will be placed in it. Mr. Plack will be ready to receive bids about January 15, 1902.

Philadelphia Record Almanac for 1902.

The Philadelphia Record has sent us several copies of its almanac for 1902. The man or woman who would want more than the Record gives away in time, labor, brains and money, in its almanac for 1902, would be apt to kick if he had a cold blooded monopoly on air and water and was getting his own price for these essentials from every human being who used them.

To tell what the Record's almanac contains would require an entire issue of this journal. What it does not contain that ought to be in an almanac would require someone better posted than we are. It's a perfect encyclopedia of facts and things that people want to know, and the only suggestion that we can offer in the way of improvement is for the Record Company to hasten to each copy it issues a revised edition of Webster's big dictionary and pay the freight.

Architect Notes.

At Akron, O., the county commissioners awarded the contract for building the new jail to George W. Carmichael & Co., of this city. The bid was $47,920.60.

Frame, stained and leaded glass, tile, mosaic and marble work, nickel-plated plumbing, cabinet mantels, plaster ornaments, electric wiring and steam heat, $24,000. Also plans for a residence, at Edgemere, for Mrs. Silverman. Frame, stained and leaded glass, wood mantels and grilles, tile and marble work, electric wiring and furnace, $4,500. A. Jansen & Co., Richmond Hill, L. I., have the general contract for both operations and want bids on all material.

At New York, by the sale of the unimproved real estate at the corner of Fifth avenue and Sixtieth street, the building up of the Plaza will be completed, as the sale of the property means another large building.

—Joseph McGuire, 45 East Forty-second street, has prepared plans for a church, to be erected at One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street and Amsterdam avenue, for the congregation of the St. Rose of Lima Roman Catholic Society. It will be of brick and stone, slate roof, leaded and art glass, marble tile work, steam heat, oak furniture, electric work and all modern conveniences. —C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, has drawn plans for a five-story basement dwelling, to be erected at 9 East Fifty-seventh street, for Mr. Fritz Achels. —Robert D. Tape, 4140 Third avenue, will erect three three-story brick and stone dwellings on Bathgate avenue, to cost about $12,000 each. Stuart Duncan has bought ground on the north side of Seventy-fifth street, east of Fifth avenue, and will erect a five-story dwelling. Clinton & Russell, 82 Nassau street, are preparing plans for a twelve-story office building, to be erected at the southeast corner of Wall and Pearl streets, for the Tontine Company, 41 and 43 Wall street. The George A. Fuller Company, 135 Broadway, will be the general contractors.

—G. F. Pelham, 503 Fifth avenue, has prepared plans for a six-story brick and stone apartment house, to be erected on Ninety-fourth street, near West End avenue, to cost $65,000. The contract has been awarded to Jacob Avelrod, 126 West Ninety-first street.

—A. J. Cassatt, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has made public the plans of the company for the erection of a large terminal station in New York City. To this end the Long Island extension railroad company will withdraw its application for powers to construct its terminal railroad, and in lieu of such independent construction it is now proposed to build, under the charter of the Pennsylvania-New York extension railroad company just organized and a New Jersey railroad company about to be organized, a through underground connection between Long Island railroad and the Pennsylvania lines in New Jersey, and to construct a proper and commodious joint underground terminal station in New York City for the Pennsylvania and Long Island roads.

—Gilbert & F. S. Robinson, 39 Hancock Place, are receiving estimates for all the work for the nine-story fireproof hotel to be erected for Robert Blake Building and Realty Co., 13 East Sixteenth street. The estimated cost is about $225,000. —The Department of Education will receive bids until December 23d for installing heating and ventilating apparatus at new public school No 132 on the East side of Manhattan avenue, between Metropolitan and Conesleya street, Brooklyn. —C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, has awarded the general contract for the erection of the five-story dwelling for Francis G. Lloyd to George Vassar's Son & Co. —The Fine Arts Federation, which is an organization of eleven art societies, has adopted resolutions looking to the erection of a permanent building in New York, where exhibitions of contemporaneous art may be held, and where better facilities may be offered to the various societies composing the Federation. The building is to cost $500,000, exclusive of site, is to be monumental in character, and is to be devoted entirely to art purposes.

At Augusta, Ga., it is said that a union depot will be erected, at a cost of about $150,000, from plans prepared by Frank P. Milburn, Columbia, S. C.

At Chicago, Ill., Henry L. Newhouse, 4080 Prairie avenue, has made plans for a three-story brick and stone building, to be erected at 4822 Grand Boulevard. It will cost $30,000.

At Milwaukee, Wis., competitive plans and outline specifications will be received until January 31, 1902 by the Board of Public Works for a school building, to be erected at Fourteenth and Galena streets. Chas. J. Poetsch, Commissioner of Public Works.

At Richmond, Va., a handsome dwelling will be erected by E. O. Meyer, of Richmond. It will be located in Albemarle county, near Richmond and will be finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences. The plans have been prepared by D. Niley Anderson, 914 East Main street, Richmond.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVI.—No. 52. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1901. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Peter Kuhn, architect, 2928 North Eighth street, is working on plans for a six-story fireproof storage building, to be erected on North Broad street.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are preparing plans for a four story and basement warehouse, measuring 198x50 feet, to be built at Cincinnati, Ohio. Will be ready for bids the latter part of this week.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 480 Walnut street, will take revised bids on the tenement house to be erected at Manton and Sheridan streets, this city. Mr. Schermerhorn stated that these revised bids would not be taken before the early spring of 1902.

C. E. Schermerhorn & W. R. Phillips, associate architects, 480 Walnut street, are working on preliminary sketches for a handsome colonial residence, to be built at Ambler, Pa., for William Acuff. It will be built of stone and will be two and one half stories high and will measure 28x50 feet. The interior finish will be in chestnut, and will contain all the latest modern improvements.

It is rumored that John T. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, is engaged in preparing plans for a new bath house, to be erected at 718 Wood street, for the new Public Baths Association. The house will have two entrances, one for men and the other for women. There will be no swimming pool or bath tubs in the building. The form of baths to be used is the ring shower in the men's department and the rose shower in the women's. The building proper will be built of brick.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth st., is working on plans for a fine new church for the congregation of the First Baptist Church, to be built at the corner of Sixth and Chew streets, Allentown, Pa. It will measure 80 by 97 feet 6 inches. The church will be built of stone. The interior plans show all the modern church conveniences, steam heat, electric lighting and choir gallery at the side of the pulpit. There is also to be built at the same time a Sunday school building and parsonage for the same congregation. Will be ready for bids shortly after the first of the year.

F. T. Mercer, architect, 717 Walnut street, has finished plans and will send same out for estimates this week on a three-story building for Belswanger Brothers, pork packers, to be erected at Forty-sixth street and the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad tracks. The building will be built of brick and will measure 70x300 feet. There is also a two-story building to be built, measuring 75x40 feet, also to be built of brick. Floors of both of these structures will be asphalt or cement. The woodwork on the interior will be white pine. Owners will take bids. Plans can be seen at their office, Forty-first street and Lancaster avenue.

As we noted in our last week's issue in regard to an apartment house to be built on the site of late Joseph Slingerly residence, at the northeast corner of Broad and Jefferson streets, Messrs. Milligan & Webster, architects, 521 Walnut street, are now engaged in preparing plans. It will have a frontage of 100 feet on Broad street and a depth of 200 feet on Jefferson street. It will be seven stories in height and will be built of light colored brick and Indiana limestone, and will be built in the French Renaissance style. The interior apartments consisting of 800 rooms and eighty private bath rooms, are to be arranged in suites of two, three and four rooms. The finish of the first floor will be in mahogany. It will be fireproof, heated with steam and lit by electricity, and will have every convenience of a first class apartment house. Mr. H. J. Seibel represents a syndicate who will erect this building.

It was decided at a meeting of the general committee of the McKimley Memorial Association in Mayor Ashbridge's office the other day that all designs for the memorial to the late President that they shall be anonymous. The Committee of Design reports a draft of stipulations concerning the competition for the memorial and the draft was referred back to have the above clause inserted. A motion to have the Fairmount Park Art Association and Directors of the Academy of Fine Arts appoint a committee of five members to be selected from those bodies for the inspection of the designs submitted. The next meeting of the general committee will be held December 25, when the stipulation governing the competition for designing the memorial will be made public. The jury selected by the art associations will choose five of the designs submitted in the competition and from this number make the final selection. Their findings are subject to the approval of the general committee. A prize of $500 cash will be awarded to the five successful competitors. Fifty thousand dollars is the amount so far available for the erection of the monument.

Willis G. Hale, architect, Weightman Building, has been commissioned by Mr. Solomon Greenburg, owner of property recently purchased by him at 1202-1204 North Broad street, formerly occupied by George D. Widener, to convert this residence into an apartment house. The present brownstone building, which covers a portion of the lot, which has a frontage of 62 feet on Broad street and a depth of 160 feet to Carlisle street, is to be retained and four stories added, in addition to a seven story rear building to cover the balance of the lot. The basement will be used for servants' quarters and store room, and the upper six floors will be divided into two and three-room suites, each with a separate bath. The kitchen and dining room will be located on the seventh floor. All modern improvements, including electric elevators, hardwood interiors, open work plumbing, tile and mosaic work, will be provided. The cost of this apartment house will be between $150,000 and $200,000. Mr. Hale stated to our representative that he could not tell the exact time the plans would be ready for bids, but they would be gotten ready as quickly as possible.

William F. Koelle & Co., architects, Heed Building, have won the competitive plans for erection of the new building for the Philadelphia Quartette Club, to be built on Germantown avenue, above Lehigh avenue. It will be built of Pompeian brick, terra cotta and stone, and will be steel and iron construction. It will measure 165x60 feet. In the basement will be four bowling alleys, shuffle board, billiard room, kitchen, barroom and rathskeller, heating apparatus and stock cellar. The first floor will contain two stores, which will measure 20x50 feet. On the side of the store is the main entrance and also entrance to the lodge room above. In the rear, or back of the stores, is a large banquet and ball room, barroom, office, ladies' parlor, etc. On the second floor front are lodge rooms. On the third floor front are lodge, barroom, ladies' wardrobe and toilet room. On this floor will be a large auditorium measuring 55x110 feet, surrounded with a gallery. This auditorium will be arranged with a stage to accommodate about 100 singers, with ladies' and gentlemen's dressing rooms on each side. This stage will be arranged with a curtain and all the necessary stage appointments. The fourth floor will be committee rooms and janitors' quarters. The building will be fireproof and will be equipped with fire escapes. It will be heated by steam with best ventilating system, lit by electricity. Back of this building, toward Hutchinson street, there will be a magnificent summer garden. Will be ready for bids shortly after the first of the year. Also the same firm are working on plans for new rackering room and stock house and for the remodeling of the brewery of Philipp Hildebrand, at Sixth street and Erie avenue, this city. Will be ready for bids about December 27.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

William R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has plans posted for the erection of a power house at Woodbine, Cape May county, N. J., for the Woodbine Land and Improvement Company of that place. It will be a one-story brick structure with peaked roof, having a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 681 feet.

Contractor William Dougherty, of 1604 Sansom street, visited St. Joseph's Rectory, the scene of the recent fire at Norristown and after making an inspection of the buildings announced that the loss would amount to $12,000. It is expected that as soon as the insurance on these buildings are settled the buildings will be rebuilt.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 25, 1901

OUR predictions made some time ago that Petty's Island, in the Delaware, had been purchased from its several owners for the sole purpose of selling it to the city for a municipal hospital site, at a greatly increased price, seems about to be realized. The price now asked for Petty's Island is $1,200,000, and it is stated that the programme is for Councils to appropriate the purchase money next year. There is a cool million profit in the transaction and it would be interesting to know how it is to be divided.

From Phila. Times, Dec. 22d.

The President's Danger.

Nothing else could have been expected of Secretary Long than that he should promptly approve the outrageous finding of the two rear admirals in the Schley case and dismiss the court. The dismissal of the court is proper enough, since it had survived its usefulness. The approval of its judgment would have been impossible to any secretary who had regard for the law and justice and the honor of the navy.

The court however, had done what Secretary Long intended it to do. As it paid no regard to the testimony, it might as easily have formulated its verdict in advance, or taken it ready made from the department. The conspiracy against Admiral Schley is now complete. The belated dismissal of Maclay is no mitigation of the wrong. Mr. Long has done all the injury it was in his power to do, and he should be allowed to retire from the Cabinet without more delay.

But where does this leave Mr. Roosevelt? Is he going to make this act of tyranny and spite his own? The attempt to discipline General Miles for expressing an honest soldier's sympathy with a brave officer unjustly persecuted, puts the whole administration in a most unfavorable light. General Miles had said that he was willing to accept Admiral Dewey's judgment of Schley's conduct and for this he is officially rebuked. If this is an offense, why is not Dewey himself subjected to discipline?

The administration will have a busy time if it undertakes to put the gag-law upon all who side with Dewey against Long, or to suppress any further discussion of the naval infamy. A gallant hero, a victorious commander has been cruelly and shamefully wronged, and the whole country resents the injury and will not rest quiet until the wrong has been in some way righted. Mr. Roosevelt has not been long enough in office to subordinate his instincts as a brave and honest gentleman to the supposed requirements of political expediency, and he will find that expediency will not condone a crime against the patriotic sense of the American people.

Building and Real Estate Notes

Bids for interior finishing of the new seven story building at 1222-28 Cherry street for Potts & Co., were sent into Architect Louis Hickman, Brown Bros.' Building on Saturday, December 21.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., builder, Fidelity Building, have plans posted on the twenty-two story extension to the Land Title Building and the two-story addition to the same building. Plans by D. H. Burham & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Jacob Myers & Sons, builders, Juniper and Sansom streets, have been awarded the contract for alterations and additions for Mme. Nash, at 1527 Spruce street. Plans and specifications by Frank Watson, architect, 1205 Chestnut street.

The following is the list of builders that are bidding on the new two-story brick stable for George Esslinger & Son, at Tenth and Willow streets. Plans by Emil Hartman, 514 Walnut street; A. Raymond Raff, Harry Kuehmerle, Geo. Lentz and Frank Wintz. Bids due December 27th.

Solomon Greenberg, 907 W Walnut street, is having plans prepared for another building operation of sixty residences to be built in the vicinity of Stenton avenue and Sullivan streets, Germantown. The houses will be two stories high and will be built of Pompeian brick. They will have porch fronts. This operation will cost about $150,000. Work will be started the first of the new year.

Doyle & Doak, builder, 1509 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to build a five-story office and store building for Anthony M. Zane at an estimated cost of $125,000. The building will be modern in design and construction. This structure is to be erected at 1207 and 1209 Chestnut street, adjoining the new Commonwealth Building. The work of demolishing the old buildings will be started at once.

The Hazelton property, 1414-16-18 Chestnut street, 54x230 feet, has been purchased by William T. Elliott, Esq., of the law firm of Townsend, Elliott & Townsend, this city, for $25,000. The site contains the wreck of the old Hazeltine Art Gallery, which was burned on February, 1895. There are 12,420 square feet of land in the plot and the price is at the

At the office of Director of Public Works proposals were opened for the construction of the new filtration plant at Torresdale. The Torresdale filtration plant, when completed, must be capable of furnishing 100,000,000 gallons of purified water every twenty-four hours, and will be the largest plant of its kind in the world. The proposals were as follows: Daniel J. McNichol, for filtration beds, $3,784,000; for basin or reservoir, $1,146,000. The bid proposed to complete the work in 1780 working days from date of the award. Ryan & Kelly, for filtration beds, $3,789,000; for basin or reservoir, $1,189,865. Three years is required to complete the work.

The bidding on the new reservoir at Oak Lane was as follows: Daniel J. McNichol, $1,254,000; to be completed in 325 working days. Ryan & Kelly, $1,289,000; time for completion, eighteen months. R. A. Malone & Co., $530,000; time for completion, fifteen months. All of the bids were scheduled. They will not be awarded until some time after the first of the new year.

It is highly probable that councils will accept the recommendations of its finance committee and pass the appropriations at its next meeting as recommended. The items recommended are as follows: $1,250,000 to the bureau of charities to be used for the purchase of a site and the erection of buildings for almshouses, hospitals for the insane, as well as a hospital for contagious diseases. The bureau of police, $100,000 to pay the guards and grocery bills, etc., incurred through the quarantine of houses with small pox cases, $10,000 for resurfacing streets with asphalt, this is a reduction of $290,000, but $140,000 has been added to item No. 3, and the word "resurfacing" interpolated which makes the item for repairs to paved streets $315,000, instead of $175,000. For deepening the Delaware 700,000 was killed, $100,000 for a Cohocksink relief sewer and $200,000 for new main sewers, $300,000 for pumping station for the new fire water mains was cut out. An item of $400,000 for wages for the bureau of water was also cut out. The bureau of charities also gets $80,000 for the erection of pavilion for consumptive patients, but the $50,000, for a medical pavilion was cut. $20,000 is the provision for the electrical bureau for new conduits. The bureau of highway is to get $100,000 for maintaining unpaved streets and $100,000 for grading in addition to the $40,000 for surfacing and resurfacing unpaved streets and roads, $600,000 for repaving streets not occupied by street railways in addition to the $50,000 for repairs to asphalt and patent pavements on streets. Street cleaning item is increased $170,000 and the removal of garbage is increased $47,000. The bureau of surveys is to get an additional surveyor. The total schedule amounts to $15,675,945.88 the whole of the funds available. An increase to the wages of the firemen aggregating $100,000 is to be considered after January 1.

There is no doubt that the people have been convinced that Krause's Patent Pavements, Cement and Asphalt Floors are superior to all others. Years of experience has justly merited and received the confidence and patronage of a large share of the building trades of this city and vicinity. Its strictly reliable methods of doing business has gained for it extended popularity, as well as a liking among its customers to trade there. Among the large contracts made this year are the following:—Theo. Finkenauer's brewery, Fifth and Columbia avenue, cement and asphalt floors, constructing concrete arching and foundations for stock-house and stable. Sisters of St. Francis' Convent, at Glen Riddle, 15,000 feet of concrete arching and flooring. J. R. Kern & Co., Hancock and Allegheny avenue, 8,000 square feet of Belgium block paving. James Bromley, factory, Frankford, 15,000 square feet of cement flooring. Keystone Leather Co., Camden, N. J., 14,000 feet of cement flooring and concrete foundations. J. S. Cornell & Son, for 27,000 square feet of cement flooring at The James Dunlap Carpet Co.'s mill, Fifty-sixth and Lancaster ave. Mechling Bros. Mfg. Co., Camden, N. J., 15,000 square feet of cement flooring. Burk Bros., moreoco factory, constructing reservoir which requires 600 tons of material. Saml. B. MacDowell, for 15,000 square feet of asphalt block paving, 2,000 square feet of Belgium block paving at Moore & White Co. foundry at Fifteenth and Lehigh avenue, and 7,000 square feet of cement flooring at The Peters' Oil Cloth Works, Second and Erie avenue, St. Vincent's Orphans Asylum, Tacony, Phila., cement and asphalt flooring, cement pavements, vitrified brick paving, 10,000 square feet. Acme Tea Co., 3,500 square feet of cement flooring. Thomas Kelly, for 8,800 square feet of cement pavements, at St. Bonifacius' School. Mr. William Krause formerly conducted the Cement and Asphalt Paving business at 1623 N. Fifth street, which was dissolved by mutual consent July 27, 1899, and now has his office at 1640 N. Marshall street. Direct all communications to 1640 N. Marshall street.
